QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Veterans with personal problems or questions should consult Leo L. Haley, Contact Representative, Room 210-211 Post Office Building or Box 875, Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Q: My husband, a World War II veteran, died recently. As long as he lived he never had any kind of disability. Would I be entitled to a VA death pension, since my yearly income is less than $1,400?

A: No. The law requires that a World War II veteran must have been entitled to disability compensation, pension or retirement pay at the time of his death. Or, if he served 90 days or more, he must have had a definitely ascertainable service - connected disability when he died.

Q: I am now on active duty, and I am covered by a free $10,000 indeminity. If anything happens to me, would it be possible for my family to collect the $10,000 in a lump sum?

A: It would not be possible for your beneficiaries to receive a lump sum payment. Under the law, payments are to be made in 120 equal monthly installments of $9.29 per $1,000 of indeminity.

Q: I've been in service since 1941, and I expect to be discharged in the near future. Would I be allowed to train under the World War II GI Bill, even though the cut-off date passed in 1951?

A: Yes. The July 25, 1951, cut-off date applied only to veterans discharged before July 25, 1947. You would be permitted to start training under the World War II GI Bill, but you should keep in mind that the program ends for nearly all veterans on July 25, 1956.

Q: I am planning to take an on-the-job training course under the Korean GI Bill. I understand the law contains a $310-a-month ceiling for job trainees. Does that mean my employers may not pay me more than $310 a month?

A: There is no limit to the amount of money your employer may pay you, while you are taking job training under the Korean GI Bill. However, if your training wages plus your GI allowance exceed $310 a month, VA must scale down the GI allowance accordingly, under the law.

Prowlers End Season with Smashing 60-6 Win over Crookston

Sparked by the three-touchdown performance of left halfback Bob Helgeland, who scored on runs 37 yards, 44 yards, and 39 yards, Coach Ralph Sjod's Prowler's closed out their 1953 football schedule by larruping the Crookston Pirates, 60 to 6, in a district game played here on Friday night.

By their triumph, which was the seventh in the eight games played, the blue-and-gold marked up a valid claim to the district and regional football titles. The lone defeat that the locals absorbed this season was at the hands of the powerful Detroit Lakes Lakers, the Prowlers losing a 44 to 6 decision.

In district competition, the Prowlers defeated Red Lake Falls, East Grand Forks, Warren, and Crookston; and in regional play the locals defeated Roseau, Ada, and Bemidji.

The Prowlers scored the first time that they gained possession of the ball on Friday night. A short Crookston kick, out-of-bounds on the Pirates' 31-yard line, moved the locals on the attack. Three plays, with Lyle Guttu, Helgeland, and Sid Vraa carrying, advanced the ball to the Crookston ½-yard line. Guttu drove over right guard to cross the east goal-line. Vraa's placekick split the uprights and the Prowlers had a 7 to 0 lead.

Crookston made their only sustained drive of the game in the first period, but a fumble stopped the Pirate march on the Prowlers' 25-yard stripe. The locals picked up a pair of first downs, and with the ball on the Crookston 37-yard line, Helgeland broke through left tackle for a nifty touchdown sprint. Vraa's placement added the point.

The Prowlers registered their third touchdown in easy fashion, gaining the ball on the Pirates' 42-yard line on a kick. Ray Berg sprinted for a first down on the 20; Guttu split the line for another first down on the 15; Helgeland made nine yards at right tackle; and Vraa circled left end for the TD. Vraa's placekick added the point, giving the Prowlers a 21 to 0 lead.

The Pirates averted a shutout by scoring their lone touchdown late in the second period. From the Prowler 23-yard line, third down and ten to go, Paul Wold found Dick Caouette with a pass on the Prowler 13-yard line, and the Pirate fullback drove over for the score. The placement try for the conversion was blocked, and the Prowlers held a 21 to 6 lead at the intermission.

The Prowler chalked up a pair of touchdowns in the third period, with Berg taking a lateral from Vraa and skirting left end for a 11-yard touchdown run. The try for the conversion, on a pass play, was wide. Minutes later, Helgeland, from the Crookston 44-yard line, sliced through left tackle and was away on a touchdown gallop. Vraa's kick for the point was off-line, with the Prowlers gaining a 33 to 6 lead.

The Prowlers made a shambles of the game by scoring four touchdowns in the fourth period. On the first play of the quarter, Guttu took a kick on the Prowler 48-yard line and getting a pair of clean-up blocks by Helgeland and Darold Dalton, scampered 52 yards for the TD. Berg plunged over right tackle for the point.

Two plays later, Helgeland intercepted a pass on the Crookston 39-yard line and broke away for the touchdown. The point try, on a kick, failed. Peter Froehle, recovering a Pirate fumble on the Crookston 24-yard line, set up the locals' third TD of the period. Mark Bjorkman, playing at left halfback, went through left tackle for the touchdown. Vraa skirted left end for the point.

Froehle's interception of a Crookston pass, on the Pirate's 47-yard line, racked up the games final touchdown. Jim Suave's plunge into the line added the Prowlers' 60th point.

Vraa's 54-point total was far short of the school scoring record set by Jack Erickson in 1951. In that year, Erickson, who was an all-state selection, scored seventeen touchdowns and ten extra points for a 112-point aggregate.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Football: 1953

The Prowlers put a clincher on a glorious football season on Friday night when they shellacked the Crookston Pirates, 60 to 6, to post the finest won-and-lost record that a Prowler eleven has registered since 1945. In 1945, the Prowlers, coached by Glenn Hanna and captained by Wes Hovie, had a five wins, no loss, and one tie record (the tie game was the 6-all draw with Bemidji).

Any year that the Prowlers can beat the Bemidji Lumberjacks in football is worthy of being classed as a glorious year. This year, in addition to beating the Jacks, the Prowlers took the measure of such traditional rivals as Red Lake Falls, Crookston, Warren, and East Grand Forks. In doing so, coach Skjod's squad has a valid claim to the 31st district and 8th regional football championships.

In beating the Pirates by that lop-sided margin on Friday night, the Prowlers established a new school scoring record. That sixty-point total boosted the Prowlers point-aggregate to 237 points, besting the 234-point set by the high-scoring Prowlers co-captained by Jack Erickson and Gary Anderson in 1951. That 234-point total was made in eight games, as was the total this year. Back in 1944, the Prowlers, co-captained by Herb Claffy and Chuck Richards, scored 220 points in a seven-game schedule.

Score Sets Record

Incidentally, that 60 to 6 score, against the Pirates, was the highest score that the locals have scored against Crookston, and it was the highest score that a Prowler eleven has totaled since the 63 to 0 score that Thief River Falls beat Warren by in 1922. That was the Prowler team that was captained by Rusty Anderson, coached by Herb MacFarlane, and had such standout backfield performers as Ernie Barsen, Stan and Kip Sorenson.

Coach Skjod on Friday night gave the local fans a preview of "things to come" when, in the later stages of the game, he shuffled the lineup and moved Mark Bjorkman to left halfback, Pete Froehle to fullback, Jim Sauve to right halfback, with Sid Vraa at quarterback. Those boys are all juniors and they have another year of eligibility remaining. The first time that Bjorkman carried the ball from scrimmage he exploded through left tackle for a 24-yard touchdown sprint; and Froehle intercepted a Crookston pass and ran 47 yards for a touchdown. They'll be a pair of "headache twins" for Prowler opponents next season.

Those eighteen seniors that made their last bow in a Prowler football uniform on Friday night—co-captains Lyle Guttu and Darold Dalton, Bob Helgeland, Darryl Durgin, Ray Berg, Dale Klungness, Frank Mead, Dick Kruse, Grant Gulseth, Neil Aase, Dick Burtness, Don Ueland, Mike McMahon, Lorenz Anton, Gary Humes, Dick Olson, Chet Dyrud, and Art Johnson—were a credit to their team, to their coaches, to their school, to their parents, and to the city. As Ralph Skjod so aptly phrased it, "They're the grandest bunch of boys ever."

Mud Lake Refuge Deer Hunting Restrictions

A directive issued by Chester Wilson, Conservation Commissioner, states that the deer hunting in the Mud Lake National Wildlife Refuge will be limited by the following restrictions: "Deer may be taken by any method permitted by law from Nov. 14th to Nov. 16th, 1953, both dates inclusive, between sunrise and sunset each day, within those portions of Mud Lake National Wildlife Refuge being easterly of CCC camp road and southerly of County Road E, except sections 14 and 15 of Township 156 north, Range 41, west."

There had been rumor given circulation that the deer hunting in Mud Lake was to be restricted to shotguns and slugs, but such is not the case.

And deer hunting will not be permitted in statutory game refuges. These refuges are sprinkled all over the state, and we have several around here, such as the one north of town and the one south and east of town. These refuges will be closed to deer hunting.

ARTIFICIAL ICE ARENA AT GRAND FORKS OPENS SOON

North Dakota's first artificial ice arena will open November 20 and 21 in the Winter Sports Building of the University of North Dakota at Grand Forks. The occasion will be the hockey series between the University and the Fort Frances Canadians that will open the Sioux' winter hockey season.

Rules Given for Hunting Deer at Mud Lake Refuge

Part of Refuge Will Be Open to Hunters First Three Days of Season

Deer hunters who plan on hunting within the open area of Mud Lake national wildlife refuge should closely observe the regulations that apply for the special three-day season, it was announced today by refuge authorities.

The same area as opened in the past will again be open—but only for the first three days of the state season. The special season will commence on November 14 at sunrise, and will end November 16 at sunset. Hunters will again be required to check in and out of the four checking stations—any other entry or exit will be illegal.

Hunters should take note of the special posting around the buffer zone enclosing the goose pen, as a number of hunters have been apprehended and fined for hunting in this zone in the past.

Hunters will be provided with a map and special regulations at the time they first check through any one of the stations—maps will not be available prior to that time. Vehicles will not be permitted to travel anywhere but on designated trails or roads.

During the special three-day season hunters may use any legal firearm as permitted by state regulations—in brief it is not required that hunters use a shotgun with single slug.

Hunters are requested to look closely for any deer taken that are ear-tagged. The state conservation department and the fish & wildlife service are provided very valuable management information by obtaining data from ear-tagged deer. Deer taken anywhere within a radius of 60-70 miles of Mud Lake could be tagged deer, and it is hoped that any such deer will be reported to Mud Lake refuge, or to the nearest state warden.

4 Prowlers Place on Region 8 Team

Limiting their selection to the senior members of the respective teams, the coaches of the eighth region, in a meeting held at Erskine on Monday night, named a 22-man all-regional football team. The following players were honored by the coaches by being placed on the all-star squad: ends—Darold Dalton, T. R. F.; Kent Larson, E. G. F.; Almen Johnson, Bemidji; and Don Hoffman, Bemidji; tackles—Mike McMahon, T. R. F.; guards—Richard Dufault, E. G. F.; Gary Helleckson, Bemidji; and Bill Hoden, Bemidji; centers—Don Gauthier, E. G. F.; and Ed Schmidt, Bemidji; backs—Lyle Guttu, T. R. F.; Bob Helgeland, T. R. F.; Jim Carney, E. G. F.; Stan Miller, Bemidji; Bob Parker, Bemidji; Jerry Baril, Crookston; Dick Caquette, Crookston; Carl Malm, Park Rapids; Tom Rohwer, Park Rapids; and Ken Bombardier, Red Lake Falls.

Deer Hunting Season to Open November 14

If you are one of the more than 160,000 hunters who will be seeking the whitetail deer between November 14 and November 22, heed the advice of conservation department officials regarding regulations.

The season for legal firearms or with bow and arrow runs from November 14 through November 22, in the Northern zone only.

The season for shotgun with single slug or with bow and arrow runs from November 14 thru November 16, in the Southern zone.

Here are some of the regulations regarding the taking of deer which it would be well to memorize:

You cannot purchase a license to take deer with firearms after the third day of the season. November 16th is the last day of the season on which you may purchase a firearms license. To be safe, purchase your license now!

You may not carry any rifle or shotgun with single slug in territory open to the taking of deer ten days before or five days after the close of the season, unless such rifle or shotgun is unloaded and contained in a case, or disassembled.

You have two days after the close of the season to transport deer home.

There are restrictions on firearms. Deer may be taken only with rifles that are more than 23 caliber. Shells must be over 1¾ inches in length unless 35 caliber or larger. Shells must have softnosed or expanding type bullet. "Army" ammunition is illegal. Buckshot is illegal. Shotguns must contain only single slug.

Everyone must now have a license in order to hunt deer, including those under 16 years of age.

Don't forget the clothing regulations. The visible part of the jacket and cap must be at least 75 per cent solid crimson or bright red. Checkered patterns are not permitted under law. Better buy 100 per cent red to be safe.

Regarding hunting from roads: No person shall discharge any firearm upon, over or across any improved public highway at any big game animal or while such person is within the limits of the right-of-way of any improved public highway.

Greenbush Man Is Accident Victim

Olander Vaage Dies in Automobile Collision

Funeral services for Olander (Ole) Vaage, of Greenbush, who was killed in an automobile collision Tuesday, were held in Greenbush Monday at the Bethel church.

The accident occured one mile south and two miles west of the Haug Store at an intersection of Roseau county roads when cars driven by Vaage and James Hasson collided.

Vaage was thrown 25 feet from his vehicle. He suffered a skull fracture and a broken neck and died almost instantly.

Roseau County Coroner Dr. Jack Delmore and Sheriff E. B. Sillerud investigated the mishap.

Fatalities for Month Give Promise of Being Well Below September

Death loosened its grip slightly on Minnesota's streets and highways during October, according to preliminary figures released by the traffic safety division of the state highway department, with 48 fatalities reported as of late last week. This compares very favorably with the 87 lives destroyed during September. The year's toll stands at 528 deaths, as compared with 424 for the comparable period of last year.

"It is interesting to note," said A. V. Rohweder, president of the Minnesota Safety Council, "that last month's traffic fatalities were the lowest for any October since 1944 and were 14 below the average for any October during the past 10 years. September's toll of 87 deaths, on the other hand, set a new all-time high for any one month in the state's history."

The state's safety authorities credit much of the very satisfying reduction in deaths to the great emphasis being placed on better driving in the campaign spearheaded by Governor C. Elmer Anderson.

In analyzing the cause for the reduction in fatalities, one of the chief factors appears to be the cut in multiple-death accidents from 16 in September to only four in October. Whereas 40 of September's 87 fatalities resulted from these crashes, there were only eight deaths in October as a result of multiple-death accidents.

Ten pedestrians lost their lives during October, which represented the smallest number of this type of fatality during any October in the entire previous 10-year period. Making up the roll of death were two youngsters under nine years of age and eight adults 50 years of age and older.

Death came to 17 motorists who ran off the road, hit bridge abutments, missed curves or collided with trains at railroad grade crossings.

He served at one time as town clerk in North.

SAFETY MEASURES PAYING OFF

Over a period of years there has been little variation in the national total of traffic deaths on a per capita basis. There has been a very substantial decrease however in the number of traffic deaths in relation to the number of motor vehicles and also in relation to the number of motor vehicle miles.

In 1932 there were 12.2 deaths per 10,000 motor vehicles in the country. Last year there were only 7.2 deaths for every 10,000 motor vehicles. The number of deaths in relation to the number of miles traveled showed a still greater decline during this period, dropping from 11.7 per 100 million motor miles in 1932 to only 7.3 deaths in 1952, a 50% drop in fatalities.

The death toll on our highways adds up to a tragic total but it is encouraging to know that we are making substantial progress in safety. It seems reasonable to assume that highway hazards would increase somewhat in proportion to the increase in the number of motor vehicles and motor vehicle miles. The fact that the death toll has not increased under these conditions but on the contrary has been substantially decreased is a testimonial to the effectiveness of our safety program. Safer highways, safer automobiles and more effective traffic controls are paying off.

BUTTER GREASING THE PRICE SKIDS

Of all the segments of our agricultural economy the cattle growers probably have taken the worst beating. Several unfavorable factors have combined to break the beef market. There has been no government support price to relieve the pressure of a tremendous over-supply. Cattle men are now reversing their previous position on price supports and are asking that they be given the same measure of protection provided for other branches of agriculture. That they should be entitled to.

Another segment of our agriculture that is headed for trouble according to the experts is the dairy industry. That's getting closer to home. Butter is greasing the price skids for the dairy farmer. Dairy products are still protected by support prices. The surpluses are growing at an alarming rate however and leaders of the dairy industry are concerned about what will happen next March when they will be confronted with the necessity of seeking a renewal of the support prices.

In this instance the industry has a special reason for being concerned. Through its leaders it is pledged to have its house in order by next March.

Hoard's "Dairyman," certainly not an enemy of the dairy farmer, sounded the warning to the industry in a recent issue. It pointed to the promises that had been made by leaders of the industry, specific promises that within one year the industry would have its own machinery for surplus control in operation and that government price supports would no longer be needed.

Hoard's Dairyman is concerned because the industry is doing nothing to help itself, as its leaders promised they would. Instead of improving, the surplus problem is steadily worsening. The support prices are defeating their own purpose two ways. They are encouraging more production. And the high price of butter maintained by the government supports is decreasing the demand; further increasing the use of butter substitutes.

The industry probably will get an extension of time when the question of price supports for the following year is considered next March." That is a fair guess. But it is becoming increasingly clear that the present arrangement cannot be continued indefinitely.

Production controls are an essential part of any long range price support program. Either the dairy industry will have to put into effect some system of controls of its own, as John Brandt recommended, or it will have to submit to controls imposed by the government. The self imposed kind of controls should be much more satisfactory over a period of time, mainly because they would be more free from the uncertainties of political action.

We'll go along with those who argue in favor of production controls for the dairy industry through the establishment of quality standards for butter. The industry has insisted on high standards for other dairy products, such as milk, and because of uniformly high standards of sanitation and quality the demand for milk is steadily increasing. Much of the butter that goes on the market however actually is not fit for human consumption.

Up here in dairyland, where we produce a good product, we do not realize how much poor butter, by our standards, goes on the market. That large volume of poor quality butter does more harm to the butter market than the olemargarine industry.

There is no finer spread and no better fat for countless cooking purposes than good butter. And there are few things less desirable as food for any purpose than poor butter. Millions of our people do not know what good butter tastes like. Poor quality butter ranks close to low price as a builder of oleo sales.

Other highly organized groups of food producers have successfully established quality standards that have protected their markets. The dairy industry can do what other segments of agriculture have already done. It is not an impossible objective.

It is obvious that production controls must come in the dairy industry in one form or another. Butter is the big problem. And as it becomes necessary to reduce the production of this commodity the best interests of the industry will be served more effectively by forcing this reduction in the lower grades that in themselves are detrimental to the industry.

CAN'T ARGUE WITH A FACT

Secretary of Agriculture Benson is putting up a good fight in support of his position on government price controls. His position is sound. Government subsidies are not a satisfactory solution to any problem. In theory he undoubtedly is right.

In his struggle for survival however the farmer is not so much concerned with theories. It is the hard, cold facts that bother him.

The farmer is properly concerned for instance about his reduced income and increased costs. Most farmers are reconciled to an inevitable after-the-war adjustment. They know there will have to be some sacrificing of prosperity with peace. They prefer peace to any profitable war. But the farmer doesn't want to be alone in making this adjustment to peace and that, mainly, is the cause of his present unhappiness.

He had reason to be very unhappy about last week's newspaper headlines. Last week's reports stated that the income of agriculture had hit a new low, continuing the slide that has progressed without interruption over a period of too many months. Last week's reports also stated that the third quarter profits of industry had gone up to an all time high. Those big profits in industry were also government subsidized.

We are sure the secretary of agriculture is right in theory. A theory is never as impressive however as a fact. The agricultural communities are concerned about the facts.

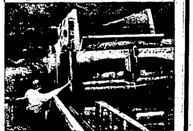
"IMPOSSIBLE" IRON MINE



DEEP IN THIS MINE near Gilbert, Minnesota, is iron ore buried so far down that for a long time it was impractical to get it out. But this unusual-looking cable-car solved the problem. It hoists 15 tons of ore from the mine floor to the surface—300 feet above, in just 45 seconds! This example serves to point out that not all open-pit mining is either simple or cheap. More and more, our state's iron mining industry is turning to the hard-to-get-at ores, to the low-grade ores and the once-worthless material, taconite. New methods and new equipment are building a mining industry which can bring benefits to all Minnesotans for generations to come. But the ores it produces must compete in price at the steel mills with ores from other areas. They can do so only if our mining industry gets fair tax treatment.

Von Wald-Thompson Vows Exchanged

The Grygla Gospel Tabernacle was the scene of a lovely candlelight wedding on Friday evening, October 30, at 8 o'clock when Miss Junia Von Wald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Von Wold of Grygla, became the bride of Frank C. Thompson of Hibbing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson Sr., of Mora, Minn. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with bouquets of white carnations on the piano, and large baskets of bronze and gold mums gracing the rostrum. The fall theme was carried out with garlands of yellow and red leaves and sheaves of wheat at the front of the church.

Mrs. Virgil Rasmusson presided at the piano and played a prelude of piano selections. Nuptial music included "The Angelus Bells", and the wedding march from Mendelsholm. James Gusa of Hibbing, friend of the couple, sang "Love Shall Abide", "With This Ring I Thee Wed," and "Bless Our House".

The Rev. V. I. Rasmusson, assisted by the Rev. Robert Abbott of Thief River Falls, prompted the exchange of the double ring vows.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of ivory slipper satin, styled with a round net over satin yoke, accentuated with a scalloped edging, long tapered sleeves, fitted bodice, and full shirt flowing into a short train.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion had a wide edging of chantilly lace and fell from a tiara of rhinestones and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of talisman and roses, white baby 'mums tied with shrimp-colored ribbons. Her only jewelry was a three-strand pearl necklace which had been worn by her mother on her wedding day.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Glenn Thompson of Minneapolis, sister of the bride, who wore a shrimp-colored taffeta gown, styled like the bridal gown. She carried a leaf-shaped bouquet of bronze and white baby mums surrounding one large white feathered mum, and tied with gold ribbons. Her headdress matched her gown and was fastened with pearls. She wore a two-strand pearl necklace.

The bridesmaid was Mrs. George Kidder of Minneapolis, also a sister of the bride and she was attired identically to the matron of honor. Miss Lorna Kidder of Minneapolis, niece of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid and her gown was identical with the other attendants.

Two flower girls, Patty Thompson of Wessington Springs, S. D., a second cousin of the groom, and Vernette Gusa of Hibbing, preceded the bride down the aisle, strewing petals. They wore identical gowns of gold-colored taffeta with matching headdresses and styled like those of the other attendants.

The groom was attended by his brother, Glenn Thompson of Minneapolis, his cousin, Lauren Thompson of Wessington Springs S. D., and James Olson, who was the junior groomsman. Ushers were Duane Von Wold of Hibbing, brother of the bride, Vern Thompson of Mora, brother of the groom, and Lyle Kidder of Minneapolis, nephew of the bride.

Mrs. Von Wold wore a wine colored wool flannel suit for her daughter's wedding with black accessories. Her corsage was made up of yellow roses and white baby mums. The groom's mother wore a brown crepe dress trimmed with beading and brown accessories. Her corsage was the same as the bride's mother.

A reception for one hundred and twenty-five guests was held at the Grygla school auditorium immediately after the wedding. Bouquets of shrimp-colored glads, pansies and an arrangement of autumn leaves enhanced the scene. The bridal table was centered with a four-tiered, white wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Miss Myrtle Peterson of Thief River Falls was in charge of the reception. Misses Grace Hagenbeck and Geneva Anderson of Thief River Falls had charge of the gifts while Mrs. Gordon Foss of Grygla poured. Mrs. Mildred Owens of Angus cut the wedding cake, and Mrs. Ted Thompson of Thief River Falls took care of the guest book. Waitresses at the bridal table were Mrs. Duane Von Wald of Hibbing and Miss Ruby Peterson of Thief River Falls. Other waitresses were Miss Pauline Kuenlog and Mrs. Ervin Strandquist of Thief River Falls. George Kidder of Minneapolis took flash-bulb pictures of both wedding and reception.

The bride attended Northwestern Bible Institute at Winnipeg, after which she was employed at the Ben Franklin store in Thief River Falls. The past two years she has been employed in Minneapolis. The groom is a graduate of the Ogilvie, Minnesota high school. He has been employed as a carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left Friday evening for a few days wedding trip to Winnipeg. They will be at home by Nov. 6, at Hibbing where they will live in a trailer house in the Gangness Trailer Court. For going away the bride wore a two-piece wine-colored dress with black accessories and the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

Those from a distance who attended the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson Sr. and Vern of Mora, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Lauren Thompson and family of Wessington, Springs, S. Pharmacist Has "Prescription" For Paying $1,300 Bill

A St. Paul pharmacist, father of 8 children, was hospitalized for the second time recently, this time for a period of 70 days.

Mr. Matthew Rusch, who is recuperating in his home at 1725 E. Larpenteur, St. Paul, had a hospital bill of $1,314.15 paid for him, except for the $25 deductible portion and $2.20 for special service.

Terming the protection received from two non-profit Minnesota health plans "an absolute blessing," Mrs. Rusch says, "If it wasn't for this wonderful protection, we wouldn't have been able to see our way clear. Blue Cross and Blue Shield," she says, "took care of us in so many ways."

Mrs. Rusch, a registered nurse, said she has seen many types of health plans in her 25 years in nursing. "Blue Cross and Blue Shield are the best," she says. "What would we do without Blue Cross and Blue Shield?"

Complete free information on the Blue Cross $25 deductible plan, which covered $1,286.95 of Mr. Rusch's hospital bill, and on Blue Shield, which covered a substantial portion of his doctor bills, may be obtained by writing directly to Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Dept. WP-13, 2610 University Ave., St. Paul 14, Minn. A postcard will do.

"Don't blame your car when you stall!"

STANDARD SERVICE
ICE

A thin film of ice – a major cause of engine stalling from 58° to 28°

Rapid evaporation of gasoline chills carburetor below freezing, causing moisture in air to condense and freeze on carburetor parts. A thin film of ice forms on the carburetor throttle plate. Ice shuts off the flow of fuel during idling. Then, when you make a stop, your fuel-starved engine sputters and dies. New Standard White Crown Premium Gasoline contains a costly DE-ICER additive which prevents carburetor ice from forming.

New Standard Premium does what no other gasoline will do!

remarkable DE-ICER additive prevents stalling!

Believe it or not, when your engine quits in traffic at this time of the year, chances are that ice does it. Yes, ice causes cold-motor stalling even on Indian Summer mornings! Carburetor ice! And this amazing fast-freeze is likely to occur when the temperature registers between 58° and 28° above zero!

For years motorists have mistakenly blamed their cars. Actually no mechanical carburetor adjustment can cure it. But now Standard scientists have solved it.

Standard White Crown Premium Gasoline contains a costly DE-ICER additive, a built-in anti-freeze that prevents the formation of ice film that can cripple the action of carburetors!

Try a tankful today!

Rev. Charles Guilfoyle, C. P., a member of the Passionist order will conduct a mission in St. Francis Xavier parish, Oklee, beginning Sunday, Nov. 8 through Saturday, November 14.

The Mission will solemnly open when an almost life-sized statue of Jesus Christ Crucified will be carried in the church, Sunday evening at 8:00 p. m.

Each evening thereafter services will be at the same hour. The morning masses during the Mission week will be 6:30 and 7:30 a. m. Sermon will be given at each of the morning masses and again at the evening services.

Rev. Charles Guilfoyle belongs to one of the strictest orders in the Catholic Church. It was founded at Turin, Italy over 200 years ago by St. Paul of the Cross as a result of a vision. The members wear sandals. In their monasteries they sleep on sacks of straw, and arise each morning at 2:00 a. m. to chant Psalms from the old testament. The Passionist Fathers have been in the United States over a hundred years.

Father Charles as he is familiarly known, besides having preached in 150 cities of 19 states was formerly retreat master at the Passionist Fathers monasteries in Sierra Madre, Calif., in St. Paul, Kansas, and was founder, organizer, and director of laymens' retreats at Holy Cross Monastery, Mount Adams, Cincinnati, Ohio.

BOUNTIFUL NATURE

Ernest Krajsa grew a stalk of corn 13 feet 3 inches high near Mahnomen.—At Chisholm John Balantich grew 7¼-pound rutabagas.—On display at Paynesville is a New Guinea bean 5 feet 3 inches long, 14 inches around, weighing 15¼ pounds—enough for quite a kettle of bean soup.—Otto Johnson raised a 32-pound watermelon near St. Hilaire.—John Buettner's 63½-pound pumpkin at St. Cloud is topped by Roseau's 78-pounders from K. A. Rygh's garden.—Worthington reports a 2-pound carrot and a 3-pound potato.

The tackle that stopped the game

Determined as any All American, young Danny Brennan plunged hard for a touchdown. But 10-year-old Joe Todd was just as determined to stop him. There was a smack—then someone yelled, "Hey, Joey's hurt!"

Working on a telephone pole nearby, repairman Glenn Lowell heard the cry, hurried over. Below the boy's left eye was a cut which Glenn's first aid experience told him would need stitches. Applying a temporary bandage, he stopped for Joey's mother, drove them to the hospital, and waited while the injury was treated.

When the appreciative mother praised him, Lowell modestly declined credit, explaining that all telephone men like himself were trained for emergencies.

"Gosh," Joey piped up, "I guess everybody's a 'safety man' on your team!"

In this true telephone story, only names have been changed. The alert repairman, Glenn Lowell, may be working in your town today. For wherever you live you can depend on telephone folks for prompt help in emergencies—just as you depend on your telephone itself.

To maintain reliable everyday service—to be ready for emergencies, too—your telephone company must charge adequate rates. For we must pay good wages for workers like Glenn Lowell; we must train them well and provide them with good equipment . . . to continue to make your telephone worth more than it costs.

Do you know a true story that shows the value of telephone service, or the helpfulness of telephone people? Send it to Northwestern Bell Telephone Co., Omaha, Nebraska.

Union State Bank to Hold Open House Friday

To Celebrate Completion of Big Remodeling Project on Building

The Union State bank will hold open house Friday, November 6, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. in its handsome remodeled and greatly enlarged quarters on Third st., E. O. Peterson, president, announced today.

He added that coffee and doughnuts will be served during the day, and that orchid corsages will be presented to the first 2,000 women guests, in addition to which men visitors will receive cigars and children accompanied by their parents will be given toy balloons.

The lengthy remodeling project, executed by Prichard Bros. [illegible] contractors, has [illegible] more than doubling [illegible] size of the original [illegible] and presenting an entirely new and modern interior and exterior.

The old stone pillars that previously formed the front of the building have been removed, and the new facade is built of a combination of polished red granite, gray Carthage stone and gray brick, with a canopy above the entrance and an impressive pylon rising above, carrying a clock and the bank's name.

Width More Than Doubled

The width of the interior has been increased from 25 feet to 55 feet, providing space for a large lobby and for all the facilities that go to make up a modern bank. The walls are painted in soft tones, with wall paper of an attractive design on the west wall. The lobby is equipped with rubber tile floors, while the ceiling is finished with acoustical plaster, with recessed lighting fixtures.

The lobby is separated from the working quarters by shoulder-high fixtures of red oak, while officers' desks, located along the west side, are finished in limed oak, with leather chairs. Also on the west side of the room are the insurance department and the commercial note windows, with a conference room in the rear.

At the left of the front entrance is the installment loan department, with its own small lobby and two tellers' windows. Extending farther back on the left side are six commercial tellers' windows, and at their rear is the soundproof glassed-off bookkeeping department. Near the vault in the rear are three secluded booths for use by safety deposit patrons.

Drive-In Teller's Window

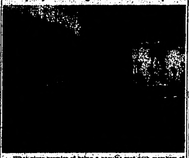
Forming an innovation in bank facilities in this area is a drive-in tellers window with access from the alley along the east wall of the building, which enables patrons to make deposits without leaving their automobiles.

A commodious new vault for storing bank records has been constructed adjoining the money and safe deposit vault, which in turn has been equipped with an automatic ventilating device for use in case anyone should be inadvertently locked in.

A spacious and completely equipped employes' lounge has been installed in the basement, which also has been completely remodeled, with two rental offices. A new stairway leading to the second floor was installed, and the two front offices there were entirely remodeled.

Plans for the huge remodelling project were prepared by A. Moorman & Co., widely known bank architects of Minneapolis. Assisting in various phases of the work were L. W. Best, electrical; Lee Plumbing & Heating Co., plumbing; Brodin Sheet Metal Works, heating; and David Carlson, painting and decorating.

Employes Lounge Attractive Spot



What gives promise of being a popular spot with members of the staff of the Union State bank is the spacious and completely equipped employees' lounge in the basement, a corner of which is pictured above. At left is the lunch counter, which will be used on the occasion of bank staff meetings as well as at other times. The room is decorated in cheerful colors.

As Architects Projected New Bank Building

Pictured above is the architect's sketch of the remodeled and enlarged Union State bank building, which today stands as an accomplished fact, and the completion of the huge undertaking will be celebrated at an open house to be staged by the bank's officers for its patrons Friday from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m. A photograph of the structure as it appears today is published on another page of this section.

Union State Bank Has Big Assets Increase During Recent Years

Even allowing for the inflation that has taken place in recent years, the mounting resources of the Union State bank have more than kept abreast of the growth of the Thief River Falls community.

When E. O. Peterson, president, became associated with the bank in 1935, its October statement of condition revealed total assets of $927,997.

By 1940 resources had more than doubled, totalling $1,991,595, while by 1945 they had increased to $3,403,463, and continued to grow to $4,131,403 in 1950. The most recent statement, as of October 20 this year, showed total assets had grown to $5,285,215.

At the same time the capital structure of the bank has tripled from a total of $112,000 in 1935 to $339,127.57 this month. The bank now has a capital of $100,00, surplus of $100,000, undivided profits of $[illegible] and reserves of $36,785.71.

Crookston Girl Wins Short Story Writing Contest

Betty Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pope of Crookston, formerly of Thief River Falls, was notified last week that she had been awarded first prize in a short story contest conducted by the University of Minnesota homecoming committee. By virtue of her award, Betty, who is a senior at Central high school in Crookston, will be a special guest at the U. of M. homecoming game against Indiana Saturday.

Ted Mills Teacher of Jr. Rifle Club

Ted Mills has been selected as instructor for the newly organized Thief River Rifle club, junior division, the National Rifle association announced today.

Membership in the newly chartered group will be restricted to youngsters under 19 years of age. Officers, all of Thief River Falls, are: Mark Bjorkman, president; Louise Knutson, vice-president; Elody Kulseth, executive officer; David Rasmussen, secretary; and Susan Mills, treasurer.

Aim of the new club, like thousands of others similarly chartered by the National Rifle association, is to teach youngsters the fundamentals of good marksmanship and safe firearms handling.

Prices for Turkeys up Slightly This Fall

A Thanksgiving turkey will cost 2 to 3 cents a pound more than last year. Growers raised fewer birds this year, according to a Minneapolis Tribune survey.

Minnesota was the lone exception to this national trend among major turkey raising states.

Here, turkey farmers upped their flocks by 6 per cent to raise a record 5,513,000 birds.

The increase also boosted Minnesota into second place nationally as a turkey producing state. California still leads.

Experts are hard pressed to explain the actions of Minnesotans.

Like the rest of the nation's turkey raisers, Minnesota farmers made little money on turkeys last year. That's a situation that normally makes for a drop in production.

Last years' record crop of 58 million birds in the United States oversupplied the market and prices tumbled. Turkeys ended up cheaper than wieners.

The government came to the aid of the industry, bailing it out with 27 million dollars — which bought up 6 per cent of the crop. The turkeys were passed out to the school lunch program.

Turkey won't be on the school lunch menu as frequently this year. The industry will need no government props.

Instead, supply is just about balanced with demand. There'll be enough for everyone.

Turkey men are happy.

For one thing, the public is eating more turkey than ever before. This year, the average will be 5.5 pounds a person.

And with fewer turkeys and cheaper feed, profits have picked up. Last year, a grower was lucky to clear 50 cents a bird. This year, he can look forward to a profit of $1 to $2.

Adding to the profits picture was a decrease in turkey mortality. Fewer birds have died in the process of growing to dinner-table size.

Growers try to hold the death rate to 10 per cent. Every bird that dies cuts into the profit.

"It's been an exceptional year for livability," said Dr. W. A. Billings, University of Minnesota turkey authority. "I can't remember anything like it in the last 25 years."

State Sportsmen Join Safety Drive

Follow Lead of State Conservation Group

As the fall hunting fever approached its climax in the deer season just ahead, sportsmen all over Minnesota today were rallying to the "Call of Caution", issued by the Minnesota Conservation Federation.

According to Lee Kuluvar, state chairman of the federation's outdoor safety committee, "never before in Minnesota's history has so much response been shown, or so much effort concentrated in an attempt to save the lives of 18 hunters statistically doomed to die of accidental gunfire.

At club meetings and rallies in many parts of the state, gun safety and hunting rules have been reviewed by thousands of alert sportsmen as never before, Kuluvar said. Newspapers and radio stations have carried the hunting safety message into countless homes. Many hunters have pledged themselves to "play it safe and come home alive" . . . and to protect the other hunters in the field.

"And, as a clincher," Cliff Sakry, MCF executive secretary, announced, "the federation has distributed 50,000 special hunting safety posters to more than 500 sportsmen's clubs, 150 game wardens and hundreds of business firms, for posting especially in the outdoor hunting areas where hunters actually in the field will be reminded once again to hunt with caution."

Many folks return to religion after they've tried everything else.

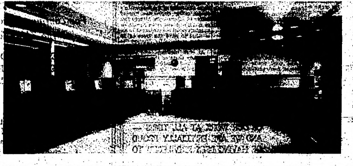
DESIGNED FOR CUSTOMER CONVENIENCE

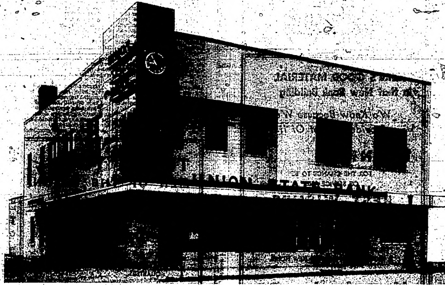
For several years our facilities have been woefully inadequate both from the standpoint of our customers and from our own standpoint in the handling and processing of accounts. We appreciate your patience during the years you have waited to be waited on in the cramped quarters pictured at the left.

Open For Your Inspection Friday

All of our facilities are open to your inspection Friday—to the greatest extent possible during the regular banking hours—and more completely of course after we are through with our "chores." Come in and take plenty of time in looking around.

Pictured below is a part of our new lobby, designed in every respect for customer convenience. Six teller windows will speed up service to depositors. Two installment loan windows and one commercial and real estate loan window will facilitate service to our borrowers.





Our New Home Makes Available To You The Most Modern Banking Facilities

Our new, finer and larger Union State Bank is ready for you — ready for you to use. Yes, it's your bank. It's your bank because a bank is organized to serve the people of the community of which it is a part, providing safe-keeping for the dollars of its depositors and putting these dollars to work, helping to meet the financial needs of a growing community.

From beginning to end, we have had your needs in mind in planning this new and enlarged Union State Bank. Your steadily increasing patronage has made the greatly expanded floor space necessary. With the most modern equipment available we will be able to provide speedier service.

Along with the increased floor space we have added new services — a night depository for after-hour bank protection—a drive-in teller service for the convenience and safety of motorist depositors—an installment loan service to provide for the special needs of small, short term loans.

This is your bank—these services are made available to you — we want you to use them.

NEW SERVICES MADE AVAILABLE

Round-the-clock, seven days a week service is available for customers who have an after-hour deposit problem. No need now to take chances on sums of money that do not become available for deposit until after the bank is closed. Pictured at the right is Oscar J. Houske of St. Hilaire, giving the new service a trial.

NO PARKING PROBLEM FOR MOTORING DEPOSITORS

Mayor Harry Simons demonstrates how easy it is to do business with us while seated comfortably in his car. In this instance Jean Helle is providing the teller service in accepting a deposit. Ordinary withdrawals may also be made through the drive-in window.

Union State Bank Organized 23 Years Ago in 1930

Origin of Present Bank Has History Dating Back 61 Years

The Union State bank, which is to be host at open house Friday to celebrate the completion of an extensive remodeling project, traces its origin back to 1892, when one of its predecessors, the First State bank, was organized here.

The First State bank was located for many years in the Dobner-Meehan block at the corner of Main av. and Second st., where the officers included H. G. Dobner, C. L. Dobner, Math Barzen and George G. Johnson.

The Peoples State bank, another forerunner of the Union State, was organized in 1906 and was located in the present Dr. O. D. Reich building on Third st. Men associated with the institution included D. B. Bakke, H. A. Lokken, T. P. Hamre, Oscar Sponheim and H. S. Dahlen.

About the year 1920, the First State and Peoples State banks were merged to form the First & Peoples State bank, which occupied a portion of the present site of the Union State bank. H. S. Dahlen served as president and Ralph Sheldon cashier.

The bank was taken over May 5, 1930, by the Union State bank, organized by J. F. Millard and Theodore Albrecht of the Union Investment Co. of Minneapolis, together with H. E. Nelson, O. D. Ostby and H. A. Brumund.

The Union State bank became affiliated with the Northwest Bancorporation of Minneapolis November 29, 1932, and Leon J. Kaliher took over the duties of cashier, later serving as president until 1936. The bank successfully came thru the Roosevelt bank holiday period of stress in the spring of 1933.

In the year, 1936 Kaliher was transferred to a bank at Red Wing, and was succeeded as president by E. O. Peterson, who had joined the bank in 1935 as vice president and cashier, coming to this city from Belle Plaine. Mr. Peterson has since that date served as head of the institution. Elmer Bratsch, vice president and cashier of the bank, came here in the capacity of cashier in 1946.

Miss Laura Lund, assistant cashier, is by a wide margin the oldest employe of the bank in terms of years of service, having started working for the former First & Peoples State bank in 1920.

"U" Homecoming Set for Week-end

Gopher-Indiana Football Game to Be Main Feature

With "END-iana" as their cry, thousands of University of Minnesota alumni, students and friends will gather in Memorial stadium Saturday to spur the Gophers on to a Homecoming victory over the Indiana Hoosiers. The game will culminate a three-day program of Varsity shows, alumni reunions, dances, pep fests, parades and other special events planned to celebrate the University's 38th annual Homecoming.

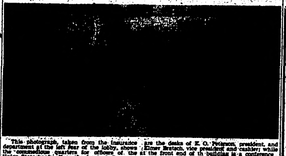
Students will stage a Varsity show Thursday, at 8 p. m., in Northrop Memorial auditorium. Afterwards, this year's Alumni King, Grant H. Johnson, Detroit Lakes superintendent of schools, will crown the 1953 Homecoming Queen at a coronation ball in the main ballroom of Coffman Memorial Union.

Friday (Nov. 6) is Alumni day. It will begin with the traditional parade at 11 a. m. through the Minneapolis loop and the campus. Theme for the floats—and also for house decorations at the University—will be "Hoosier Harvest." An Alumni coffee hour, featuring movies of great Minnesota teams, is scheduled at 4 p. m. in the men's lounge of Coffman Memorial Union.

Two performances of the Varsity show will be held in Northrop auditorium at 7 and 9 p. m. Friday. Afterwards, Gopher fans will march in a torchlight parade from the auditorium to the 4th street parking lot for a pepfest, the lighting of the bonfire and a pep dance.

Activities Saturday (Nov. 7) will include the annual alumni buffet luncheon from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. in the Union main ballroom and an alumni tea after the game at 4:30 p. m. in the St. Paul campus Union. Highlight of the day will be the Gopher-Hoosier game at 1:30 p. m. in Memorial stadium. The Homecoming dance, which will start at 9 p. m. in the Union and Armory, will wind up the list of events.

Ample Space Is Provided for Officers of Bank



This photograph, taken from the insurance department at the left rear of the lobby, shows the commodious quarters for officers of the Union State bank. Near the front of the space are the desks of E. O. Peterson, president, and Elmer Bratsch, vice president and cashier; while at the front end of th building is a conference room.

Good Vision Held as Necessity for Hunting Safety

"A hunter's most important equipment is a good pair of eyes!"

That statement was made by Dr. Harold L. Carlson, Mankato, president of the Minnesota Optometric association, as the first rash of accidents caused by carelessness and improper vision was noted in the early weeks of the hunting season.

"Hunters must be more careful if they are to survive," Dr. Carlson points out. "A hunter must see well to be successful, and unless he sees well he may be a safety hazard, mistaking a fellow hunter for game."

Dr. Carlson emphasizes that a hunter's vision must meet unusually exacting requirements. "One of the many seeing problems of the hunter is that he must be able to focus and see easily at all distances from the rear sight of his gun, past the front sight and out to the target many yards ahead.

Commission on Road Study Makes Report on Recent Hearing

The Minnesota Highway Study commission at its recent public hearings in the State Office Building, St. Paul, had an opportunity to hear state, county, township and municipal officials discuss their major road problems. Although they were vying with one another for more funds for highways, roads at each level of government, they exhibited a very friendly understanding of each others problems.

They had one very important statement in common: "We are not receiving sufficient funds to adequately finance the type of roads we need at our level of government." Even the representatives of governmental divisions which in comparison appeared to be getting the lion's share of highway user funds were pleading for additional financial assistance. Comments on highway finance problem made by the spokesmen for the various governmental jurisdictions are briefly reviewed hereafter.

M. J. Hoffman, commissioner of highways, was the first speaker at the public hearing, and reported to the Commission many reasons for the current high cost of highways: "We in Minnesota enjoy a unique and very costly distinction in that we have the fourth largest total mileage of roads and streets of all the 48 states in the Union." Minnesota's road network is 121,000 miles long, of which one-tenth (11,850 miles) is trunk highway under state jurisdiction. The state trunk system carries 50% of total traffic volume, he stated. Highway construction was curtailed in the 1930's, and since 1940 physical accomplishments have been seriously limited due to the depreciating value of the dollar. "As a net results, he reported, "we are today perhaps further behind in our trunk highway construction program, as measured by current traffic needs, than we were 20 years ago."

"While we have a greater buying power than ever before, our people are spending proportionately less of their automotive dollar for the roads and streets they drive on." Although revenues allotted to the state trunk highways are at an all-time high of $54 million, fixed costs (i.e. for motor vehicle license and gas tax collections, highway patrol, administration of traffic safety and drivers' licensing programs) are also considerably higher than ever before. Actual maintenance and traffic costs, he stated, are $17 million and actual construction contracts average $31 million a year.

To bring rural mileage in the state trunk system up to certain standards of adequacy the cost was estimated to be $289 million, and $23 million for urban mileage, a total of $502 million. This amount represents more than has been spent for all construction on the trunk highway system since its beginning in 1921. At the present rate of state highway income, approximately 15 years will be required to complete the program.

Wendell P. Huber, President of the Minnesota County Highway Engineers Association, stated that "In order to finance the program that the people demand I think the only thing to do is to raise the taxes." He said the other alternative would be to improve only certain roads and meet the needs of the public to a smaller degree.

"When you speak of a couple hundred miles to be improved (in a county) it runs up to staggering figures. But I do think that is what the public wants and is willing to pay for. The levies are probably high that counties are paying at this time." He stated that "There are only three ways of raising more money: (1) increasing the road and bridge levy; (2) increasing license fees; (3) increasing the gas tax." He referred to a bond issue in his own county (Ottertail) stating that, "It is not going to be the complete answer but it's going to help tremendously."

Leo B. Gambrino, Secretary of the State Association of County Commissioners stated, "Although the county boards in general throughout the state feel that financing the county affairs in the matter of road construction is a real problem, we can't put it all on real estate. The demands are such that we can't give the people what they expect in the matter of road travel. They want to get away from driving over rough roads, gravel roads — they want black top. Our black top program for the last year has been limited for the reason of money. We have to raise funds from additional sources. I don't think the additional (taxes) should be put on real estate. I do feel that additional money should be obtained possibly thru an increase in gas tax or some other means."

Alvin Baudler, President of the Minnesota Association of Township Officers, stated "You all realize that the taxes on real estate are at the limit . . . what we want to do is to get more money to take care of our (township) roads. With all this gasoline tax and automobile license, etc., we think we should have a share in it."

Clarence Ludwig, Secretary of the League of Minnesota Municipalities, stated as follows regarding financing of streets: "The present system fails to recognize the substantial benefits directly accruing to highway users (motor vehicle owners and operators) from both secondary and local streets. It is admitted highway and street systems also benefit abutting property, by providing access, and to compensate for this a moderate use of special assessments and property taxes is appropriate. But placing the extra financial burden for secondary and local streets on property and completely excluding the motor vehicle beneficiaries from their support is extreme."

Christmas Seals to Be Distributed Starting Nov. 16

Dr. Baldwin Borreson Heads Sponsoring Agency in Pennington County

Minnesota's army of volunteer TB fighters this month joins tens of thousands of men and women in the nation as they swing into action for the 47th annual Christmas Seal sale, starting Nov. 16 and continuing through December.

Christmas Seal sale chairmen and their committees in towns throughout the state, officers of county associations, officers, directors and executive committee of the state association — all three add up to several thousand workers in Minnesota alone, the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health association announces.

On the same day nearly every family in Pennington county as well as in the nation will get a first close look at the 1953 Christmas Seal, showing the happy face of a little boy singing Christmas carols. They will also receive a message about TB and the need for funds to fight it.

Heading the Pennington County Tuberculosis and Health association are: Dr. Baldwin Borreson, president; Mrs. L. B. Hartz, vice-president; Mrs. George Erickson, secretary.

The local Christmas Seal committees are as follows:

Thief River Falls, Herman A. Kjos, chairman; Mrs. George Erickson, Mrs. Earl Jensen, Mrs. L. B. Hartz, Norman A. Holen, W. G. Claffy, Kalmer Ostby.

Goodridge, Mrs. Carl Olson; St. Hilaire, H. A. Budahl.

LOST AND FOUND

A trucker who delivered some material to the Sleepy Eye telephone exchange was told to go to Olivia for his money. He did—drove to the county seat of an adjoining county, where nobody seemed to know anything about the transaction. Then the hapless driver learned that he had been referred to Olivia Cole, an official of the Sleepy Eye company.—A watch lost by a transient harvest hand in a field near Redwood Falls 25 years ago was recently found, in good condition. The owner, John Christianson, had died in the meantime.—State Representative Vernon Welch was lost for more than 24 hours on a hunting trip to Lost Lake.

In 1951 the total wholesale value of petroleum products consumed in the United States amount to $9,370,568,000.

Nearly 58 per cent of all the heat and mechanical energy produced in this country from 1800 through 1950 was derived from coal.

CONCRETE COOPERATES

. . . with your eyes and your brakes

Safe driving at night, when accident frequency is highest, depends on your being able to see far ahead and to stop safely and quickly if necessary. If you can't see, if you can't stop, you can't be safe.

Concrete cooperates with your eyes. Its light color reflects much more light than dark colored pavements. Concrete's grainy surface diffuses light, letting you see a maximum distance forward. You see better—and farther—on concrete.

Concrete cooperates with your brakes. Tires quickly grab and firmly hold to its gritty texture. You get uniformly high skid resistance—rain or shine—on concrete and you can make faster, smoother, safer stops.

Concrete highways are more economical, too. Their moderate first cost, plus low maintenance cost and long life, result in true low-annual-cost service.

Minnesota drivers should have the extra margin of safety concrete provides. Remember—it may be your life at stake next time.

LOOK WHERE I AM!

Kittens turn up in the oddest places. It's no wonder—for a kitten will try anything once. And sooner or later curiosity kills many a cat!

Some people have a penchant for trying anything once. Occasionally it leads them to the pinnacles of success. More often it leaves them in the depths of despair.

Neither curiosity nor daring is the highroad to happiness. Life's richest rewards are for those who choose paths tried and true . . . who seek goals which the greatest were bold to attain.

No surer paths have ever been trod than the "paths of righteousness" of which the Psalmist spoke. No higher goals were ever achieved than those Jesus Christ made his own.

The Church points the highroad to happiness for men who are willing to try Christ's Way . . . not once . . . BUT ALWAYS!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Highway Study to Be Continued in St. Paul Nov. 19th

Commission Sets Date for Testimony to Be Given by Highway Users

Highway users throughout Minnesota are invited to speak before the Minnesota Highway Study Commission on November 19 and 20. The public hearing will be held in the Auditorium of the State Office Building, St. Paul.

All persons concerned with highways, roads and streets are invited to attend. But the commission will meet the automobile associations, motor transport associations, bus associations, highway improvement and safety organizations, highway fuel industries, farm organizations and other trade groups to suggest and discuss means of equitable distribution of the tax load on highway users, as well as property owners.

At the recent public hearing for governmental officials many requests were made for additional highway funds. Some officials insisted that the highway users were not paying their fair share of highway costs, which will probably be disputed by highway users.

At the public hearing on November 19 and 20 highway users will be requested to explain how they would propose to finance the safe and modern roads which are needed. Many highway users are expected to attend and also discuss the condition of the roads and streets in various parts of the state.

Lutherans to Hold Clothing Drive

Campaign Nov. 8 to 28 for Benefit of World Relief

The Reverend Luthard O. Gjerde, executive director of the Lutheran Welfare Society of Minnesota, has announced that the annual Lutheran World Relief Thanksgiving clothing appeal will be held from Sunday, November 8, through Saturday, November 28.

Lutherans thruout the state have been asked to bring good used clothing to their churches, where it will be sorted and packed. Churches from outside the Twin Cities area are to ship their clothing to Lutheran World Relief, C/o Larson Transfer Company, 2010 21st Avenue South, Minneapolis.

Last year's national response to the Thanksgiving Clothing Appeal resulted in a gathering of more than 2,000,000 pounds. But the continued needs of 750,000 poorly housed Arab refugees, 5,000,00 uprooted expellees from East Europe, and 4,000,000 war-homeless in Korea makes it imperative that we give again in as great a measure this Thanksgiving. Lutherans of Minnesota are asked to co-operate with this drive and "Give Thanks by Sharing."

The United Nations' Food Council reports world food production outside Russia and China has been increasing faster than population.

Sheep Raising Is Called Profitable

Bulletin from "U" Farm Explores Possibilities

There's room for a profitable sheep business on many Minnesota farms, say two University of Minnesota livestock specialists.

In "Sheep on Minnesota Farms," a new Extension publication, W. E. Morris, Extension livestock specialist, and P. A. Anderson, associate professor of animal husbandry, point out that most farms can grow the excellent pastures and high-quality legume roughage necessary in producing high quality market sheep at low cost.

A farm flock of 25 to 100 purebred or grade breeding ewes can conveniently fit into most farming operations on the average quarter or half-section farm, Morris and Anderson say.

Except for fencing, sheep require little labor and only inexpensive equipment, buildings and shelters. Unlike other livestock, many Minnesota lambs reach top market condition on grass with little or no grain feeding.

The 20-page publication, Extension Bulletin 14, "Sheep on Minnesota Farms," is illustrated with 14 photographs and drawings showing modern sheep care practices. It also has illustrations showing how an owner can tell a sheep's age by examing its mouth.

Extension Bulletin 141 is available free at county extension offices.

Days and nights are of equal length throughout the world twice a year. This occurs at the vernal and autumnal equinoxes, about March 21 and September 21, respectively, when the sun is directly overhead at the Equator.

RANDEN . . .

By Mrs. E. Ostlund, Grygla

Mrs. Oscar Hagen spent several days of last week in the hospital in Thief River Falls receiving medical aid.

Mr. and Mrs. John Loven and Rodger of Gatzke visited at the Otto Hagen home Sunday.

Vernon Ostlund who is employed in the woods near Loman spent the weekend in his parental home here.

Judy Verden of Grygla spent the weekend with Ruthy Ostlund.

Those from here who attended the wedding of Miss Junia Von Wald and Frank Thompson in the Grygla Gospel Tabernacle in Grygla Friday evening were Mrs. Ezra Davy and Darlene, Mrs. Fred Ice and sons, Kenny and Ralph, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ostlund and Ruthy and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Foss. Mrs. Gordon Foss was one who was in charge of the gifts and also poured at the reception.

Mrs. Ben Anderson moved to Thief River Falls Monday.

Mrs. Ida Finley and Bill left for Tekanah, Nebraska by car Sunday evening to visit relatives down there. They plan to be gone about a week.

Ralph Ice of International Falls spent several days of last week trying his luck hunting deer with a bow and arrow. He said he had several good shots but was unsuccessful.

The item in my column stating that Mr. and Mrs. Tom Skime had moved to International Falls was untrue. Mr. and Mrs. Skime are still here. I had been misinformed and I'm sorry.

Clifton Davy of Grand Forks was a guest in the L. H. Davy home Monday night and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ostlund were dinner guests with Martha Williamson and sons near Wannaska Sunday.

Emil Ostlund is drilling a well for Theodore Anderson.

The Northwood Church held their fancywork sale at Norris Hagen's Saturday evening.

Bill Finley, who has been employed on the Bloomquist farm near Drayton returned to his parental home here Friday.

The Connecticut Lakes region at the northern tip of New Hampshire was independent from 1832 to 1835. Pioneers named their country the Indian Stream Republic. They spurned allegiance either to the United States or Canada until New Hampshire militia forced them to acknowledge state sovereignty.

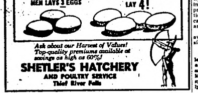
Biggest egg-laying test shows:
BOOSTER-FED HENS LAY 25% MORE EARLY EGGS!

Last fall the makers of Archer Poultry Booster Feeds sponsored the world's greatest poultry feeding test . . . involving hundreds of thousands of birds on midwestern farms.

Using figures from the feeding test, a comparison shows that where average U. S. poultry raisers were getting only three eggs from a hen between October 1 and January 1 . . . Booster feeders were getting four. That's a difference of 25% right during the season when eggs are worth the most.

That's why we say—don't gather eggs . . . harvest your eggs by joining our big FALL EGG HARVEST and feeding Archer Poultry Booster Feed, super-treated with Boostryn.



WHILE AN AVERAGE U.S. HEN LAYS 3 EGGS

She said someone must have been there during the night to help themselves to a few gallons and being in a hurry to get away, did not close the faucet tight. It is a 100-gallon barrel and she just had it filled up with fuel so it was quite a loss to her. As she tearfully explained, her means and income are very small and it'll be hard to scratch up enough to have it refilled so soon again. It is hard to believe that anyone can be so needy that they have to steal from a defenseless old lady.

River Project Tour of Inspection Held by District Officials

An inspection tour of the Red Lake-Clearwater river improvement project, now in its final stage, was made last Thursday by Colonel A. H. Bagnulo, in charge of the St. Paul office of the corps of army engineers, and more than 30 Northwestern Minnesota officials.

Sharing in the 200-mile trip, which covered the entire project were members of the conservancy district board; E. V. Willard of the state conservation department; officials of Pennington, Red Lake, Clearwater and Polk counties and of Grand Forks and Crookston; and representatives of the soil conservation service.

The tour started at Plummer Thursday morning, with a luncheon stop at Oklee and a dinner meeting in the evening at the Thief River Golf club, over which Robert J. Lund presided.

Colonel Bagnulo, the principal speaker, told of the drainage ditches which were constructed in the area in the early part of the century, and for which the natural river channels failed to supply adequate outlets.

He referred to the dry years of the 1930s when it was found profitable to cultivate areas which had previously been too wet, and when the problem of water supply became acute.

Colonel Bagnulo stated that following a survey by the corps of engineers, the present project was authorized by the 1944 flood control act, but that due to World War II construction did not get under way until the spring of 1948. Work on the Red Lake river was divided into seven separate contracts and on the Clearwater into four contracts.

The project, he said, involved the excavation of about 7,000,000 cubic yards of material, construction of two new bridges over the Clearwater river and the modification of three others, modification of the outlet structure at Red Lake and the raising of seven miles of Highway 1 west of the lake. The total cost of the project to the federal government will approximate $2,750,000.

He praised local officials who had worked diligently to get the work started, and also commended the Red Lake Indians for their cooperation, without which the project could not have been realized.

Colonel Bagnulo stated that that the new channels will carry a higher flow of water than could be carried by the rivers in their natural state, so that there will be less flooding from high flows. Another effect, he said, will be the release of water from Red Lake during drouth periods.

He closed by praising members of the Red Lake drainage and conservancy district board for its excellent leadership.

E. V. Willard also spoke briefly, giving an account of the early history of drainage developments in the area, dating back 40 years. H. J. Halverson and Don Lawrence of the soil conservation service explained the work done to date on lateral drainage leading into the two rivers. Ole O. Melby, chairman of the conservancy district board, spoke in behalf of the board.

A general discussion followed the program.

County Ditch 33 Debated Again at Co. Board Session

Budget for Pennington Co. Extension Service Approved November 3

Altho what was scheduled as a final hearing on the matter was held two months ago, delegations in favor of and opposed to the projected improvement of County Ditch 33 continued their argument at a meeting of the Pennington county board November 3, when a decision on the matter was slated to be reached. The ditch is located on the line between North and Silverton townships.

Following a lengthy discussion, the board referred the project back to the engineer with instructions to plan the ditch to run from the outlet into Red Lake river north to a point 200 feet north of Highway 1. The opinion was expressed that the remainder of the present ditch would be adequate, given necessary maintenance work.

The board set Friday, December 11, as the date of the annual forfeited tax sale. To be offered are only 11 new parcels, in addition to some left from previous sales.

Also approved was the budget covering the operation of the Pennington county extension service in 1954. Of the total amount of $11,790, the state and federal governments will supply $7,225, leaving a local contribution of $4,565, a rise of about $55 compared to the 1952 levy.

The board also acted to add 11 miles of roads to the county aid system, including short sections in six different townships.

Dake W. Ayers and Eva Mae Armstrong Wed

The First Presbyterian church at Euclid Saturday evening was the scene of the wedding of Miss Eva Mae Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Armstrong, and Dake W. Ayers, son of Mrs. Sadie Ayers, both of rural Thief River Falls. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. James Witherspoon before an altar graced with bouquets of fall-colored 'mums and lighted tapers in candelabra.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. James Witherspoon played "Because" and, as the couple knelt, "The Lord's Prayer". Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a strapless gown of white slipper satin with long train. With it she wore a jacket of brocaded satin, designed with long fitted sleeves closed at the wrist with tiny buttons, peter pan collar, and long scalloped tulle. Her veil of illusion net was held in place by a cap of white slipper satin trimmed with seed pearls, and she carried pink roses and white carnations on a white Bible, a gift from the groom. The traditional "something old, new, borrowed, and blue" was carried out in the bride's attire.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Doris Armstrong, who wore a gown of bronze taffeta with bouffant overskirt of net, strapless bodice, and net stole. She carried a crescent bouquet of bronze and yellow 'mums and wore matching flowers in her hair. The bride's gown was made by her aunt, Miss Emma Armstrong of Grand Forks, and the bridesmaid's gown was her own creation. As a gift from the bride, Miss Armstrong received a gold compact.

Esther Peterson of Minneapolis, niece of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a mint green formal and carried a lace basket filled with fall flowers. Ronald Armstrong, brother of the bride, served as ring bearer and wore a white suit with red carnation boutonniere. He carried the rings on a heart-shaped pillow of white satin edged with wide lace ruffle. Eldon Larson, friend of the groom was best man, and ushers were Donald Armstrong, brother of the bride, and Wayne Wakefield of Albert Lea, nephew of the groom. All the men of the bridal party wore business suits with white carnation boutonnieres and the best man wore a pair of gold cuff links, his gift from the groom. The ushers were presented with tie clasps as gifts from the groom.

For the wedding of her daughter, Mrs. Armstrong chose a dark green dress with black accessories, and the groom's mother was dressed in black, with matching accessories. A corsage of pink carnations and white carnations accented each costume.

The 150 wedding guests were entertained by the bride's parents at a reception in the church parlors. The wedding cake, baked by Mrs. Herman Berg of Grand Forks, friend of the bride, was served from an heirloom cake stand belonging to the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Blanche Armstrong. The cake was cut by Mrs. Eldon Larson, and Mrs. Paul Furuseth, sister of the groom, poured. Presiding at the gift table were Jeanie Nelson and Ruby Conklin, and Janice Armstrong, sister of the bride, had charge of the guest book.

For their wedding trip to southern Minnesota, the bride was attired in a raspberry colored suit, with the corsage from her bridal bouquet, and black accessories. The couple will return Nov. 12 to make their home on the groom's farm near Thief River Falls. The groom is also an insurance adjuster for the Farmers Union, and the bride has been employed as stenographer at the Thief River Grocery.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Jack Armstrong and family, Shevlin; Miss Dorothy Ballek, also of Shevlin; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Peterson and family, Minneapolis; Wayne Wakefield, Albert Lea; Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Althoff and family, Austin, Minn.; Eldred Ayers, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Zimmerman and family, Kelsey, Alberta; Mrs. Clarence Groove, Daysland, Alberta; as well as a large number of relatives and friends from Red Lake Falls, Euclid, Angus, Crookston, and Grand Forks.

Unit Adopts Name of Northern Blood Bank

At a meeting Friday, November 6, the executive board of the newly organized blood bank selected "Northern Blood Bank association" as the official name of the organization, E. A. Hamerski, president, stated this week.

Under the constitution of the association, which is a nonprofit group, any man or woman, between the ages of 18 and 60, in good health and not afflicted with any of certain infectious blood diseases, is eligible for membership.

The purpose of the association will be to provide blood and blood plasma for its members, their husbands or wives, their children under 18 years and their parents and grandparents, as listed on their pledge cards, over 60 years of age. In other words, one person in a family who is a member will cover the possible blood needs of his listed dependents.

It is intended to place the association in operation as soon as 750 members have been enrolled or on January 1, 1954, whichever is sooner. Persons enrolling after January 1, 1954, will be required to wait for a period of 30 days after enrollment as a member before benefits will apply. Members of the association will be eligible for the following benefits:

1. No charge shall be made to members and their listed dependents for blood other than the laboratory processing and transfusion fee.

2. Neither members or their listed dependents shall be required to locate blood replacement donors.

3. Once admitted, a member cannot be disqualified for medical reasons.

4. The aforementioned benefits shall be available in any hospital where the member or his listed dependents may be hospitalized.

A membership fee of $1.00 will be charged in order to assist in defraying organization and overhead expenses of the association.

As many as possible of service clubs, fraternal organizations, civic and farm groups and similar organizations in the surrounding area and in Thief River Falls are being contacted in an effort to obtain assistance from such groups in conducting membership drives within their own groups.

It is hoped these plans will be completed soon so that the applications for membership in the association may be accepted in the very near future. Plans also are being made to conduct a campaign to contact any persons who may not be members or may not be associated with any of the groups being contacted.

The executive board of the Northern Blood Bank association calls attention to the fact that application for membership does not constitute membership in the association. Actual membership is dependent on being properly typed for blood, contributing blood as required and observance of the constitution and by-laws of the association.

20th Anniversary of Production Credit Assn. Noted Tuesday

Four hundred members of the Thief River Falls Production Credit association and their ladies attended the 20th annual meeting of the agency Tuesday afternoon in St. Bernard's dining hall. The meeting, over which D. E. Ostby of Plummer, president, presided, was preceded by an excellent turkey dinner.

Honored guests included Louis A. Nelson, F. D. Voth and O. H. Nohre of Holt, the original incorporators of the association together with the late F. S. Erdmann and S. E. Hunt, now of Oregon. The charter members lit the candles on a birthday cake prepared for the occasion.

Other guests included Stuart McLeod, first fieldman; Chris Anton, first borrower; Col. R. M. Douglas of Anoka, former county agent here. W. E. Dahlquist; George Susens, president of the Production Credit Corp. of St. Paul; and W. M. Russell, PCC fieldman.

The meeting was featured by the delivery to Mr. Susens of a check for $5,000, representing the final payment on the association's remaining indebtedness to the Production Credit Corp. The local group is now entirely owned by its stockholders, and Mr. Susens complimented the members on their steady progress.

In the annual election, Adolph Erickson of Grygla was reelected to the board for a three-year term.

Following a report for the board by E. H. Pomerenke, Robert J. Lund, who has served as secretary-manager of the association during the entire 20 years of its existence, submitted the operations report.

Lund briefly surveyed figures covering the 20-year period, stating that $5,741,000 in loans had been made or renewed, with actual and estimated losses of only $124; that members now total 565; accumulated earnings are $81,205; and that at one time, in 1935, the association had borrowed $81,000 in government capital.

For the past fiscal year ending September 30, Lund reported, the association had a total member income of $39,804, and total expenses of $33,718, including $15,654 in interest expense and $18,064 in operating expense, leaving a net income of $6,211.

The association, as of September 30, had total assets of $741,384; $591,885 in loans to members and $115,341 in government bonds. Liabilities amounted to $600,704, including $591,000 borrowed from the Federal Intermediate Credit bank; leaving total earnings and member capital of $135,680.

Airline's Future Topic at G. Forks

Ten Cities Represented at Meeting on Tuesday

A group of Thief River Falls city officials and businessmen met Tuesday in Grand Forks with representatives of nine other cities served by North Central Airlines to confer with Frank Buttomer, vice president of the system regarding future operation of the line.

The lines do not want to give up this territory, Bottomer explained to about 30 representatives of the cities, but one of three things must happen, he said. Either there must be larger subsidies, more passenger income or the service must be abolished.

Pointing out that the temporary certificate would expire next April, Bottomer said his company expected to ask for a renewal for three or five years on the grounds that the two-year certificate was not a sufficient test. He asked help of the cities serving in meeting this problem, saying they would have to face the actual facts of the operation.

R. A. Wurst, city attorney of Thief River Falls, suggested that the schedules were wrong and that it took two nights in the Twin Cities to do a day's business by air travel. He suggested a commuter service.

Various suggestions were made but Bottomer said it takes $1.10 a mile to fly a commercial plane with the overhead expense, although actual operating costs were 60 cents a mile. However, he said, the cost had to be met if service is maintained.

Pat Culkins Gets Appointment as Co. PMA Manager

Had Served Recently as District Fieldman; Farmed Here 30 Years

Oscar J. House, chairman of the Pennington county PMA committee, announced today that confirmation had been received of the appointment of Patrick W. Culkins as office manager of the Pennington County PMA office. The state PMA committee confirmed the appointment, which is to take effect immediately.

Mr. Culkins is well known to the farmers of this county, having served on the county PMA committees from 1942 to 1951, when he left to become a district fieldman for the Production and Marketing Administration. In his capacity as fieldman he supervised the work of the PMA offices in ten Minnesota counties. In addition to county committeeman in Pennington county, Mr. Culkins has also worked as federal crop insurance adjuster, farm reporter, and community committeeman.

He has also served as treasurer of his local school board for the past 14 years, and has been a director of the local Farmers Co-op elevator for 9 years. He has served two 3-year terms as a member of the Farmers Home Administration loan committee, and was previously a member of the local selective service board.

"We feel that Mr. Culkins' close contact with farmers and farm programs since 1936 makes him especially well qualified for the position of PMA office manager," Mr. Houske said. "Also having operated his own farm in this county for the past 30 years he is familiar with the farming problems of the area."

I have heard a lot about Grade A milk production since I began to work for you. That's a step toward producing the highest possible quality milk. I would not advice all dairymen to switch from selling fluid milk to Grade A fluid milk. Here are a few questions you should answer for yourself first.

1. Are you going to have a market for Grade A milk?

a. It seems as though there will be markets available in Thief River Falls, but contact these markets and make it known to them that you wish to sell Grade A milk.

2. Do you have enough healthy producing cows to make the operation profitable?

a. There will be some expense in "changing over" to Grade A milk production.

b. The cost of operation after installation of Grade A equipment may be higher, but I believe the tendency would be for better management, thereby cutting expenses.

3. Do you have housing for your dairy herd that meets prescribed standards?

a. Loose housing or stanchion type barns fit these specifications.

b. Clean, well ventilated, well lighted barns are needed.

4. Do you have adequate milk house?

a. The milk house must be of specific size depending upon the quantity of milk produced each day.

b. The milk house should have hot and cold water piped in.

c. The milk house must have adequate milk cooling equipment and equipment for cleaning utensils.

5. What kind of water do you have?

a. Is the water sanitary? Is it easily accessible? Do you have adequate amount for all needs?

If your farm isn't equipped with these necessities and you can not supply them, you should wait until you can before thinking about converting to Grade A milk production.

The field man for your local milk plant should inspect the farm to decide if compliance with Grade A requirements is possible. When he has determined that enough farms appear to comply, to assume his plant of enough milk for year around needs, he should arrange for official inspection. Once your farm does comply to the Grade A requirements they must stay there, because the plant inspector and the state inspector want only the highest quality milk sold as Grade A.

Did I make it sound to tough to convert to Grade A? I don't want to leave that impression, because it is not hard at all. And usually the expense involved is not very great. I want you to be conscious of the fact that there are many state laws you must satisfy. In other words, know what you are doing before you start.

I have information in the office about the regulations you must meet when switching to Grade A milk production.

Do it right the first time and you won't do it twice.

Company F News Items

Company F was visited at this week's meeting by Capt. Cronk and Sgt. Dowd of the Regular Army, and Capt. Lang, battalion intelligence officer from Crookston's Co. G.

Monday's two classes were on map reading and camouflage and concealment. Lt. Miller gave the class on map reading which was concerned mainly with finding location and direction. He also explained the army's map grid system and its uses. Pfc. Sculthorpe then showed a motion picture on map reading. There was also a picture on camouflage and concealment, after which Sgt. Swanson explained the importance of camouflage and concealment to the safety of the individual as well as to the unit.

Two more new recruits joined this week, but the Company is still one below its quota since it lost one of its members when his time expired.

Pvt. Marv Jorde attended last Saturday's Minnesota - Indiana football game as a guest of the National Guard as a result of having done a good job of recruiting new members. In his absence Pvt. Les Sabo took over his disc jockey program over KTRF.

Pvt. Benton Hible was chosen Soldier of the Week by the officers of Co. F and by Capt. Cronk and Sgt. Dowd.

Pvt. E 1 Uggerud, Robert Swanson, and Tilmen were promoted to Pvt. E 2.

Dr. O. F. Mellby Is Taken by Death Thursday, Age 77

Clearbrook; Erling Mellby of Long Prairie; and Mrs. Richard F. Anderson (Jean) of Los Angeles.

Also surviving are a brother, Dr. Carl Mellby, of St. Olaf college, Northfield, and a sister, Mrs. Marie Hornlund, also of Northfield. Twelve grandchildren also survive.

Dr. Mellby served the community in such a variety of ways that it is dificult to enumerate them. He was one of four doctors who built the Physicians Hospital in 1916, which later became known as Mercy Hospital and is now a part of Northwestern Hospital, which he served as the first chief of the medical staff.

Active from his early years in the campaign against tuberculosis, he played an active part in the establishment in 1916 of Oakland Park sanatorium in this city, and at the time of his death was president of the board of commissioners, having held that position since 1918, 35 years.

He served for nine years as a member of the Minnesota state board of health during the administrations of Governors J. A. O. Preus and Theodore Christianson. All during his residence here, he served the community as either health officer or city physician, holding both positions at the time of his death.

Drafted as a candidate for the local board of education in 1910, he was elected and served continuously until 1921, being president of the board the last three years of his term.

He was the oldest member of the Civic and Commerce association and its predecessor groups, the Commercial club and Antlers club, dating his membership back to 1907. Possessed of strong musical inclinations, he was for many years a member of the Brage Chorus.

Religious affairs played a prominent role in Dr. Mellby's life. A faithful parishioner of Trinity church, he had served it in many capacities, and at the time of his death was chairman of the board of deacons. He served in 1911 as a member of the union committee that worked out details in connection with the merger of three local Lutherans to form Trinity church and to affiliate with the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, now the Evangelical Lutheran Church.

He was president for three years of the Northern Minnesota Lutheran Brotherhood, and was active for some years in Boy Scout work. Until a few years ago, he was an ardent sportsman and did a good deal of hunting and fishing. He was a charter member of the Thief River Golf club.

He was a life member of the Minesota State Medical association, and of the Minnesota Public Health association, as well as a member of the Red River Valley and Northern Minnesota Medical societies. He also served as Soo Line surgeon here. He was a longtime member of the local Rotary club.

Possessed of a genial disposition and a love of companionship, Dr. Mellby attracted a wide circle of intimate friends, who join in mourning his passing.

A rare tribute was paid to Dr. Mellby in 1947 when he was honored by his host of friends at a community-wide recognition affair in observance of his 40 years of active practice here. Dr. James L. Morrill, president of the University of Minnesota, served as guest speaker on the program that was presented.

Active pallbearers at the services Monday were Dr. A. E. Jacobson, Robert J. Lund, Kalmer Gatby, Clifford Hedin, Lawrence Bjorkman and Philip Kays.

Honorary pallbearers included Dr. J. A. Aasgaard, Dr. Baldwin Borreson, Dr. G. W. Booren, W. E. Dahlquist, C. Dave Gustafson, N. A. Holen, Judge Paul A. Lundgren, Roy Oen, Andy Williamson, H. A. Baumann, L. H. Larson and Ole Ekeren.

County Fair Assn. Reelects Three to Board Thursday side gate, $4,799.15 from grandstand, and $3,650.04 from concessions, midway and space rentals. Among non-operating revenue items were $1,815.52 in state aid for premiums, $2,354.19 in county aid and $416.65 in miscellaneous receipts.

Major disbursements included $2,400 for premiums; entertainment, music and race purses, $6,529.46; repairs and replacements, $1,816.57; and insurance, $839.43.

Hardisty stated that the board had considered setting the dates of the 1954 fair ahead about two weeks as a means of avoiding a conflict with the harvest season, and that the dates of July 11 to 15 were being considered, with the local fair in a circuit that would include the fairs at Ada and Hallock. These dates were later approved by the board.

Secretary Roche reported on efforts being made to have shares of stock in the society held in the names of persons now deceased or moved away from this community turned in for cancellation, so that they can be sold to local residents.

Roche pointed out that with more than 400 shares of stock outstanding, it is impossible to get a two-thirds vote to authorize an increase in the present debt limit of $10,000, which he said would be necessary if a new grandstand or other major improvement is to be carried out.

Address on Dental Health Is Given at Joint PTA Session

Dr. John Peterson Cites Benefit of Fluoridation of City's Water Supply

A representative group attended the joint PTA meeting of the Washington, Knox, and Northrop schools on Monday evening at the high school auditorium.

The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. John Peterson of the dental division of the Minnesota department of health, who spoke on child dental care and showed slides illustrating the results of neglecting the care of baby teeth. Dr. Peterson said that decay is caused by too many sweets in the diet and by the failure to properly brush the teeth after every time of eating. Most decay takes place within 30 minutes, therefore teeth should be brushed directly after eating.

Fluoridation of the city water supply was also discussed by Dr. Peterson. He stated that the benefits of fluoridation extend throughout life and decreases the rate of decay. It was begun in the Thief River Falls water supply in September, 1951 and because of this in two years the city can expect a 25% reduction in tooth decay. The cost of fluorination equals the cost of a candy bar per person per year —10c or less.

There are now 32 communities in Minnesota and 789 in the United States, with 18,000,000 people drinking fluoridated water.

Brief reports were given by delegates from the local PTA groups who attended the Congress of Parents and Teachers in Minneapolis October 26-28. Mrs. Melville Simon reported on the lectures at the meetings.

Rev. Emery Larson discussed the various workshops and panels held at the PTA Congress. He stated that the general theme of the PTA convention was the keen interest in problems of the state and the world at large.

D. J. Robinson described the possibilities in PTA program material offered at the convention.

Devotions were led by Rev. Emery Larson, and musical numbers were supplied by the Mothers' Club of Trinity Lutheran Church, the Kitchen Band of Washington School, and Gail Brown sang a vocal solo accompanied by Janet Nelson.

Lunch was served in the school cafeteria by the 6th grade mothers of Washington and Northrop schools and the 5th grade mothers of Knox school.

Co. Board Confers on Court House in Moorhead Monday

Inspects Materials and Discusses Final Plans with Architect Foss

The full Pennington county board and Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr spent Monday in Moorhead conferring with M. O. Foss, architect in charge of plans for the new court house here.

The board checked final details of the plans and alternates, and discussed heating, electrical and plumbing details with Max Hughes, Fargo engineer. Members also inspected the new Clay county court house now under construction, and which also was designed by the Foss company. The group also examined materials for the local project.

Board members indicated that all details are expected to be completed early enough to permit the issuance of a call for bids late in January, and made preliminary arrangements for the form of the call.

Careful, Careful, Careful

Deer hunting, which is a hazardous sport even under the most favorable conditions, will be doubly dangerous this year unless we get a snowfall before the season opens on Saturday morning at sunrise.

From all reports, indications are that the greatest concentration of hunters will be in the Mud Lake refuge area. A portion of the refuge will be open to deer hunting on Saturday, Sunday(and Monday, and it's sure that the hunters will avail themselves of the opportunity of hunting the refuge. With the large number of hunters that will be "driving" the thickets and rushes in the refuge, extra caution in shooting and gun-handling is in order. And, too, the hunters should be on the alert for the moose, of which the refuge contains a goodly number. Moose of course are protected.

Last year, it will be recalled, the Mud Lake area had a deer hunting fatality, due to careless gun handling. We hope that the boys are extra careful this year.

As an extra precautionary measure we will issue a warning to hunters who expect to hunt the ditch 200 territory south-west of the refuge. We hear that the Soo Line's three musketeers — Kenny Halldin, Benny Hamre, and Phil LeGault —will be in that area. That's warning enough.

Their Contribution

Last week, when we presented kudos to the Prowler football squad, and their coaches, for their accomplishment this season in winning the district and regional titles, we forgot to mention the invaluable contribution that the "farm boys" made this year. It is a certainty that if it hadn't been for the play of such sturdy boys as Ray Berg, Dale Klungness, Dick Kruse, Dick Burtness, Lorenz Anton, Cliff Swanson, Dick Olson, Frank Mead, Andy Joppru, and Chester Dyrud, the Prowlers would not have been able to post an undefeated season in district and regional competition. Coach Ralph Skjod is agreed that if the Prowlers are to continue successful in football, the "farm boys" will play a vital role in that success.

In connection with the farm boys on the Prowler football squad this past year, we must mention the contribution that the local Rotarians made in keeping these boys on the squad. The Rotarians arranged a car-pool whereby these farm boys, who usually travel to and from school by bus, could attend the practice sessions and then be driven home after the practice drills. The boys and the coaches appreciate the efforts that the Rotarians made.

It is reported that the Rotary is completing arrangements for the Prowler squad to attend the Minnesota vs. Wisconsin football game in Minneapolis on Nov. 21st.

Hockey Notes

According to a tentative schedule that has been drawn up, the senior hockey Thieves are slated to begin their Northwest league play on Dec. 27th, with the league champion Warroad Lakers playing here.

Coach Paul Bedard states the make-up of the local club is just about complete and that the local management has signed three Canadian "imports", namely, Church Russell, Ron Castelane, and Bill Juzda. Russell and Castelane, both of whom are forwards, are well known to local fans, having been members of the Thieves last season. Juzda, a defenseman, is highly rated, and he has had "big league" experience. Juzda is only a couple of years out of the National Hockey league, having played with the New York Rangers and Toronto Maple Leafs.

A problem confronting the Thieves management is the securing of a capable goalie. Jack McGill, who ably filled the nets last year, still lives in Detroit Lakes and would be available for week-end games. Jack states that the middle-of-the-week trip up here is too much of hardship. Myles Thorson, a former Prowler hockey captain and goalie, is in town, but he is troubled by an injured right arm and it is doubtful when he will be ready for league play.

The local club received an invitation from North Dakota officials to have a workout, next Monday evening, on the Sioux' new artificial ice rink. Such players as Paul Bedard, Bud Brossoit, Swede Lund, Tony Dorn, Darryl Lund, Mouse Efteland, and Shorty Perkins will probably avail themselves of the offer.

Area Supervisor Cites Peril in Dry Status of Woods

Due to prolonged dry weather conditions, the woods and meadows are extremely dangerous and fires will start very readily, says Dick Willems of Warroad, area supervisor. "Unless we get snow or rain," he states, "we are asking all deer hunters and trappers not to build any open camp fires and not to smoke in dangerous places. If fires get started it may be necessary to close the Beltrami Island state forest to the public.

"All hunters are asked to clean up their tin cans, empty cartons and other refuse before leaving their hunting camp. All refuse should be buried.

"Hunters will be required to move all trailer houses and other buildings from state lands immediately after hunting season. All buildings left on state lands in violation of the law will be dismantled or otherwise legally removed or disposed of."

Reorganization of State Schools Lags, Survey Group Says

The Minnesota Institute of Governmental Research in a report made public this week pointed out that progress in eliminating small, wasteful and inadequate school districts under the county school survey act during the past six years has been slow and spotty.

Biggest part of the school reorganization job still is to be done, the report said. The 1953 Legislature extended the county school survey law another two years, offering another opportunity to the local school officials to solve their school reorganization problem by their own initiative.

"The reduction in school districts in the six years has amounted to only 30%, from 7,605 districts to 5,298," a summary of the report issued by the institute said. "Five counties have reduced their school districts by 80% and seven by over 70%. On the other hand, twelve counties have done little (less than 5%) or nothing in revamping their local school system. There are still twelve counties with over 100 school districts, indicating that the biggest part of the school reorganization job is still to be done."

Many states have solved their local school problem, the summary says. "A few states, with Minnesota are in the process of doing so," it continues. "Twenty-two states have less than five hundred school units. Their record of accomplishment during recent years far exceeds the record of Minnesota. This is especially true of Kansas, Illinois and Washington. Minnesota needs to adopt some of the legislation of other states in respect to school organization."

With reference to school costs and organization in Minnesota, the institute's summary of its report had this to say.

"Taxpayers in Minnesota have a real grievance over excessive educational costs. We rank fourteenth highest in per pupil costs in the nation and twenty-fifth in per capita income or ability to support education. High teacher salaries are not a factor in our high school costs as we are paying approximately the average of the 48 states. Our high costs are due to the excessive costs of over 2700 small one room schools enrolling less than twenty-five pupils. There are 2,726 ungraded schools operating with under 25 pupils or 81.8% of the total. In fact, there are 2,254 schools with 19 or fewer pupils, 1,426 with fourteen or less, 506 with ten or less, and 20 with less than five pupils.

"This means that we are wasting one-half or quarter of the services of hundreds of teachers. This is difficult to justify in light of the serious teacher shortage now prevailing in the state. Costs for these small schools are double or triple normal sized schools. This data shows the urgent need of action.

"The logical solution of this problem is consolidation of such districts in a larger community school district located in a natural trade area around a city or village.

"The high school problem is equally serious from an organization point of view. Most of the area of the state is not included in a high school district. The high schools we have are not well located and there is a large amount of overlapping and thus duplication of effort in those we have. Over 60% of the high schools have less than 300 pupils, thus resulting in a poor educational offering. This is unfair to children in the rural areas. The high school problem is easily solved by the adoption of the community school district.

"The state is now paying over 50% of the costs in fifty-six counties and is even paying more than local taxpayers in twelve counties. Thus, the legislature is under direct obligation to assure taxpayers that school funds are not wasted by a local school type of organization that has over 2700 undersized ungraded elementary schools and over three hundred and twenty-two high schools with less than three hundred pupils."

The report says the community or trading area type of school district has been adopted in nearly all the states and experience has shown its value, particularly in improving rural education. Under this plan, adds the report: rural children will be given the same quality of education as urban boys and girls.

Marshall Co. Gets Public Health Nurse

Board Appoints Mrs. Luella Vraa to Post

Mrs. Luella Vraa, Argyle, was awarded a contract to serve as Marshall county public health nurse, starting January 2, 1954, by the county board of commissioners in session in Warren November 3.

Mrs. Vraa is presently serving as a nurse at the Warren hospital. The board also approved a request that she spend two weeks with the Polk county health nurse giving her a refresher course for the local position. She will succeed Mrs. Olive Wadsworth who has served temporarily in the ringworm detection program.

Commissioners also adopted a resolution requesting the Minnesota conservation department to remove beaver and beaver dams from ditches and streams bordering state conservation lands as well as from all other ditches, waterways and streams before the winter freeze-up. The beaver dams will obstruct the flow of water during the spring break-up and will cause much flooding.

Approval was also made of the new construction on the Great Eastern highway, work on which has been completed by Oscar Schenkey, Middle River contractor. The commissioners requested the state highway commissioner to approve the project and issue final payments.

Seeking Bids on Swimming Pool in UND Fieldhouse

Bids for completion of the swimming pool in the University of North Dakota fieldhouse-gymnasium at Grand Forks will be called at once under authorization of the North Dakota state board of higher education.

There is available $80,000 for the work alloted by the North Dakota legislature several years ago. It was hoped that costs would decline in order that the pool could be finished with the money appropriated.

The pool was "roughed in" when the mammouth structure was constructed several years ago.

America's use of coal, measured in tons, is greater than any other commodity we produce.

Coal produced in 1952 by U. S. mines would fill New Yorks' famed Empire State Building, from top to bottom, 450 times.

Soo Line Working on Warren Rail Crossing Job

A Soo line crew of six men is at work installing automatic switching equipment where the Soo crosses the Great Northern tracks in Warren, says the Warren Sheaf. R. J. Heinle is the foreman of the project which will cost from $20,000 to $30,000 when completed.

The new equipment will make it unnecessary for the depot agent to be at the switch house each time a Soo train crosses the Great Northern tracks. It will take more than two more months to complete the work.

So far 10 carloads of materials have arrived carying the automatic switching equipment. When in operation the equipment will make it impossible for a second train to proceed if the crossing is occupied by another train.

COUNTRY DOCTOR, DOC MELLBY

Thief River Falls lost a good citizen when Dr. Oscar Mellby passed on to his reward. During the nearly half a century of his residence here he had contributed in many ways to the progress and well-being of the community. While in recent years his activity was necessarily curtailed, over a long period of time he actively participated and provided sound leadership in many fields of public and civic service.

In his own profession as practicing physician and surgeon he probably made his most notable contribution to the community. To those who remember him in his more active years he was Mr. Country Doctor, symbolizing the highest standards of his profession in ministering to the needs of a pioneer settlement during the horse and buggy days of its development. His was an around-the-clock service, available to all who sought it. And along with the medicine that he prescribed went the healing influence of a cheerful, sympathetic and thoroughly unselfish friend.

Dr. Mellby enjoyed living. He liked his work and did not neglect it. He did not shirk the serious responsibilities of life. But he knew how to relax too and enjoy himself. Life was a rich experience for him. As he grew old in years he remained young in spirit. We are sure there were disappointments in his life but there was no bitterness.

Our community is a better community because Doc Mellby lived here.

WISCONSIN POINTS THE WAY

A report out of Madison, Wisconsin, last week stated that the legislature now in special session, probably will enact into law a compulsory butter standards and grading program. The bill being considered would prohibit the sale of low grade butter for table use. As introduced it defines low grade butter as 90 score or less but it is anticipated that this will be reduced to 89. "Farm organizations are united in support of the measure as one that might prop the faltering butter market" the report states.

Wisconsin, although tops as a dairy state, cannot hope to solve the surplus problem alone. To be reasonably effective such a program would have to be nation-wide in its scope. That could be achieved only by federal regulation or by controls adopted voluntarily by the industry itself. The action that now may be taken by our neighboring state has value mainly as a guide for nation-wide action by the industry.

The Wisconsin proposal is an important first step in a realistic approach to the problem. Outlawing low grade butter for table use would not impose difficult restrictions on production areas such as ours where a quality product is already being manufactured. But taking the low grade butter off the market would serve the dual purpose of removing the small margin of overproduction that is making price supports necessary and it also would encourage sales by eliminating the sub-standard product that is not fit for human consumption.

MID TEARS AND LAUGHTER

It is time once again to pass out the congratulations and the condolences to those who have participated as candidates in an election. We will follow the usual procedure of congratulating those who won but we are far from certain that this is as it should be. From our observation we are satisfied that those who did not win are the most fortunate. We are sure however that they would not agree with us.

The New Year will bring us a city administration that will be made up largely of new and inexperienced officials. Only two of the old members will remain on the council. That is not necessarily bad. We have survived such drastic changes before and no doubt we will survive this one. The new members will get experience fast. They may derive comfort from the knowledge that most of the voters are on their side, hoping they will turn in a satisfactory performance. A few blunders will be accepted sympathetically.

And so, in behalf of the community, thanks to those who have served and whose service now comes to an end. They have directed the affairs of the city through an extremely difficult period. And best wishes to those who now will assume the responsibility for the future direction of those affairs. For them we bespeak the cooperation of all good citizens.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

We were 35 years younger back in 1918 when the rumors reached us that the war was ending. The information broke suddenly and with sufficient surprise to evoke considerable doubt. The rumor was soon established as a fact however and there was spontaneous celebrating.

There was good reason for the joy. We had won the war and that in itself justified a celebration. But this was no ordinary war that we had won. This was a war that would end all wars. Never again would the world be subjected to such a slaughter of human lives and such a destruction of property. The world had learned its lesson and had had its last fling. From now on there would be an enduring peace.

That Armistice day of 1918 and those of some following years were great holidays and properly so. Now Armistice Day is merely another milepost in a series of world developments.

We know now that the world did not learn the lesson of World War I well enough. Our present concern is whether the world has learned the lesson of World War II well enough.

We have made some progress toward establishing a world authority that might be able to maintain peace. The present prospect is not entirely hopeless. We have made a sounder approach to securing peace now than we did following World War I.

We are making that approach in a spirit of desperation. We know that this time it must be an all-out effort. We have reason to believe that a third lesson may bring us the kind of peace we do not want—the peace of death.

Armistice Day, mainly because it reminds us of our errors, is a day that should not be forgotten.

BE SURE BEFORE YOU SHOOT

Deer hunting starts Saturday and it is estimated that 165,000 hunters will go forth into the fields and forests in search of big game. More than a third of those who buy a license will be successful, the experts tell us. They predict a big harvest, providing the weather man does his bit. For most of the hunters it will be a great outing.

For a few it will be a tragic experience. Deer hunting is dangerous. With so numerous an army of hunters, armed with high powered rifles, roaming about, a few are going to get hurt. There will be accidents. Some of them probably will be unavoidable.

Much of the hunting will be done in areas that are well settled, subjecting a large number of people who are not hunters to the hunting season hazards. Those who hunt in these areas have an additional responsibility of caution and courtesy to observe. The farmers whose lands are hunted have rights. The good sportsman respects those rights.

To be a good sportsman is to be both careful and considerate. There are certain fundamental rules of safety that all good sportsmen observe. Caution and courtesy will reduce the danger of hunting. Be sure before you shoot.

The heavy death toll of last week's east coast storm reminds us that this is the season when we should be prepared for weather at its worst. Winter can strike suddenly and disastrously at any time now. According to the law of averages we can expect some rough going. Be prepared.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

The Questions They Ask

Some questions that children ask seem pretty silly. "Why is a bird's nest?" is the sort of question that might dumbfound the most cooperative parent. It is almost exasperating; it doesn't even seem sensible. But questions of this sort, as well as those which seem more sensible, are asked because the child wants to know about something. He may not even know enough about the subject to ask a question that sounds reasonable, but his only means of information is another person, generally an adult, and most often one of his parents.

His parents know so many things which he does not know; until he learns to read, asking questions is his method of gaining new knowledge. The adult, because of past experience and past learning, knows about bird nests; the child is not yet able to ask about them in a conventional way. When he has more information, he will think and talk in a more mature way.

A question like "Why is a bird's nest?" probably means "What is that thing? Is it a bird's nest? Why is it up there instead of somewhere else? In other words, the single question the child asks really represents a number of questions which he would like to ask but doesn't know how to ask. It is up to the adult to interpret, and answer, the child's request for information.

Even more straightforward, seemingly simple questions may involve the same problem. A child asks "What makes an engine move?" He is not concerned with a detailed explanation. He needs a simplified, direct answer to meet his level of understanding and his degree of curiosity. A three-year-old is not even able to keep his attention on a long or complicated explanation; perhaps it will be enough to say in response "It has a motor, and gasoline makes the motor work."

If he is still curious, he will ask more questions. Each question asked needs to be interpreted and answered at the level of the child. It will help the parent in answering if he stops and thinks to himself, "Now exactly what does Jimmy want to know?" before formulating his reply.

YOU CAN
ON CONCRETE

Every driver occasionally has to make sudden stops. After a few experiences on various types of pavement he discovers he can stop quicker on concrete. Tests such as one conducted by the Checker Cab Company of Milwaukee confirm this.

Quicker stops are possible on concrete because its gritty surface, wet or dry, gives your tires better traction. You stop fast—and without skidding. So when you have to "stop on a dime" concrete may mean the difference between safety and tragedy.

Minnesota drivers should have the extra margin of safety concrete provides. Remember—it may be your life at stake next time.

WHY STORE A Conveyor Belt?

WINTER IS ON ITS WAY to Minnesota's iron ranges. With the close of the ore shipping season, warm-weather equipment must be stored away. Here, at an iron mine near Grand Rapids, John Ollila and Robert Clark roll up a 3-foot wide conveyor belt to be stored during the cold months—the rubber would freeze and crack if the belt were left outdoors. But winter is no slack season on the iron ranges—repair and maintenance work, ore-body stripping and underground mining go on all winter long. Year-round work is usual in the ore industry today . . . helps assure steady jobs, steady income for the thousands of ore miners and their families, means benefits for all Minnesota.

The Modern Woodman Halloween party which was held at the Mar-Bel Hall Oct. 30, was another huge success. A large crowd watched while the witches, goblins and ghosts descended. The parade, which started at 8 o'clock, went around the main part of town. The children came back to the hall where the judges, who were: Mrs. Roland Sundberg, Miss Mavis Stenvick, Mrs. Harlan Lee, judged the costumes. They awarded: The funniest, Dale Newton, most original; Donald Knutson, prettiest; Marcia Vigen, most weird; Diana Sourdiff, most unusual; Luann Rude, smallest Lyle Newton. The children were given their ribbons and prizes after which they started playing games, ducking for apples and getting their treats of dixie cups and pop and their souvenirs. About 250 children took part in the evenings fun. Mrs. Peterson wishes to thank the V.F.W. and Ladies Auxiliary for their contributions to put on this party, and also to thank the judges and the teachers and all who helped make this party a success.

Don't forget the annual fancy-work sale of the St. Olof Ladies Aid which will be held at the Mar-Bell Hall at 8 o'clock Friday, Nov. 13th. It will be an excellent plan to do your Christmas shopping early. Lunch will also be served. Everyone is welcome.

IT'S TRADE-IN TIME FOR A BETTER DEAL
Want top allowance on your present car? See us this week for a deal that will raise your pride. Here is your chance to drive a money-saving bargain.

It raises your pride and races your pulse

You feel it the moment we turn over the keys to you.

You now own the handsomest "hardtop" around — a Buick Riviera — and the warm glow goes all through you.

But not alone for the racy beauty of the car.

You feel that prideful surge, too, from the fact that here you bought yourself a whale of a lot of automobile—a whale of a lot of room and power and soft luxury and ride steadiness—for a lot less than you expected.

For the automobile pictured here is a Buick SPECIAL Riviera—which means it delivers locally for just a few dollars more than the "hardtop" models of the "low-price three."

But it's only when you drive away in your bounteous new beauty that the real thrills begin and the satisfaction deepens...

When the highest Fireball 8 power in Buick SPECIAL history whispers away the miles with effortless ease...

When Twin-Turbine Dynaflow* gives you instant getaway response with silken smoothness, and the Million Dollar Ride levels every inch of your way...

When the deep wide seats cradle you in spacious comfort and the great glass areas give you visibility practically unlimited.

Surely you ought to look into this great Buick that's so prideful to own, so thrilling to drive, so easy to buy.

We'll be happy to arrange a sampling. Can you visit us this week?

MILTON BERLE stars for BUICK—in the Buick-Berle Show on TV Tuesday evenings. Also, every Saturday, tune in The TV Football Game of the Week—a "Big Ten" Key Event

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

THE GREATEST BUICK IN 50 GREAT YEARS

SMILEY . . .

By Mrs. Jim McCrum, Rt. 3, City

The Smiley 4-H club meets this Friday evening, Nov. 13 at the hall. Roll call will be answered by the members by telling "What I Am Thankful For". Plans will be made for the forthcoming Christmas party in December. A project report will be given on sheep by Joyce Helgeland. Demonstrations will be given by Marvin Torkelson, Kent Froseth and Orrin Helgeland. The program will be arranged by Dennis Nelson, Gail Peterson, Harlan Rude, and Joan Lizakowski. Recreation will be supervised by Gloria Johnson, Sharon Knutson, and Corrine Torkelson. Refreshments will be served by the Norman Johnson, the Harlan Knutson, and the Earl Lizakowski families. The clean-up gang will be Gloria Johnson, Sharon Knutson, Orrin Helgeland, and Deloris Lizakowski. A feature of this meeting will be an exchange of clever gift ideas for Christmas. Pencil and paper will be needed to jot down the numerous ideas on display on wood, rope, shells, cloth and paper. Sounds interesting.

The Smiley 4-H club feels doubly honored on the two noted awards given to two of its members the past week. Dianne Lendobeja received the honor of winning a hard-earned trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago. She won this trip on her many years record achievement. It is the first time this award has been won by anyone in Northern Minnesota. Marilyn McCrum is quite happy over her $25.00 bond award for her canning accomplishment. Both girls are to be highly complimented and the club has every reason to be proud of them.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lowen (Agnes Kvall) of Hibbing accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kvall who had spent the summer months with the Loweens, spent from Tuesday to Sunday at the Emil Thune home. The Kvalls remained at the Thune home and will be there for the winter.

Rev. and Mrs. O. O. Bjorgan of Goodridge were Wednesday afternoon visitors at the Maurice Newton home.

Rudolph Hanson and Melvin Longevin spent the weekend with their families. They came up to assist the men of Bethany church with the lutefisk supper Saturday evening. They returned Sunday to their employment in Waubun.

Mrs. Donald Hoff of Grand Forks was a weekend visitor at the home of her parents, the Walter Lendobejas. Her husband accompanied six other Jay-cees of Grand Forks to the seven state Jay-cee convention in Lincoln, Nebr. Mrs. Hoff is one of the directors of the Grand Forks unit. Mrs. Hoff's mother, Mrs. Lendobeja, returned to Grand Forks with her Sunday for a few days visit.

The first child, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Knutson was Christened Donald Dean, by Rev. O. O. Bjorgan at the Goodridge Lutheran church in Goodridge Sunday morning. The sponsors were the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knutson of Thief River Falls, an aunt, Miss Dolores Kulseth, also of Thief River Falls, and Ernest Sorter of Middle River. A dinner party was given by the Donald Knutsons at their home immediately after the services. The Helperettes met at the Jim McCrum home Wednesday. The home demonstration lesson on "Pressure Cookery" was given by Mrs. Hannah Kirch and Mrs. Hazel Iverson, leaders. The dinner was delicious and so quickly prepared. The split-pea soup, polish sausage, escalloped potatoes, and the orange dessert were all pressure prepared. The cabbage salad had a new twist to it. There is always something new to learn. A short discussion on pressure cookers also took place. The contest on small-sense was won by Mrs. Mary Lindholm with second place going to Mrs. Hazel Iverson. The next meeting will be in the form of a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Violet Knutson in December.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Beckon of Erskine motored up Saturday evening for the Bethany Men's lutefisk supper. By the way, that supper was a huge success, netting the men another feather in their chef's cap.

Quite a large number of Smiley people attended the funeral services for Dr. O. F. Melby at the Trinity church in Thief River Falls Monday afternoon. His passing certainly shocked everyone here. To be sure, he was the long-time family doctor for all the aches and pains of many Smiley families as well as having brought few of us into this world. He was the type of man that everyone took for granted that he would be around for a long time yet and for that reason he is going to be greatly missed. Sympathy indeed goes to Mrs. Melby and her family.

Sunday visitors at the Orville Rolandson home were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Olson and children of Thief River Falls, Mrs. Leonard Singer and Mrs. Elmer Hince of Oklee, Otto and Joe Rehm and Marilyn Hofdahl of Kratka, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Torkelson and Patricia, Stanley, Steve, Harvey Hemmestvedt and Ernest Thune.

Winter Driving Hints Are Given by Safety Leader

President of Minnesota Safety Council Offers Advice to Motorists

One of the traffic hazards encountered again during these fall mornings, according to the Minnesota Safety Council, is the accumulation of frost on the glass on automobiles. The council says it is not an uncommon sight these days to see drivers who have cleaned only a little hole in the frost on the left side of the windshield, assuming that it will give them enough vision to get them to their destinations.

"No driver," says A. V. Rohweder, president of the council, "would venture out onto a street or highway at night without adequate lights. But too many of these same motorists gamble with their lives, and the lives of others, by attempting to drive with all the windows on their cars frosted over, except for a very inadequate 'peep' hole."

He suggested that whenever frost conditions prevail on a cold morning that every motorist take the time to prepare his car for safe driving, even though that driving may be for only a comparatively short distance. After the car is driven out of the garage, Rohweder said, every bit of frost and ice should be scraped from every window and the windshield. By the time that operation is completed, the car will be warmed sufficiently to permit safe driving.

Another hazard of late-fall driving, according to Rohweder, is the presence of frost on pavements, which can be the cause of sliding or skidding. He also suggests a little ceremony of experimentation to combat this hazard.

"When you start out on the morning, apply your brakes to test the roadway," he cautioned. "Perhaps it isn't bad then, but remember that the sun will melt the ice, making it much more slippery than when it was colder and dry."

Safer Roads Will Spotlight State Highway Program

District Engineers Get Orders to Study Safety Needs in All State Areas

All of the state highway department's widespread and varied activities are being coordinated as a statewide team for intensified action on all phases of the traffic safety problem, following a meeting of key personnel in Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann's office last Friday.

Present at the all-day session were the department's eight district engineers, 16 district maintenance engineers, central office staff and staff members of the highway patrol, traffic safety division and drivers license bureau.

Calling for the cooperation of all department employees to advance the traffic safety interest stimulated by Governor Anderson's recent conference on accident prevention, Commissioner Hoffmann instructed his staff to "scrutinize every state highway and every phase of the department's activities for opportunities to provide safer traffic accommodations, improved traffic service and more effective traffic safeguards."

Each district engineer and district maintenance engineer received instructions to "comb every trunk route in his district for specific situations where hazards can be alleviated, or present protective devices improved, by relatively minor changes on or along existing trunk routes."

Many of these corrective measures, Hoffmann pointed out, would normally await the time when they could be incorporated in future, permanent reconstruction programs. "But the seriousness of our traffic accident problem," he said, "makes it impossible to postpone them until such indefinite time as the desirable projects can be financed. Expedient corrections simply have to be made now wherever practicable."

Action which he directed be taken at once includes improvement of the size, frequency, location and general effectiveness of speed zone signs, warning signs, no passing zones, centerline striping and other traffic markings. Correction of many hazardous curvatures and presently deficient sight distances will be undertaken as special operations. He also directed his engineers to study and rectify situations where safety factors can be improved by installation of additional guard rail or reflectorized curve delineator posts.

Recognizing that these measures will require expenditure of considerable trunk highway funds and manpower, Commissioner Hoffman stated that these corrective measures "have to be accomplished, even at the expense of sacrificing some desirable and needed mileages of new construction next year."

String Band Will Play Next Sunday

The string band from Strathcona Free Church will sing and play in next Sunday night's meeting at 7:45 in the Mission Covenant church, said L. W. "MAN'S BEST FRIEND" INDEED

On his farm near Hewitt the sleeve of Marion Dahl's jacket caught in the corn picker. With hand and forearm mangled he pulled back and partially stalled the machine. But how to get free? Mr. Dahl called his faithful dog, never far away, indicated by signs and speech what he wanted. The dog went to work with a will and chewed the sleeve fabric to a point where Mr. Dahl could jerk free of the menace.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Sheriff's "Push" Pulls a Vote

Was talking with our newly elected Sheriff Williams the other day. He told me about a fellow who stopped by his place late one night just before election.

"Heard a knock at the door," he said. "Fellow I never saw before. Told me his car went dead down the road and would I give him a shove. My boy, Flip, and I went out to his car with him. We're all set to push when he steps on the starter and the motor turns over.

"Well, Flip and I just stood there when the fellow leans out the window and says, 'Just wanted to make sure you're the right man to vote for'."

From where I sit, the fellow who's quick to lend a hand makes any community a better one. But you don't have to run for office to prove you're a good neighbor. One way I know is just to have a little regard for the other fellow. Whether your neighbor likes beer or buttermilk, don't try to push him to your choice. Just give him your "vote of confidence."

The Junior class of Goodridge high school presents their annual class play "Just Ducky" at 8:15 p. m. in Grygla Nov. 14 and in Goodridge Nov. 19.

"Just Ducky" is a 3-act comedy of the exploits of the Maxwell family written by Donald Payton.

The cast of characters is as follows: Mr. Maxwell—the head of the house—or at least he thinks he is, Clinton Ekwall; Mrs. Maxwell, his wife, Carol Lindwick; Betty Lou, daughter, 14 years of age, Arlen Berg; Bernadine, her best friend, Beverly Nelson; Wilbur, son, Jerome Rollandson.

Hercules, Wilbur's bosom pal, Eldon Erickson; Connie, daughter, 17 years of age, Doris Sletten; Craig Moore, Connie's boyfriend, Dennis Kulseth; Mr. Moore, Craig's father, Paul Refsnes; Del Marshall, a newspaper reporter, Erland Kusmack; Aunt Mary, Mrs. Maxwell's aunt, Alma Jelle; and Miss Blayne, the editor of the love-lorn column, Janyce Quam.

What makes teen-age girls do things they do? That is a question. What should be done about them? That is a problem. Betty Lou Maxwell and Bernadine Smith are a couple of questions and problems rolled into two. It seems they are always up to something and there is no stopping them. When it comes to proving the family is insane, just wait for Betty Lou and Bernadine. But after all girls will be girls.

For your enjoyment come and see "Just Ducky" at the place of your convenience.

$1,057.35 Bill Paid

"After my long 68 day stay in the hospital," Miss Gertrude Sjoberg, 3506 Park Avenue, Minneapolis said, "I could hardly believe it when I had to pay only $25 for my care. My room and board and all the hospital services I needed amounted to $1,082.35."

"Imagine," she said, "under my Blue Cross $25 Deductible contract, they paid $1,057.35. Blue Shield provided benefits for my doctor bills."

Only two health-care plans could provide Miss Sjoberg such comprehensive protection . . . Minnesota Blue Cross and Blue Shield. The Blue Cross plan for hospital care is sponsored by 169 Minnesota hospitals. Over 2,800 Minnesota Doctors actively participate in the Blue Shield plan for medical care. Both are non-profit plans, organized under Minnesota laws.

These plans were founded to provide the finest hospital-medical care protection to all who need it at a low cost which they can afford. "I'll never be without this wonderful safeguard for my health care protection," Miss Sjoberg says.

Complete free details on these comprehensive hospital-medical care plans may be obtained by writing directly to Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Dept. WP-8, 2610 University Avenue, St. Paul 14, Minnesota. There is no obligation. No salesman will call.

REV. E. C. MEAD RECOMMENDS

The Falls Theatre,
Mr. Ward Nichols, Mgr.
Thief River Falls, Minn.

Dear Mr. Nichols:—

I am very much pleased that the picture 'Martin Luther' is to be shown at the Falls Theatre in this city, beginning November 15. This is truly a great picture with a historic background which reveals one of the great religious movements of the past. Strangely enough, it is not controversial and the historical subject matter is handled in the various sequences in such a way as to give no offence to those who are not of the protestant faith. It is history of a period when great tensions, political and commercial as well as religious were shaping national borders as well as policies. I hope that everyone in this vicinity may find it possible to see this great picture at least once.

Thanking you sincerely for bringing this opportunity to our community I am

Sincerely yours,
REV. E. C. MEAD,
Pastor, Community Methodist Church

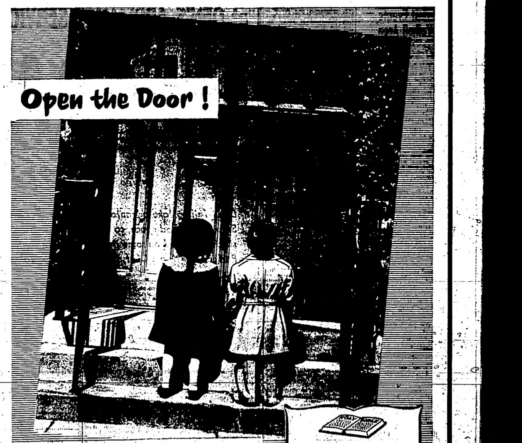
Open the Door !



The only tragedy in being young is that you must depend on the common sense and far-sightedness of adults.

For when you're young, even though your heart cries out for opportunity, there are doors to which your parents hold the key.

One of these is the door to Faith. A child wants to believe. He needs religious teaching. God has implanted in his tiny body a growing, hungry soul.

But millions of America's little ones are being barred from the Church, starved of spiritual nourishment by unthinking parents. They are chained to unbelief, condemned to moral immaturity by fathers and mothers who have lost their own faith, and have ceased to care.

Do you know these parents? Are you, perchance, one of them? Remember Who it was who said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not." OPEN THE DOOR!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Polio Foundation to Expand '54 Campaign

Volunteer participation in the annual March of Dimes drive against polio is better in Minnesota than the average of all the other 47 states.

Some 200 county campaign directors and workers were given this encouraging information at a statewide pre-campaign meeting in Minneapolis last week in preparation for the 1954 polio fund drive next January.

At the same time, they heard a report on the progress of polio prevention, gamma globulin and the newly-reported vaccine by Dr. Henry W. Kumm of New York, director of research for the National Foundation for Infantile paralysis.

Dr. D. S. Fleming, director of the division of disease prevention and control of the Minnesota department of health, reported that more than 37,000 persons in the state were inoculated with GG in 1953.

Keynoting the day's sessions was the report by Professor Willis E. Dugan of the University of Minnesota, March of Dimes chairman for the sixth consecutive year, that research, education and patient-care programs have finally brought us close to the March of Dimes goal — elimination of polio as a threat.

"With the exciting news of the forthcoming vaccine trials," Dugan said, "the 1954 March of Dimes will be the most important in history."

"Every community should contribute at least fifty per cent more than it did last January, to help provide the extra $26,500,000 the National Foundation will need to carry on its expanded research program in 1954."

So far in 1953, Dugan said, chapters throughout Minnesota have received more than $1,000,000 in advances from the National Foundation. This is in addition to funds raised during the January campaign and spent here. Since 1938, the Foundation has sent $3,500,000 more into Minnesota than Minnesotans have given to the March of Dimes.

Much of the heavy expense this year, Dugan said, was occasioned by the heavy carry-over of patients who were stricken during 1952's epidemic year.

Local Dealer Has Chance of winning Trip to Pasadena

A Hollywood date with Ann Sheridan, glamorous movie star, and a trip to Pasadena for the famed Tournament of Roses Parade and Rose Bowl football game on New Year's Day await a lucky business machine dealer somewhere in the U. S.

This news was received by Grundy Aakhus of Grundy's Office Supplies, Thief River Falls, who has a chance of being Miss Sheridan's guest.

Announcement of the week-long all-expense trip to the movie capital to be awarded the winning dealer and his wife in the national "Clary Star" sales contest was made by K. A. Adams, general manager of the dealer division of Clary Multiplier Corporation, manufacturers of adding machines and cash registers.

Christmas Seals to Be Mailed out over the Weekend

Tuberculosis Seals to Be Received Monday by Minnesota Residents

One hundred and fifty thousand missing persons must be found to keep you safe from tuberculosis.

This statement comes from the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health association, as the state's 10,000 volunteer Christmas Seal workers are busy with last-minute preparations for the 1953 Christmas Seal sale.

On Nov. 16 nearly every family in cities, towns and rural communities all thru the state and nation will, at almost the same moment, open the envelope containing Christmas Seals, a message about tuberculosis and an appeal for funds to fight the disease.

"A year-round hunt for 'missing persons' is one big part of the Christmas Seal program," the news release states. "They are the unknown, contagious cases of tuberculosis."

The National Tuberculosis association reports 250,000 known, active cases of TB in the United States and an estimated 150,000 unknown cases. Most of these "missing persons" do not know they have TB—do not even know they are sick.

In Minnesota, 13,870 new cases were reported to the Health department in the past five years. There are no figures to show how many cases have not yet been reported, the Christmas Seal statement continues.

Three main programs which Christmas Seal funds will help finance in 1954 are:

Case-finding—tuberculin tests and chest x-rays for discovery of the unkown cases of TB.

Research—to find new drugs, and better methods of TB treatment.

Education—to inform all people about TB and the need for regular checkups to safeguard themselves and their families.

Parents' Day Set at N. W. School

Student Project Show Also Slated November 25

The annual Parents' Day and student home project show will be held at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, on Wednesday, November 25. Superintendent T. M. McCall announces that the parents of the students will be guests of the school and student body throughout the day.

Classes will be visited by the parents in the morning and they will be guests of the students and school for the Parents' Day dinner at noon. The all-student program, to be presented during the afternoon, will be followed by a coffee hour at the home project show which will be held in the schol gymnasium.

Martin Landby of Swift, president of the Northwest School Parents' Association, has called for the annual meeting of the parents' association at 11:00 a. m. to be held in conjunction with Parents' Day. The officers and directors of the association are asked to meet at 10:00 a. m. prior to the annual meeting at 11:00 a. m.

Wildlife Group Offers Graduate Fellowships to 4

The Nationl Wildlife Federation has announced it will grant four graduate "Ding Darling" fellowships in conservation education of $1,000 each, and one James Hopkins undergraduate scholarship of $500 for the school year 1954-55.

The Ding Darling Fellowships, financed largely by the sale of wildlife stamps, are named in honor of the famous cartoonist and conservation leader who organized the federation in 1936 and served as its first president. The undergraduate scholarship is made possible by the income from a bequest by the late James Hopkins of New York.

Students wishing to apply for one of these grants may secure a form by writing to the federation at 232 Carroll Street, N. W., Washington 12, D. C. Deadline for applications is Dec. 31, 1953.

The fellowships are designed to support research studies in the field of conservation education, according to Dr. E. Laurence Palmer, retired professor of rural education and nature study at Cornell and now director of education for the federation. Appropriate subjects, he said, would be such fields as teacher training, radio and television, urban conservation education, scouting and conservation, curricular problems, state problems, sportsman-farmer relationships, or text-book development.

20 Years of Progress
Our Association was organized during the dark days of the depression with government assistance. At one time, 1935, the Federal Government had $81,000 invested in our stock. Over a period of years this government capital advance has been steadily paid off. This year we made the final payment and our Association is now owned entirely by its members, farmer-producers of this area.

2,500,000 lb. of Turkeys Leave City This Fall

Land O'Lakes Trucks Birds to Minneapolis for Quick Freezing

The equivalent of 2,500,000 pounds of dressed turkeys was shipped from Thief River Falls during the fall marketing season up to Monday of this week, a survey of the two local processing plants revealed. Representing an innovation from past years, all of the birds left this city by truck instead of going by rail to eastern markets.

Land O'Lakes Creameries eviscerated, cooled and packed the turkeys in its local plant, and then trucked them to Minneapolis for quick freezing before going on to other markets.

The Peterson-Biddick company, for the first time in recent years, did not process the birds here, but trucked them to the company's Wadena plant. Wm. Thompson, manager, stated that the local plant was kept busy processing poultry this season, but added that it is planned to process turkeys here again next fall.

Stuart McLeod, Land O'Lakes manager, said the local plant expects to process another 1,000,000 pounds of turkeys here before the season ends, and he added that more than 100 extra workers have been employed in addition to the regular staff.

Holt Man Dies of Carbon Monoxide Poisoning Sunday

Kenneth L. Larson Had Been Working on Car in His Father's Garage

Kenneth L. Larson, 24, of Holt was found dead by his father, Walter Larson, during the noon hour Sunday in the Cities Service garage at Holt, operated by the latter. Marshall county coroner Erven Pumala of Warren stated Monday that blood tests had revealed that the young man's death was due to carbon monoxide poisoning.

Kenneth had told his parents Sunday morning that he was going to do some work on his car in the garage, and when he failed to return home for dinner, his father, who had just returned from deer hunting, went to the garage to investigate. He found the room filled with fumes, and the body of his son lying on the floor near the car. Life was extinct.

The ignition switch of the car was turned on and the gasoline tank was empty, indicating that the engine had been running for some time. No inquest was held, Coroner Pumala stated.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Nazareth Lutheran church at Holt, with Rev. Raymond Brandt officiating, and interment will be in the Holt cemetery.

Kenneth Larson was born in Thief River Falls January 14, 1929 and at the age of one year was taken by his parents to Lake Bronson, where they lived four years. Since then he had lived at Holt, and was a graduate of the Newfolden high school.

Surviving his death are his parents, three brothers and three sisters: Duane, Harold, Merle, Shirley, Ione and Marlene, all of Holt. Also surviving are his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Larson of Thief River Falls, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Annie Anderson of St. Hilaire.

State Patrol Chiefs Claim Radio Doesn't Interfere with TV

In response to complaints by several local residents of interference with reception on their television sets apparently caused by the new highway patrol radio station that recently went into operation in Thief River Falls, the highway patrol this week issued an explanatory statement, which reads as follows:

"TV receivers are very susceptable to interference in extreme fringe areas, such as Thief River Falls. The fault lies not with the new radio station, but with the TV receiver itself.

"TV receivers, by and large, have poor selectivity. The TV receiver will not reject, to a marked degree, a strong signal picked up on the TV antenna, even tho the frequency of a signal may be far removed from the regular TV channels. To explain, the broad tuning characteristics in the Twin City area, a TV receiver will pick up WCCO-TV on channel 3 and 6; KSTP-TV can be picked up on channel 4 and 6 even though they operate on channels 4 and 5 respectively. In strong signal areas the TV station can be received not only on one, but two or more channels from their regular channel.

"One of the more common causes of TV interference, due to the presence of a strong signal is the overloading of the TV receiver which results in the unwanted signal appearing on the TV screen and oftentimes heard on the loudspeaker. This is not the fault of the undesired transmitter, but rather the lack of sufficient selectivity in the receiver. TV receivers of older design are usually more apt to respond to an undesired signal than are those of a more recent design.

"The frequency assigned to the highway patrol by the Federal Communications Commission is far removed from the TV channels. The transmitting equipment is of the latest design and is engineered to minimize the interference to other services. However, should intrference be experienced, call your TV serviceman. He will be able to eliminate the interference in the majority of instances by installing a filter in the TV, antenna lead-in wire. A short piece of lead-in wire of the correct length fastened to the antenna terminals of the TV receiver acts as a wave trap and often times will completely remove all traces of interference. In some cases this has actually improved the TV reception. If your serviceman experiences difficulty in this matter, personnel at the highway patrol radio station will aid him in any way possible."

Roland Hellquist, Rosewood, Breaks Leg in Car Mishap

Is Hospitalized Here after Accident Saturday Morning on Highway 219

Roland Hellquist of Rosewood is receiving treatment in Northwestern Hospital for a broken leg sustained in an automobile accident Saturday morning at 5:30 at the intersection of Highway 219 with the road extending east from Mud Lake.

The car, in which he was riding with Leslie Erickson and Arlo Cummings, both of Osseo, Minn., was proceeding east on the road from Mud Lake and failed to negotiate the sharp turn onto Highway 219, running into the ditch and coming to rest on its front end. The other two occupants of the car escaped with cuts and bruises, the highway patrol reported.

Four deer hunters from Morris, Minnesota, escaped with severe bruises Saturday evening when their car rolled over in loose gravel on Highway 219 a short distance north of its intersection with highway 1. The road has been under construction recently and was closed to other than local travel.

Driver of the car was John Lampert, while riding with him were Eugene Logan, Leo Karwin and John Lesmeister. Deputy Sheriff Elton Cummings, who investigated the mishap, reported that a few minutes later Floyd Sunsdahl of Goodridge ran his car into a ridge of gravel at the scene of the accident damaging the front end of the car.

City Tax Levy for 1953 Will Bring $47,563

Council Tuesday Adopts Total Levy of 22 Mills Compared to 18 for 1952

Reflecting mounting costs of providing municipal services, the 1953 tax rate for city purposes in Thief River Falls was set by the city council Tuesday evening at 21 mills in addition to one mill for the policemen's retirement fund. The 1952 rate was 18 mills. City Clerk P. G. Pederson estimated that the 22-mill levy would bring in $47,563.

Following an earlier meeting last night at which the early availability of electric power from Garrison Dam was discussed, the council ordered proposals prepared with a view to engaging the services of a consulting engineer to make a survey of the local situation to determine the advantages and drawbacks of signing up for Garrison Dam power. In the meantime, it was agreed, the necessary application blanks should be secured from the power authority and given careful study.

Mayor Harry E. Simons submitted a request from the police department that the police civil service commission set up by the city council 13 years ago in July, 1940, be activated by appointment of the necessary three-man commission. The state law authorizing the civil service is designed to protect the tenure of police officers. The mayor and council put off action on the matter until an adjourned meeting next week.

Mayor Simons' appointment of G. A. Frahm to the local airport commission succeeding Gordon Ballingrud, resigned, was confirmed by the council. Frahm is a former member of that body. The council also received the resignation of Robert S. Harmon as director of the Legion municipal band effective January 1, and action was deferred on naming a successor.

A resolution was adopted accepting conveyance to the city of the former Mercy Hospital building site on Highway 32 in Block 21, Porter's Addition. Another resolution authorized conveyance of the property to the Minnesota armory building commission as a site for the projected new armory to be built here.

Also approved was the transfer to the Northwestern Hospital association of $100,000 from the proceeds of the bond issue sold to aid in financing construction of the hospital addition, now well underway.

Street Commissioner Leo DuChamp called attention to the need of his department for a crawler-type tractor for use on the city streets and for moving dirt at the city dumpground. The city, it was pointed out, is now paying out large sums in rentals for this type of equipment. The council voted to advertise for bids on a unit, the bids to be opened December 15.

A petition was submitted by a group of residents in the Horseshoe area objecting to the setting up there of a horse corral. An ordinance was cited which forbids the keeping of horses in the city, and the council instructed City Attorney Robert A. Wurst to serve notice on the parties involved that the ordinance would be enforced.

Despite the fact that this year for the first time motor vehicle license plates are being distributed at Red Lake Falls and Roseau, a total of 7,665 sets of plates was issued from October 1 to November 16 by A. F. Berge, deputy registrar of motor vehicles in Thief River Falls.

The number is only about 1,000 less than that issued a year ago, Berge said.

The penalty of 50 cents for late registration, which went into effect yesterday, will continue thru December 14, after which it will be $1 until January 8, 1954.

50,000,000th Telephone Given Pres. Eisenhower

The nation's 50,000,000th telephone was presented to President Eisenhower by representatives of the U. S. telephone industry at a brief ceremony held at the White House today.

The president acepted the telephone as a symbol of America's world leadership in telephone communication.

Cleo F. Craig, president of the AT&T, and Warren B. Clay, president of the U. S. Independent Telephone association, installed the 50 millionth telephone at Mr. Eisenhower's desk.

Also attending the ceremony were C. L. Doherty, president of the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners, and Rosel H. Hyde, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission.

The telephone is black, trimmed with gold, and has the presidential seal in the center of the dial. Around its base are 48 gold stars.

Fifty million American telephones means there is one for almost every three of our citizens. And the contrast with the rest of the world, which has 94% of the people, is significant of what the people in one free nation can do—there are 39,000,000 telephones in all other nations together, about one for every 65 persons.

Farm Bureau Praises Ag Department Secy. for Reorganization

Ezra T. Benson, secretary of agriculture, was praised for the steps he is taking to reorganize the United States Department of Agriculture in a telegram sent him on November 9 by the executive board of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation. The telegram follows:

Honorable Ezra Taft Benson:

From the time of our entry into the First World War until the present day, government has constantly grown further away from the people. Wars seem to give an excuse for government by decree and rule by government employees. Most public officials from time to time, but particularly at election time, express their opposition to Big Government and promise to correct a dangerous trend. You are one of the few who have started the long overdue move of cutting the government down to size.

In your reorganization program you have indicated that you believe the people know what they want when they ask for less and better government. Your action in removing a form of government foreign to American principles is in line with the request of the Farm Bureau, which is by far the largest farm organization in the nation, with more than a million and a half farm families enrolled and participating.

The Constitution provides for a federal government and state governments. There is no provision in our national code for regional governments. In the field of regional governments you are taking long overdue action. In lightening the power of regional governments you will strengthen the state services, as for instance in the field of soil conservation. We believe that the men and women in Minnesota who are working for the cause of soil conservation have enough good, hard common sense to read and understand the information prepared on national levels. We believe that they know better than anyone else the needs within this state. There is no necessity for the regional form of government that has been intruded between our local soil conservation program and the work that must be carried on at national levels.

Your assignment of technical personnel from the regional to the state groups will give the people who are actually doing the work a much closer contact than formerly with the technicians.

There have been times when good citizens had cause to abhor some of the activities within the U. S. Department of Agriculture. At one time the USDA seemed to be a breeding ground for communists and fellow travelers of the type of Alger Hiss, who was graduated from the USDA to the state department and is now in prison. Others of his type, and there were many, caused thoughtful farmers to regard the USDA with deep suspicion.

These USDA officials set up little empires within the huge, sprawling USDA empire they had created. Their reach for more power was unchecked by the congress and nowhere was there any exercise of authority that would stop the trend toward the socialization of American agriculture.

Your reorganization program is restoring confidence in one of the most vital and useful branches of the federal government. Your action leading to reforms on national and regional levels will have a pronounced effect for good in Minnesota and in every other state in the nation.

The executive board of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, which is by far the largest general farm organization in Minnesota, at its quarterly meeting in St. Paul November 9, commended your program for bringing the government closer to the people so that a greater number may participate in decisions as well as in action.

Signed, J. L. Morton, president, Hancock.

A few salesmen on the road this fall are offering seed of a rust-proof wheat for 1955 delivery.

According to W. M. Myers, head of the University of Minnesota's Agronomy Department, there is no "rust proof" wheat variety available for general distribution.

However, says Myers, a new variety developed in Canada shows good promise and may be distributed to registered seed growers later this year.

It is known as C. T. 186 and has shown resistance to Race 15B and other prevalent stem rust races.

In trials and plantings in states of the spring wheat regions, C. T. 186 has performed well. Also, the milling and baking trade seems satisfied with the new variety's quality.

However, according to seed distribution officials in Canada and the U. S., there is no C. T. 186 seed available except that under their control.

Enough foundation seed for registered production is available for distribution for planting in 1954 if performance data on 1953 plantings, now being reviewed and evaluated, indicate that C. T. 186 is ready for release.

If Canadian seed officials decide C. T. 186 is ready for distribution, seed will be increased and distributed through regular procedures, Myers says.

This means that Minnesota seed producers would have a large amount of the seed for sale for 1955 plantings.

Also, since seed will be produced under the control of the Minnesota Agricultural Experiment Station, there will be no scalping. Seed should be available about half the price some salesmen are quoting for a "rust proof" variety for 1955 delivery.

This article was called to my attention a short time ago, and I wanted you to read it. Time and time again the "American Public" has been fooled by smooth talking "sellers" of one kind or another. Be a clear thinking farmer and you will be able to spot the phony. Accept everything that the "seller" tells you and you will be fooled.

Here is a list of recommended varieties for Minnesota. I would suggest that you buy these varieties, or others that you have grown before and had good luck with, from an established grower or businessman that you know.

1. Spring Wheat: (Bread) Mida, Lee, Rushmore, Rival.
2. Spring Wheat: (Durum) Carleton, Mindum, Stewart.
3. Winter Wheat: Minturki, Minter.
4. Oats: Bonda, Clinton, Minto, Andrew, Shelby, Ajax, James, Branch, Clintafe.
5. Barley: (Malting): Kindred, Montcalm.
6. Barley: (for feed): Vantage, Peatland.
7. Rye: Emerald, Imperial.
8. Flax: Koto, Minerva, Redwood, 35128 Marine.
9. Alfalfa: Ranger, Todak.
10. Medium Red Clover: Wegener, Midland.
11. Biennial Sweet Clover: Evergreen (white) Madrid (yellow)
12. Bromegrass: Achenback, Fischer, Lincoln.
13. Corn: (81 days) Morder 77, Wisconsin 240, Wisconsin 255.

If you want more information check with your local growers and sellers, or come in and see me.

Home Agent Suggests Some Novel Dishes of Venison

Deer Season has arrived! And for the wives of successful hunters that means deer meat to make into appetizing and satisfying dishes for the family. Often we find that after deer season the monotony of eating deer roasts and deer steaks takes away much of the pleasure of the meat! To give you some new ideas in preparing venison, here are a few recipes to try on your family from Home Agent Marge Olsen.

Venison Swiss Steak

1½ pounds round steak, 3 large onions, 1 medium stalk celery, 1 cup tomatoes, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper.

Steak should be about 1½ inches thick. Dredge with flour and season with salt and pepper, then brown in fat. When brown on both sides add the other ingredients. Cover tightly and cook in medium oven (350 degrees F.) or over low flame on top of the stove until tender, (about 1½ hours). Remove meat to platter and make a gravy from drippings in the pan. Serve with baked potatoes.

Venison Stew

Cube venison in inch-size pieces, the amount depending upon the number of people to be served. Sprinkle flour over the pieces and salt and pepper, and brown in butter or bacon drippings. Add sufficient water to cover and cool until the meat is done. Add vegetables, such as carrots, cubed potatoes, stewed tomatoes, and onions. Cook until the vegetables are done, thicken with flour, and serve.

Venison Soup

2 or 3 pounds venison, 1½ quarts cold water, 5 or 6 carrots cubed, 1 bunch celery cubed, 2 cups tomatoes, 1 bay leaf, 2 tablespoons salt, 2 medium potatoes, cubed, 2 or 3 onions, cubed, ½ teaspoon savory.

Soak meat in salted cold water for several hours. Simmer slowly for 2 hours, skimming occasionally. Let the broth stand over night. Next day remove the congealed fat, add vegetables and cook 1½ to 2 hours, slowly.

Deer Sausage

The process of making venison sausage begins at the time the deer is butchered and divided. Many tough parts of the carcass are not suitable for choice cuts. Save these, and to them add an equal amount of fresh pork. Grind the whole, turn into a large pan, and season. Seasonings should include, besides salt and pepper, a sprinkling of red pepper and a small amount of sage. Knead and work the entire mixture together, after which it may be served as hamburger or stuffed in sausage skins.

Gov. Anderson Supports 1953 Yule Seal Drive

Elimination of tuberculosis is an attainable goal, Governor C. Elmer Anderson said this week in endorsing Minnesota's annual Christmas Seal sale, which opened Monday, Nov. 16.

"The fact that Minnesota can claim one of the lowest TB death rates in the world is evidence of the effective work done by the medical profession and many hard-working laymen," the governor stated.

"The annual Christmas Seal sale plays a key role in the battle against TB. We know the people of this state can solve this problem. Through Christmas Seals, we have the means whereby the battle can be won."

State FU Demands Supports on All Products of Farm

Edwin Christianson Is Reelected President at Convention in St. Paul

Minnesota farmers took a stand for a firm price floor under all farm commodities at the 12th anual state convention of the Farmers Union held November 9-11 in St. Paul.

M. Larson, Beltrami; Leo Freking, Heron Lake; Mrs. Clifford Swenson, Westbrook; Elmer Langhorst, Lafayette.

Russell Schwandt, state secretary, reported a total family membership of 21,284 for 1953, a gain of more than 6,000 families for the year.

Guest convention speakers included James G. Patton, president of the National Farmers Union; Minnesota Senators Hubert H. Humphrey and Edward J. Thye; Governor C. Elmer Anderson; Congressman Fred Marshall; M. W. Thatcher, general manager of the Farmers Union Grain Terminal Association; Emil Eyftestad, general manager of the Farmers Union Central Exchange; Glenn Long, Manager of the Farmers Union Marketing Association; and Dr. E. Resolutions adopted by the Delegates urged price supports at or near full parity on all farm production including perishables. In addition to wheat and corn, the list of basic commodities should include oats rye, barley, flax and soybeans, it was suggested.

For perishable farm items, the delegates recommended a combination of direct supports and the use of production payments to assure parity prices.

Nothing But The Truth

According to our investigation, Virgil and Ben Wold were the first hunters to bag their deer and have it butchered and in a locker. Hunting around the St Hilaire territory, Virg and Ben, with a shot each, downed a pair of bucks. By 3:30 p. m. they had their deer skinned, quartered, and packaged and placed in the St. Hilaire locker plant. That'll be prime venison.

We hear that the 17-man Skomedal-Rupprecht-Lunke Big Game Expedition had, as of Sunday evening, seven deer hanging on the "meat rack." This party, as is their custom, is hunting south of Winner and in the vicinity of the north branch of the Roseau river.

We were fortunate enough to share a "bull-dozed" ridge with an "old pro" on Saturday morning when the deer hunting season opened. When three deer came out on us, at about 7:30 a. m., Bill Sponheim and I downed two of the does. That's the quickest "fill" we've ever had.

Bob Carlson, after being blanked on Saturday, came back to fulfill all his boasts on Sunday, bagging a fine buck. The story is that Bob had a "self defense" shot at a big doe early on Sunday, but missed, and it was only by some nimble foot-work that the Smiling Swede escaped being injured. Later in the day, using Ole Ekeren's .270, he filled his tag.

Dennis Cotton Langevin, after several days of indecision, finally obtained a deer hunting license and is busy organizing a deer hunting squad. Cotton, because of his vast experience on land, sea, and air, usually names himself "captain" of his deer hunting company. The boys aren't too enthusiastic about Cotton's "captaincy" for they say that his orders invariably are like this: "Slim, you go through those hazel brush clumps; Frank, you can swing through those red willows and around burn-outs; Elmer, you can go through those popple thickets and the cane-brake. I'll stand here."

Event of the Week

The V.F.W. bowling team—Ben Miramontes, Baldy Dunham, Elten and Del Harbott, and John Snort Langseth — accomplished the "impossible" last Tuesday night when they defeated Al Holzknecht's Northern Chevrolet team, sweeping the three-game series. All three of the games were hotly-contested, though, with the Vets winning by a three, seven, and ten-pin margins.

The Chev team didn't become demoralized by that three-game loss, though, for on Sunday, participating in the WDAY four-man team tournament on the Berry alleys at Fargo, the squad rolled a splendid 2335 aggregate to hold first place. The tournament has another week to run, but it's a certainty that the Chev score, with the four boys—Wally and Jesse DuChamp, Emil Dostal, and Phil LeGault—rolling a 195-pin average clip, will be "in the money."

Moving over to Moorhead, the Chev team members entered the singles and doubles tourney being sponsored by the Kossick alleys. Wally DuChamp, with scores of 257-227-183-157, for an aggregate of 882, rolled into first place. A pair of "blows" and three splits accounted for that 157 game, otherwise Wally would have made a shambles of that singles tournament.

Mystery

Who "presented" K. Rusty Anderson with that "meatless" pheasant? Rusty, coming home the other day, found a pre-fabricated pheasant on his front porch. The "bird" was a pheasant head placed on a stick, with wings, and tail-feathers fastened to a board. Rusty claims that he is tracing some red-hot clues, and that a "confession" will be made shortly.

Winnipeg Wins Title

The Winnipeg Blue Bombers, with former Gophers Bud Grant, Dave Skrein, and Ralph McAllister playing starring roles, and with Bill Bye doing some scouting for the club, won the Western Canada senior football championship on Saturday night when they defeated the Edmonton Eskimos, 30 to 24, in the "saw" game of the threegame series.

On Saturday afternoon at Winnipeg, the Blue Bombers will play the Toronto Balmy Beach team in the Grey Cup semi-finals, with the kickoff scheduled for 1:15 p. m. The winner of this game will meet the winner of the Montreal vs. Hamilton series at Toronto on Nov. 28th for the Grey Cup, the trophy that is emblematic of Canada's football championship.

Eagles Auxiliary Entertains State President Monday

Mrs. Marie Graff, Austin, Gives Report on National Convention of Auxiliary

The Thief River Falls Eagles auxiliary was honored by a visit of the state president, Mrs. Marie Graff of Austin, at their meeting Monday, Nov. 16. Other state officers present were Mrs. Emily Severson and Mrs. Lillian Lee of East Grand Forks, Mrs. Ellen Peiffer of Crookston and Mrs Tillie Carlson of this city. Sixty visiting sisters from Crookston and East Grand Forks attended, also.

In her address, Mrs. Graff gave a report of the national convention, which was held in Indianapolis, Ind., and stated that there are now 1,153 auxiliaries under the jurisdiction of the Grand Auxiliary of Eagles, with a membership of nearly 150,000, making it one of the largest organizations of its kind in the United States.

The motto of the Eagles auxiliary "For Home, For Country and For God", said Mrs. Graff, is proven in the program of projects undertaken to help in national, civic and humanitarian affairs. They promote the raising of funds for the muscular dystrophy research program, assist the Eagles Aeries in the Damon Runyan Cancer Fund and in the Eagles Memorial Foundation, which provides dental, medical, optical and hospital care and lends a helping hand with education when needed, for children of deceased members who were killed in World War II and the Korean Crisis. They also stand ready to help in all ideal welfare and youth programs, she said.

A banquet was held at the Rex Cafe preceeding the meeting, in honor of Mrs. Graff, who was presented with a corsage by Mrs. LaVaun Clinton, president of the Thief River Falls auxiliary. Following the business meeting and evening entertainment a delicious lunch was served to over 150 members and guests.

Safety Council to Study Suggestions to Cut Traffic Toll

Another attack on Minnesota's traffic accident problem will be made next Tuesday afternoon November 24, when the traffic safety section of the Minnesota Safety Council will meet at the Hotel Saint Paul, St. Paul, to study the various safety suggestions received from many state-wide groups and the 115 local safety councils. The section was recently expanded to include representation from these many safety-conscious groups.

A. V. Rohweder, president of the Safety Council, today announced that upwards of 100 safety leaders from throughout the state will be present. State Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann is chairman of the section, with Gideon Seymour, vice president and executive editor of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune, serving as vice chairman.

"Because I believe safety is a personal responsibility of every resident of Minnesota," said Rohweder, "everyone should consider himself a member of this committee. To expedite the work and consolidate the activity, five advisory committees have been set up, each headed by an acknowledged leader in that particular field of traffic safety."

Dean M. Schweickhard, commissioner of education, has been named to head the education advisory committee; J. E. Darrell, traffic engineer of the state highway department, will lead the engineering advisory committee and the Hon. Thomas Gallagher, associate justice of the state supreme court, will head the enforcement and juvenile traffic advisory committees. The chairman for the motor transport advisory committee will be named before next Tuesday's meeting, according to Rohweder.

Following the general session including all the committees, separate group meetings will be held, with the various groups reassembling to make their reports to President Rohweder and Commissioner Hoffman.

In a further effort to coordinate the work of the advisory committees, a steering committee, composed of the chairmen, vice-chairmen and secretaries of these committees, has been named. This committee will meet with President Rohhweder and the executive committee of the Minnesota Safety Council in the continuing overall campaign against traffic accidents.

State Property Tax up for 1953

Fixed at 9.94 Mills on Non-homestead Property

State Auditor Stafford King Friday certified the state property tax levy for 1953 at 9.37 mills for Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth and 9.94 mills for the rest of the state.

The levy, fixed by the 1953 legislature, is the highest in 13 years and 3.1 mills above the 1952 levy of 6.81 mills.

Of the total levy, 2.27 mills will be used to balance the state's general revenue fund as ordered by the legislature.

The remainder will be used to raise money for soldiers' relief, University of Minnesota, state employes and state teachers' retirement funds, state building fund, military and naval land, veterans compensation and retirement of rural credit bonds.

The levy in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth will be .57 mills less than the rest of the state because these cities maintain their own teachers' retirement plans.

Fosston Air Man Reported Missing on Alaska Flight

The War Department in Washington Wednesday notified Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Viske of Fosston that their son, First Lieutenant Arnold Viske, was missing on a routine flight over Alaska.

The message stated that Lt. Viske failed to return from his training flight Nov. 10 and that an intensive search was underway.

Lt. Viske, 26-year-old jet pilot, was home for a visit about two weeks ago. He had been stationed in Alaska for 18 months and would have been transferred back to the States in about six months.

Lt. Viske is married and has one child.

At the time he disappeared he was flying with the Jet Interceptor squadron based at Anchorage.

Virginia Youth Chosen as State 4-H Potato King

He had a yield of 280 bushels per acre. He will receive a $50 government bond as his award.

Named reserve champion was Stanley Brown, 17, Graceton, who exhibited Chippewa potatoes. The Lake of the Woods county boy had a yield of 375 bushels per acre.

WE WON IN THE PHILIPPINES

Our side won in last week's presidential election in the Philippines and this no doubt strengthened our bargaining position to some extent in the Far East. As a matter of keeping the record straight our improved relations in the Philippines probably can be credited to some extent to our Korean sacrifice.

Certainly not all of the credit should be given to our defense of Korea. We have many friends among the natives of the Islands who appreciate the contributions we have made to their progress. But considering the turmoil thruout Asia and the general insecurity of all western nations in that area it is encouraging to know that a campaign of anti-Americanism failed by a large margin to win the support of the Filipinos in a national election.

Had the forces of anti-Americanism won the election the result no doubt would have been heralded as a Red Victory thruout all the lands that lie behind the Iron Curtain. Such a result would have strengthened the Reds in both the East and the West. Measured in terms of our own defenses, a friendly government in the Philippines is worth many divisions of soldiers to us.

TRUMAN DID RIGHT

Former President Harry Truman did the proper thing last week in declining to appear before a congressional committee by command. Attempting to subpoena him was a stupid action, out of keeping with the American tradition of a division of powers. The former chief executive might very properly been invited to appear, and an invitation probably would have been accepted. But no President, past or present, should be subject to the orders of a committee of congressmen.

And we are glad President Ike came to the defense of his former boss with a pat on the back for his unquestioned loyalty.

It is a fact, pretty well established and generally recognized, that our government was loaded with Reds during World War II. Russian agents had worked themselves into positions of responsibility and no doubt did irreparable damage to our cause. We have no assurance that the spys have been completely eradicated even at this time, and there should be no abatement in the efforts that are being made to ferret them out. There is no need for becoming hysterical now however for the things that happened a dozen years ago.

During the war the Russians were our allies. We were on the same side of the argument at that time. It is obvious now that they took advantage of our friendship. We were too gullible and they played us for suckers.

Checking the records now and rechecking them again and again in our efforts to dig out the facts of the 'forties is a proper procedure. Out of such studies may come information that will enable us to act more wisely in the present management of our affairs and in our future dealings with other nations. But there is no justification now for a rehash of the old records merely for partisan political purposes, and the manner in which the investigating committee is proceeding strengthens the suspicion that that is its chief purpose.

GIVE IT A FAIR TRIAL

One government agency that, in our book, has justified its existence up to this point is the Soil Conservation Service. Up here on the flat plateau on which we live we have been favorably impressed by the contribution that has been made by the men of this service. They have contributed much toward a better overall understanding of the problems of flood control, drainage and land use. We are satisfied that in this area they are doing a good job.

Feeling as we do about their performance record and knowing that we are just off to a good start in what can be accomplished under this program, we would of course be opposed to any changes in the organization that had for their purpose a curtailment of the activities. At the present time there is quite an argument as to whether recent administration changes in the organization of the service were made for that purpose.

The administration position in this argument is that the changes are being made solely in the interests of economy and efficiency, and that the effectiveness of the service is not being jeopardized by these changes.

Economy, ever a laudable objective and now, if ever, a necessity, should not be discouraged. The present administration was elected on an economy platform. If by reorganization and greater efficiency a dollar can be saved then we should have the reorganization. There is never a valid argument for inefficiency and waste.

Under the circumstances, therefore, we can see no good reason for alarm over the prospect at this time. The administration should be given a fair opportunity to prove itself.

Whether the administration's program fails to achieve its objective, or if the economy objective is achieved by an unwarranted curtailment of services, are questions that can be given proper consideration after a period of experience.

A STORY WORTH TELLING

President Eisenhower spent a couple of days with our Canadian neighbors last week and, needless to say, he was well received. The Canadians like Ike too.

A few weeks ago he and the President of Mexico joined in the dedication of a power plant on our southern border. That too was a pleasant occasion. We seem to be getting along pretty well among ourselves up here on the North American continent.

These meetings may or may not have been important from the standpoint of solving problems of continental concern. There probably were no serious differences requiring attention.

The meetings were well worth while however as a means of reminding the rest of the world that we do get along well with our neighbors; that along both our northern and southern boudaries there are thousands of miles of unfortified borders—and nobody on either side of the lines worrying about it. That is a story that cannot be told too often.

We will go along with Lud Roo and his suggestion in the Montevideo News that any republican candidate seeking to unseat Senator Hubert Humphrey should be "either a young fellow who is running for practice and the future; or an older member of the party who has gotten philosophical and is willing to be a candidate so he can help keep certain ideas of government alive." A lot of things can happen between now and next November but there is nothing to indicate that Humphrey is losing ground. And if the election were held today the result would be a landslide in his favor.

MAYBE TEACHER SHOULD LABEL 'EM

Seven sets of twins anywhere is news. When they're all enrolled in one high school, it's big news. But when only one pair of 'em is "mixed" it becomes confusing, especially to teachers. In Cathedral High at St. Cloud are the Gardner and the Sobkoviak twin sisters, the Hughes, Keller, Weber, and Murray twin brothers, and, just to be different, Patrick and Patricia McGuire, twin brother and sister.

Report to the People

By Governor C. Elmer Andersen

Earnings of the Rehabilitated

I want to give you a brief report on what the state division of vocational rehabilitation is doing to train the disabled to work and earn their way where such rehabilitation is possible. The division reports that 749 persons with disabilities have been equipped through training or retraining in the past year to earn funds for their support and fill useful places in society.

Careful surveys indicate that these rehabilitated men and women have earned $1,720,888 in wages during the past year. Costs of the training amounted to only $193,823. Average weekly wage was $44.20. How much of an asset these men and women have become may be seen from another figure from the Division. The estimated income tax paid during the year by these rehabilitated workers was $226,828.

But money is not all. A report of the division says: "The restoration of faith, hope and self-reliance in those struck by misfortune repays the state's investment in more ways than any balance sheet can reveal. The pride of a person in having an occupation is beyond measure."

The tackle that stopped the game

Determined as any All-American, young Danny Brennan plunged hard for a touchdown. But 10-year-old Joe Todd was just as determined to stop him. There was a smack—then someone yelled, "Hey, Joey's hurt!"

Working on a telephone pole nearby, repairman Glenn Lowell heard the cry, hurried over. Below the boy's left eye was a cut which Glenn's first aid experience told him would need stitches. Applying a temporary bandage, he stopped for Joey's mother, drove them to the hospital, and waited while the injury was treated.

When the appreciative mother praised him, Lowell modestly declined credit, explaining that all telephone men like himself were trained for emergencies.

"Gosh," Joey piped up, "I guess everybody's a 'safety man' on your team!"

In this true telephone story, only names have been changed. The alert repairman, Glenn Lowell, may be working in your town today. For wherever you live you can depend on telephone folks for prompt help in emergencies—just as you depend on your telephone itself.

To maintain reliable everyday service—to be ready for emergencies, too—your telephone company must charge adequate rates. For we must pay good wages for workers like Glenn Lowell; we must train them well and provide them with good equipment . . . to continue to make your telephone worth more than it costs.

Thrill Maker from start to stop (That's T.T. Dynaflow!)

You ought to try it just to be familiar with the great advance in this fully automatic transmission that Buick engineers have accomplished.

You ought to try it just for the fun of bossing a drive where you don't do a blessed thing but steer and press the gas or the brake pedal as you go.

But, pure and simple, you ought to try it for thrills.

We mean the thrill of instant getaway response — with two turbines doing the job that one did before.

We mean the thrill of whisper-quiet acceleration — where you barely hear the sound of power build-up, or of flowing oil at work.

And, most emphatically, we mean the thrill of perfect and sublime smoothness from start to stop — the thrill of moving from standstill to and through all travel ranges in one, progressive, infinitely smooth forward "carry" without a gear ever shifting or a clutch-pedal pushed — the thrill, rarely found elsewhere, of silky smoothness in deceleration, too.

Will you be our guest at a sampling of a Buick with TT Dynaflow?

Will you try the sweetest, the smoothest and the simplest-to-operate automatic transmission yet devised — and powered by the highest-compression engines in Buick history, including the world's newest V8 in SUPER and ROADMASTER models?

Drop in on us this week and we'll be happy to accommodate you.

Alexander Pope has said, "Hope springs eternal in the human breast." And most of us will certainly not dispute his word. Who does not look for a better tomorrow? Who does not expect our troubles and sorrows will be eased next week, next month, or next year? It is human nature, and it is a wonderful attribute.

But mere wishful thinking and idle day-dreaming will do little to make our hopes come true. A passive attitude toward our ambitions will surely find us no better than before. This is true in all walks of life; in work, in play, in day-to-day living.

Along with this hope within us, other God-given gifts must be utilized. Habits of love, generosity, and brotherhood must be developed and our faith strengthened by regular attendance at our spiritual home, the Church.

The Bible . . . the Word of God . . . has been given to us as a pattern, a way of life for all to follow. Here we find the greatest promise ever given—that of eternal life. Through its great truths our hopes and ambitions are brought into proper perspective and we are able to press forward with confidence.

Take advantage of this great gift. Truly it is the Book of Hope!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Attendance in State Rural Schools Is up

More Minnesota teen-age rural boys and girls are answering the school bell today than 10 years ago—enough more to boost the state to 24th place in 1950 from its low 40th place among other states in 1940.

In 1940 only 53 per cent of Minnesota's 16 and 17 year old farm boys and girls were attending high school. Today 72 per cent are attending.

Pennington county showed a 8.4 per cent increase over the earlier survey, with 75 per cent of its 16 and 17 year olds in school, compared with 66.6 per cent enrolled in 1940. Figures are for total attendance — both farm and small town students.

The county now ranks 61st among the state's 87 counties. In 1940 it ranked 32d. Marshall county ranks 46th and Red Lake county 63d.

These figures come from a study by Lowry Nelson, professor of rural sociology at the University of Minnesota. He says the large increase in farm boys and girls attending high school is responsible for the overall boost in attendance.

Eighty-five of Minnesota's 87 counties improved attendance, some showing startling changes in rank.

Other counties, high in 1940 fell. Itasca county, 6th in 1940 with 76 per cent attending, now ranks 54th with 77 per cent attending. Kittson county, sixth in 1940 with 69.4 per cent attending, fell to 86th place with 64.9 per cent attending.

Nelson points out that these rankings are based on 1950 census figures and that improvements probably have occurred since then.

In the 16-17 year old group, a total of 80.1 per cent attended school in 1950, compared with 70.9 in 1940. Urban school attendance showed a slight increase — from 83.4 to 84.7 Rural non-farm (small town) attendance rose from 77.5 to 82.7 per cent.

Nelson says that in 1950 Minnesota exceeded the average U. S. enrollment in every age class. In 1940, the state's percentage of farm boys and girls enrolled in high school fell below the national average. But in 1950, it was five points ahead of the national average of 67.2 per cent enrolled.

Minnesota is among the four states which made the most marked improvement in the ten year period. Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan and Iowa each rose 11 points or more on the 48-state scale.

$350,000 in State Funds Allocated to Bemidji Plant

A $350,000 state allocation was approved Friday by the Minnesota iron range resources and rehabilitation commission to help start a plant at Bemidji to manufacture "Nu-Ply," a type of plywood.

State Sen. Leonard Dickinson and State Rep. John McKee, both of Bemidji, indicated at least 100 persons might be employed and that construction on the plant could begin immediately with hopes of operation within a few months.

Bemidji residents have raised their promised $150,000, Dickinson said, and Lake Superior Timber Co. has agreed to put up $100,000.

Senator Thye to Study Foreign Aid in Far East Areas

Leaving from Seattle Today on 30-day Trip to Japan, Korea, India

Senator Edward J. Thye of Minnesota will visit two of the most sensitive and important areas in this country's mutual security program—Korea and Indo-China—on a 30-day trip to the Far East, which he is undertaking for the senate committee on appropriations.

Senator Thye will leave Seattle, Washington, November 18, following two days of public hearings on oil industry problems of the Pacific Northwest, which he will conduct there as chairman of the senate committee on small business. The senator's itinerary will include Japan, Korea, Formosa, Hong Kong, Indo-China, India, and Pakistan. He will return to the United States via Rome and will spend two days in Spain, where the United States has recently negotiated for air bases as part of the defense plans of the free world. He will arrive in New York December 18 and will return immediately to his home in Northfield.

In making the trip, Senator Thye announced that he will particularly study the rehabilitation program in Korea and the foreign aid operations in Indo-China as these areas are regarded as critical in the program because of Communist penetration by force in those countries. Japan, Formosa, India, Pakistan, and Spain are also important in the study.

Senator Thye will be accompanied on the trip by his administrative assistant, Carl L. Weicht, who will assist in the survey study and the preparation of the senator's report to the appropriations committee.

Highway Users to Testify in St. Paul November 19 & 20

Roads Study Commission Calls Public Hearings in State Office Building

The Minnesota Highway Study commission has scheduled public hearings for highway users in the State Office Building Auditorium, St. Paul, November 19th and 20th.

The 1953 legislature created the commission to investigate and study all factors contributing to a sound highway policy for the state, including (but not limited to) the following:

1. The adequacy of existing highways and the needs for additional highways;
2. The use of available funds and the need for additional funds;
3. The adequacy of present taxes for highway purposes and the need for new or increased taxes for highway purposes;
4. The present distribution of taxes for highway purposes and the need for revision thereof;
5. Weights and lengths of trucks and wear and tear caused by the use of trucks and buses upon public highways in the state;
6. Toll roads and turnpikes.

A highway user is anyone who owns or drives an automobile, truck, bus or any other vehicle on the streets, roads or highways. Although there are more than 1¼ million licensed motor cars, trucks and buses in the state of Minnesota, the Commission plans to accommodate all interested persons and groups who want to be heard within the two day schedule. It is contemplated that several persons and groups will combine their presentations to the commission in order to avoid duplication.

Optometrists of Minnesota Offer Two Scholarships

The Minnesota Optometric Association in conjunction with the Pennsylvania State College of Optometry is offering two scholarships to college students, it was announced today by Dr. Owen Wilke, Marshall, vice president of MOA. "One scholarship will be for four years with full tuition, while the other will be for four years with half tuition," Dr. Wilke said. He said the scholarships will have a monetary value of $2200 and $1100 respectively.

The Pennsylvania College scholarships may be applied for by any qualified and deserving young man or woman of good moral character residing in Minnesota providing the following requirements are met. Decision of the judges who will select the scholarship winners from the list of applicants will of course be final.

(1) Only those college students who have or will have completed two years of preoptometric college work shall be eligible. (2) Only those students who rank in the upper two-fifths of their classes during their last academic year shall be eligible. (3) Recipients will be selected on the basis of scholastic standing and personal interview.

Dr. Wilke pointed out that to qualify for a scholarship, students should send a letter of application, accompanied by a college transcript, photograph, and two letters of recommendation to his office in Marshall not later than March 1, 1954 for consideration.

MORE THAN 150 LOCAL TAXES

Six kinds of Minnesota school districts are authorized to levy [illegible] different kinds of tax, according to a tax manual recently issued by Richard A Golling, Minnesota Public Examiner. Villages have 32 different levies at their beck, towns 38; cities 36; counties 33 — besides which there are a general housing and an airports tax provision, plus state and federal income taxes, and all the hidden excise taxes that dig deep into every pocketbook. On top of all of which are many "special" taxes authorized only for certain specified governing bodies thruout the state. Specified purposes run the alphabetical gamut from advertising to welfare.

Radio, TV Stars Visit Hospital

Four famous radio and television newscasters recently toured Children's Hospital in St. Paul. The four — Cal Karnstedt, KSTP, Charles McCuen, WCCO-TV, John Ford, WTCN, and Rolf Hertsgaard, WCCO—visited with many of the young patients and were shown the latest in medical techniques and facilities.

They were also shown how effective non-profit health plans have proved to be for protection against medical and hospital costs. Miss Eleanor Sackett, Children's Hospital Administrator, told them that non-profit Blue Cross and Blue Shield give her patients the most health-care protection at the lowest possible cost.

While touring the operating room, the newscasters learned that Blue Shield—the doctor's own plan — provides allowances for over 1,000 medical-surgical procedures. Over 2,800 Minnesota Doctors of Medicine actively participate in Blue Shield, they were told.

Concerning health-care protection, Cal Karnstedt says, "After seeing Blue Cross and Blue Shield in action, I'm convinced that they give these youngsters the full protection they need." Charles McCuen added, "In my opinion, no family should be without this fine, low-cost protection."

Complete, free information on these non-profit hospital and medical care plans may be obtained by writing directly to Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Dept. WP-11, 2610 University Ave., St. Paul 14, Minnesota. A postcard will do.

Development of the electric furnace, to replace open hearths at steel plants, is sponsored jointly by electric utility companies and the bituminous coal industry research agency.

LONG TIME ON THE JOB

In 1885 Monley Johnson Sr. started working in the plant of the Fergus Falls Journal. 11 years later took over the Advocate at Henning in the same county, now published by his son Lyn, where at 85 he still actively helps with the work . . . Mrs. Margaret Stanton flew from Seattle to Blue Earth for the wedding anniversary of her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hines — which is not too unusual except that this was the golden anniversary and Mrs. Stanton is 91 . . . One of the few century-old business establishments in the state, if not the only one, is the First National Bank of St. Paul . . . Four Bricelyn business men regularly "coffee" together, a pleasant Minnesota pastime enjoyed by many, but few of whom can muster a quartet totaling 209 years of business in the same community: Ted Guilford, blacksmith, Ed Hebert, jeweler, John Peterson, buttermaker, O. A. S. Johnson, clothier, each in Bricelyn 50 years or more.

Coal Important To Steel

The steel industry in Pennsylvania may use more coal in 1953 than ever before in history. The new Fairless Works at Morrisville, Pa., which began operation last December and is expected to be fully completed by fall, will require about 600 railroad cars of bituminous coal each week when operating at full capacity. Another evidence of expanding steel capacity is the new 1,000-tons-a-day blast furnace opened recently by Crucible Stel at Midland.

COOK STOVE for iron ore

ALMOST DWARFED against the sky, iron ore worker Paul Benson watches this revolving kiln in which wet ore from a mine near Crosby, Minn., is cooked to remove excess water. This cooking cuts down the ore's weight for shipping and increases its iron content. Iron mining in Minnesota today is a long way from being a simple "scoop-and-ship" operation. Over one-third of Minnesota's ore has to be concentrated in some manner like this—an expensive extra which adds to its competitive cost. To enable our state's iron ore to go on competing successfully against ores from other areas, our iron mining industry must be treated as fairly as other Minnesota industries.

Report Analyzes Age Groups in the Nation

Since the end of World War II, 30 million babies have been born in the United States. Due mainly to this postwar baby boom, the number of young people — under 20 — in the U. S. is now 11 million greater than it was in 1940.

This is a growth equal to the combined populations of Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Detroit and Cleveland, reports the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance company.

Since 1940 the number of people aged 65 and over has risen by over four million. Thus the population in the essentially dependent age groups, young and old, has gone up 15 million, against an increase of only 13 million in the number of persons aged 20-64, the age group to whom the dependent population must look for shelter and the production of goods for their living necessities and comforts, the report points out.

In 1940, people in the age group from 20-64 made up nearly 59 per cent of the total population. Today they comprise 56¼ per cent, and by 1965, if population factors continue at about their current rates, only 52 per cent of the American people will be in the 20-64 group. This will be approximately the same ratio as prevailed back in 1900, but at the beginning of the century there were proportionately far more young people and far fewer old people in the dependent age groups.

In 1900 only four per cent of the population were 65 or over, and 44 per cent were under 20. Thus there were 11 young people to every person of 65 or over.

Today the ratio is only four young people to each elderly person, and the proportion will be approximately the same in 1965, when on the basis of population trend estimates over nine per cent of the population will be 65 or more, and nearly 39 per cent will be under 20.

This again points up the fact, says the report, that the basic problem of achieving adequate social security for the future is not one of tax rates, but of steadily increasing production per capita by the working-age group, who must turn out enough goods and services each year to provide for themselves and all dependents.

Social Security Tax Increase Due on January 1, 1954

Two Pct. to Be Deducted from Workers' Pay Checks; Now Paying 1½ Per Cent

The social security tax rate for persons whose work counts toward old-age and survivors insurance is scheduled to increase on the first of January, Walter D. Kistler, manager of the Grand Forks social security office, reminded employers, employees, and self-employed people today.

This scheduled increase in tax contribution is in accordance with the 1950 amendments to the social security law, and was enacted by Congress in anticipation of future obligations of the program.

Employers in jobs covered by the law will have 2 percent instead of the present 1½ percent deducted from their pay beginning with the first of January up to earnings of $3600 a year; their employers will contribute an equal amount.

The new rates will apply to all taxable wages paid after December 31, 1953, regardless of when earned.

The social security tax for the self-employed is scheduled to increase from the present 2¼ percent to 3 percent, for the period commencing January 1, 1954. Since the self-employed whose work is covered by the law pay their tax just once yearly at the time of filing their Federal income tax return, they will pay the present 2¼ percent social security tax on their 1953 income that counts toward social security. This will be due not later than March 15, 1954. Their first payments at the increased rate of 3 percent will be due March 15, 1955, for the calendar year 1954.

Rev. J. Runestad of Oklee to Move to Red Lake Falls

Rev. J. M. Runestad, pastor of the four churches of the Oklee Lutheran parish since 1947, has accepted a call to serve Bethany Lutheran church in Red Lake Falls.

Pastor Runestad, who came to Oklee from Badger, in Sept. 1947, will leave for his new field Feb. 1. The Oklee parish is made up of Zion in the village of Oklee, Immanuel in Plummer, and the two rural churches of Salem and Valle.

Bethany in Red Lake Falls is a single church parish which has been served primarily by students and professors from Concordia college in Moorhead.

The Oklee parish will name a call committee to begin arrangements for a successor to Pastor Runestad.

Marshall Court Term Concluded

Verdict Given for Argyle Man in Car Accident Case

A Marshall county petit jury returned a verdict for the defendant, Arvid Dahlin of Argyle in two suits brought against him for damages and personal injury by Mabel and Thomas Vause of Winnipeg in district court in Warren November 6.

Mrs. Vause sued for $25,000 and Mr. Vause for $5,300, the action arising out of a car crash on Highway No. 1 between Alvarado and Oslo on June 4, 1951, said Edwin K. Rokke, clerk of district court.

Three days of court action were necessary to complete the case. Both plaintiff and defendant were represented by Minneapolis attorneys.

The cases completed the jury work for the present term at which Judge Paul A. Lundgren of Thief River Falls presided.

Retail Seed Men Invited to Attend 'U' Short Course

A short course for retail seed dealers—the first such course offered by the University of Minnesota—will be held Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 14-15 on the St. Paul campus.

Announcement of the course came today from J. O. Christianson, director of short courses. Chairman of the event is W. M. Myers, head of the University's agronomy department.

The course is open to all interested in the seed business and is designed to inform seed dealers of the role University research and seed certification play in developing better seed. Farmers depend on seed dealers and often accept their recommendations on seed varieties.

Thus, a responsible seed dealer plays a leading role in serving his community by bettering crop production, Myers said.

160 Hear Talk at C. and C. on Salesmanship

Minneapolis Man Gives Address; 14 Nominated for 7 Directors' Posts

Addressing 160 members of the Civic and Commerce association and their employes and members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at a dinner meeting last Thursday evening in the Elks club rooms, John Grill, sales promotion manager of Coast-to-Coast Stores in Minneapolis, gave a stimulating address on the topic, "Selling Is Fun."

Introduced by L. A. Ihle, C. & C. president, Grill said that the three A's of successful salesmanship are ability, attitude and appearance. He stated that other essential attributes include courtesy, attention and interest, information and helpfulness, entertainment, inspiration and enthusiasm, good nature and the ability to remember names.

As a diversion, Grill gave a demonstration of sales technique as shown by a seller of musical gadgets at the state fair.

In the association's business session, Art Christianson, co-chairman of the nominating committee submitted the names of 14 nominees for seven posts as director to be filled in the annual election, results of which will be announced at the next meeting Thursday noon, December 3. No additional nominations were made from the floor. Ballots for the election are being mailed out today.

County Agent Wm. Penning reported on the successful 4-H club achievement banquet held recently under the sponsorship of the C. & C., and thanked the association for its cooperation.

Walt Kavanaugh, president of the Junior Chamber, discussed the traffic safety crusade sponsored locally by the Jaycees, and distributed pledge cards which were signed by a large number of members, and which will be forwarded to Governor C. Elmer Anderson.

J. M. Roche, secretary of the C. & C., stated that local merchants agreed that the recent Appreciation Days promotion was a success. He also reported on the advance visit to be paid by Santa Claus to local children in the municipal Auditorium December 3, 4 and 5 and 10, 11 and 12. Details of his visit are given elsewhere in this issue of the Times.

Fire Department Plans Open House Friday Afternoon

Public Invited to View New Rural Fire Truck Bought by 2 Townships

The first open house ever staged by the local fire department will be held at the fire hall Friday afternoon. The public is invited to see the quarters and equipment, Chief Roy Langevin announced.

Various items and tools used in fire fighting will be on display, as will the new civil defense trailer pump allocated to Thief River Falls by the state, and the new rural fire truck purchased by the townships of Rocksbury and North. Residents of Rocksbury and North Townships are especially urged to attend to see their new truck, which is equipped and manned by the city.

Coffee will be served by C. Gustafson & Son, successful bidder of the chassis of the rural fire truck. The Luverne Apparatus Co. built the pump and body on the truck.

Minn. Historical Society
Historical Building
St. Paul 1, Minn.

Dianne Lendobeja of [illegible] River Falls, will leave [illegible] evening to attend the Na[illegible] 4-H Club Congress being [illegible] next week in Chicago.

Dryden Asks Early Christmas Mailing

With the Christmas mailing rush looming up, Postmaster R. J. Dryden today appealed to local citizens to cooperate with the postoffice department by properly preparing their letters and parcels and by mailing them as early as possible.

He asked that all matter be plainly and completely addressed in ink, and that the sender's return address be placed on the outside of parcels, as well as on a slip placed inside. Do not enclose letters in parcels, he warned, unless first-class postage is paid on them.

Dryden suggested that holiday greeting cards be sent by first-class mail in order that they may be sealed and contain written messages and may be forwarded if necessary. He also asked that cards for delivery in Thief River Falls be separated by the sender from those going out of town and that they be tied up in separate bundles.

Dryden pointed out that postoffice patrons can save time by buying supplies by postage stamps in advance of the last-minute mailing rush.

20c to 60c Rate Boost Here Asked by Phone Company

Hearing on Telephone Rate Increases Opened Last Week in St. Paul

Increases in rates ranging from 20 cents to 60 cents per month for Thief River Falls telephone users are being asked by the Northwestern Bell Telephone company in hearings that opened last week before the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission; it was announced by A. J. Rau, manager of the local exchange.

If the request is granted, he stated, rates for one-party business phones will rise from $7.60 as at present to $8.20; two party business, from $6.50 to $7; rural business, from $4.60 to $5.10; one-party residence, from $3.80 to $4.10; two-party residence, from $3.20 to $3.45; four-party, from $2.85 to $3.05; and rural residence, from $3.25 to $3.50.

Earlier in the hearing, Carl O. Lindeman, Minnesota vice president of the phone company, declared that present earnings in Minnesota were too low. He cited substantial increases in wages and material prices, along with high taxes, as having raised operating costs to the highest level in the Company's experience.

He said further that these higher costs have increased the investment required for each telephone. In 1946, the Company had invested $186 for each telephone in service. During the last twelve months, new telephones added require an average investment of $464 per phone.

Langevin stated that those having toys to spare may either bring them to the fire hall or phone 718 and firemen will pick them up.

The N. P. Benson Optical Co., with headquarters in Minneapolis, will establish a branch in Thief River Falls about December 15, it was announced this week by Leslie W. Myers, chairman of the board and general branch manager.

The local branch, one of 27 operated by the company, which was established in 1913 and employs nearly 600 persons, will be located in the quarters in the L. B. Hartz building on Horace av., recently vacated by the Scherer Paint Co.

In charge here will be Ray Ranta, with the Benson company the past seven years, and recently of Bemidji. Names of other local employees will be announced later, according to Walter G. Gengerke, northern zone manager, and Merlin A. Strand, field representative, both of Duluth, who were in Thief River Falls early this week to complete arrangements.

Gengerke stated that the local branch will grind spectacle lenses to fill the need of optometrists in this city and other communities in Northwestern Minnesota.

In Thief River Falls, it was announced, carriers will accept contributions given them for the purpose when they make their rounds next Tuesday, December 1. They will not solicit donations, it was explained.

Evening School Classes to Be Set up During Winter

Area Vocational School Director Invites Calls from Interested Persons

Housewives, tradesmen, mechanics, servicemen, and office workers interested in extending their knowledge in their particular fields will have an opportunity to attend evening school classes this winter, it was announced today by C. W. Pope, director of the area vocational school.

Instruction will be offered thru the facilities of the Thief River Falls public schools. Plans are being completed to set up the program for starting soon, altho all courses will not begin on the same date. Short unit courses in various fields, with sections meeting one or two nights per week, will be set up.

In trade courses anyone may attend who is employed in the trade, or who is temporarily unemployed. In some cases one might be employed in a closely allied trade and still be eligible for admission. Courses will be in the general categories of trades, business and distributive education, homemaking, and agriculture, all under competent instructors. Courses with insufficient enrollment, however, will not be carried on, Pope said.

Those interested, he stated, should plan now to set aside an evening or two a week for self-improvement through evening school study. Nominal charges will prevail for registration and other fees where necessary. A further announcement will follow regarding the course offerings. Address inquiries to phone 1033, area vocational-technical school.

Following a conference with attorneys at the opening of the November term of Pennington county district court in this city Monday, Judge Paul A. Lundgren announced that the petit jury will be summoned to report for duty Monday morning, December 7, at 10 o'clock.

Arraigned last Monday on a charge of selling intoxicating liquor without a license, Joe Kulseth pleaded innocent, and his case will be the first to be heard by the jury December 7. The offense is a gross misdemeanor.

Also pleading innocent Monday was Wilton Veitleson, charged by the state with child abandonment. His case will be the second one to be heard by the jury.

Other cases scheduled at present for jury consideration include those of Madeline Radville vs. Melvin Wirak; the cases of Marilyn J. Olsen and Russell E. Olson vs. John Rakowski et al.; Esther Dillon Fox vs. Darby Anderson; Emery Delorme vs. Axel Naplin; and Mary Madison vs. Jack Sylvester and Wm. Sylvester.

Santa Claus Will Open Pre-holiday Visits Next Week

To Be in City Auditorium December 3, 4 and 5 and Again December 10, 11, 12

Santa Claus will pay not one but six visits to Thief River Falls youngsters early in December, the C. & C. merchants committee announced today.

The jolly old saint will be stationed in the municipal auditorium from 2 to 5 o'clock Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 3, 4 and 5, and the same days of the following week, December 10, 11 and 12.

The six appearances will avoid the turmoil and crowding that characterized Santa's visits in former years, and will give him a better opportunity to visit with his young friends.

Invited to meet Santa are children to the age of ten, accompanied by an adult. The youngsters will be given popcorn balls and balloons as a memento of the visit.

Thanksgiving Day Is Observed Thursday

Attendance at special services in local churches, together with many family gatherings, will mark the observance of Thanksgiving Day in the Thief River Falls community. School pupils will enjoy a two-day holiday Thursday and Friday.

It will be a white Thanksgiving, thanks to a six inch snowfall, the first of the season, recorded last Friday and Saturday on the KTRF gauge.

Gov. C. Elmer Anderson Tuesday proclaimed Nov. 26 as Thanksgiving day. His ninth proclamation of 1953, it read as follows:

Whereas the governor of the state of Minnesota is required by statute to "set apart and proclaim one day in each year as a day of solemn and public thanksgiving to almighty God for His blessings to the people" and whereas it has become traditional that the people of Minnesota lay aside their daily business and professional tasks to join in such observance, and whereas in this year of 1953 we have once again enjoyed the abundance of almighty God's blessings from the thousands of Minnesota farmsteads, from the acres of forest, from the minerals in the earth, from the lakes and streams and from the skill and diligence of man with divine guidance, now, therefore, I, C. Elmer Anderson, as governor of the state of Minnesota, do proclaim Thursday, the 26th day of November, A. D. 1953, be set aside as "Thanksgiving day" in our great state, and that our observance be centered on four specific points:

First, that we gather together in our respective houses of worship to give prayerful thanks for the multitude of blessings which are ours; secondly, that we pray for peace and better understanding among nations of the world; thirdly, that we pause to reflect on the importance of the family as an institution of utmost importance in the development and preservation of what is good in our nation and, fourth, that we proudly display the flag of our nation on this day as a reminder of the heritage which has come to us through many generations since the early Thanksgiving days.

At a meeting of officers of the Northern Blood Bank association Monday, November 23rd, further plans were formulated in connection with the membership drive now underway, E. A. Hamerski, president, announced. Practically all civic and fraternal organizations in the surrounding area and in Thief River Falls have been contacted with a request for assistance in the form of a committee to solicit members for the association within their own groups, or among employees of firms having representation in such groups.

Arrangements were made to contact personally by some member of the association all of these groups within the next week or two in order to further explain the aims and benefits of the association and to actually accept membership applications. Membership application blanks are being distributed to all such organizations and will be distributed to their employees by the committees appointed to assist in this membership drive.

In the event any person interested in applying for membership has not been approached on this project through some civic or fraternal organization in his area, said Hamerski, he may obtain application blanks by contacting the secretary of any of the civic or fraternal organizations in his area, or by contacting direct any of the officers or the public relations advisors of the Northern Blood Bank association.

Edna Larson Honored for 44 Years School Service

Miss Edna Larson, second from right above, who retired this year after 44 years of service in the local school system, most of that period as principal of the Washington School, received tribute from her associates at a testimonial banquet in her honor last Wednesday evening in the Trinity church dining hall.

With Miss Larson in the picture are Miss Lyda Batten, now dean of girls at Lincoln high school and a member of the local faculty for 40 years; and Elmer Bratsch, left, president of the board of education, and Supt. W. G. Claffy, both of whom spoke in praise of the long and faithful service rendered by Miss Larson.

Council Defers Action on Civil Service Setup

Mayor Submits Names of Commission to Control Police and Fire Depts.

The city council at an adjourned session Tuesday evening deferred action on the matter of approving appointments to the police and fire department civil service commissions, as submitted by Mayor Harry E. Simons, who acted in response to requests from the personnel of the two departments.

As proposed by the mayor, the same three men would serve on both commissions, his nominees including A. B. Stenberg, for a one-year term; John Anderson, two years; and Bill LaFave, three years.

The civil service commissions were created by resolution of the city council 13 years ago in 1940, but for various reasons no appointments were made until this week.

In response to a question, City Attorney Robert A. Wurst stated that giving members of the two departments civil service status would not require present personnel to take examinations except in case they are seeking promotion. All new members, however, would be required to pass tests.

A communication from the local board of education requested that the city enter into a written agreement with that body, stipulating that the city is obligated to pay whatever taxes are assessed against the old Central school grounds owned by the school district and used by the city for a parking lot and skating rink. The city attorney was instructed to draft such an agreement.

The Pennington Co. Association for Social Action submitted a protest against the granting of beer licenses to local grocery stores. The council laid the matter over, pointing out that the present licenses do not expire until August 1, 1954.

Largest of a half-dozen building permits approved at the session was one for Randall Noper, covering the erection of a motel at Main av. and Tenth st. at an estimated cost of $9,000.

After considering two proposals for engineering surveys in connection with the city's projected application for electric power from dams on the Missouri River, the council deferred action pending further study of the scope of the survey. Proposals on a per diem basis were received from Bettenburg, Townsend & Stolte of St. Paul, and from Douglas Stewart and associate.

Also laid over was a petition requesting the installation of sewer and water mains for a distance of one block on Maple av. between Gulf and Hughes st.

PMA Office Here Given New Name

Is Now Ag Stabilization and Conservation Office

In keeping with the re-organization plans of the department of agriculture, the office known as the Production and Marketing Administration (PMA) will now be identified as the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) office in lieu of "PMA". This change becomes effective immediately, said P. W. Culkins, manager of the Pennington county office.

The memorandum received by the local office also states that "all officers and employees now performing any of the functions affected by this order shall continue to perform such functions, and to exercise in connection therewith existing delegations until directed otherwise, pursuant to the authority of this order.

"All regulations, orders, and similar instruments heretofore issued by any officer of the department of agriculture relating to the functions effected by this order shall continue in full force and effect, unless withdrawn or superseded by instruments of like authority".

The "ASC" office in Thief River Falls is located in the Hartz Building.

Taxeraas Shows 1954 Studebaker

Local Distributor Now Displaying New Models

A brand new line of sedans, sports cars, and station wagons incorporating colorful interiors as well as many engineering improvements was introduced for 1954 to the motoring public this week by the Taxeraas Implement Co., local dealers.

Twenty body types are represented by the company's two- and four-door sedans, hardtop convertible, coupes, Land Cruiser, and new pleasure-utility car named the conestoga. The station wagon, like all the other models, was designed by Loewy.

The exterior lines have been enhanced by further refinements and by new interiors, elements which the Studebaker company believes will keep its cars at the head of the style parade. The interior styling, characterized by new fabrics and textures selected expressly for Studebaker, is the work of Eleanor LeMaire, well-known interior decorating expert and color stylist.

Acceleration and performance have been stepped up on both the Champion and the Commander as a result of a 7.5 to 1 compression ratio in the power plants of both cars.

New Polio Vaccine to Be Tested in Nation

A nationwide study to determine the effectiveness of a polio in preventing parilytic polio will get underway in one of more southern states during the week of February 8, 1954. Prior to this date, Dr. Jonas E. Salk, research professor of bacteriology at the University of Pittsburgh—the research grantee of the National Foundation, who developed the vaccine—will have resumed his immunization studies in Allegheny County, Pensylvania, with vaccination of 5,000 to 10,000 additional children. This was announced today by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

In a gradually expanding porgram, more than two hundred counties throughout the United States will be involved before the mass vaccination project ends by June 1, 1954. During that period, 500,000 to 1,000,000 school children of the second grade will have taken part in one of the largest studies of its kind ever undertaken. Participation will be on a voluntary basis with the consent of the child's parents or legal guardians. Final results of the evaluation study are not expected until some time in 1955.

In general, school children of the second grade will be vaccinated during a non-epidemic period and then observed during polio epidemic to evaluate the protective effects of the vaccine. The basic factor for determining the protective effects of the vaccine will be a comparison of the incidence of paralytic polio in the vaccinated group with that of children in the first and third school grades.

In announcing the vaccine study, Mr. O'Connor emphasized that the uniqueness of the project was not merely its size. "For the past sixteen years," he said, "millions of Americans have activity supported scientists in the laboratory helping them create this new potential weapon against polio. And now they will continue that cooperation and help prove whether we have really reached our goal—the conquest of polio."

In the counties selected for the study, local physicians will administer the vaccine under the supervision of the county health officer. Members of the National Foundation's 3,100 chapters will participate as volunteers in providing the many non-professional services required in the mass vaccinations. Other community and civic groups also will play a leading role in easing the task of vaccinating a half million or more children in hundreds of communities throughout the nation.

The object of the vaccine study is to determine whether the amount of antibodies resulting from vaccination will prevent paralytic polio in a child who is exposed to the disease under natural conditions. An integral part of the vaccine study is to determine how long such immunity lasts.

Shovel Snow into Street, DuChamp Asks Merchants

Street Commissioner Leo DuChamp today solicited the cooperation of local business places in shoveling snow off their sidewalks and placing it in the street, where it can be picked up by the city snow removal equipment and hauled away. He stated that after last week's snowfall, the snow was shoveled into piles and in many cases left on the sidewalk, from where it had to be moved into the street by the city crew in order to be picked up, thus entailing a large amount of extra work.

Home Agent gives Hints on Removal of Linen Stains

Are you planning to have all of your family in for Thanksgiving dinner tomorrow? If you are, very likely there will be stains on your linen tablecloth. After your holiday meal, look over your linen carefully and remove stains as soon as possible. Remember that hot soapsuds or the heat of an iron will set many stains.

Here are some tips from Home Agent Marge Olsen on removing stains which are common on table linens after Thanksgiving dinner:

Cranberry sauce. Boiling water, if it does not harm the cloth, or sometimes even warm water will remove cranberry stains. Treat the spots as soon as possible. Stretch the stained part over a bowl, fasten it with string and pour boiling water on it from a teakettle held at a height of 3 or 4 feet so the water strikes the stain forcefully.

Ice cream. If the stain contains highly colored fruit, sponge with cold or lukewarm water; then wash in warm soapsuds.

Gravy or meat juice. Sponge with cold or lukewarm water. Hot water will set the stain. If a grease spot remains, launder in warm, soapy water.

Candle wax. Scrape away as much wax as possible with a dull knife. Then place the stain between clean white blotters or paper towels and press with a warm iron, changing the blotters as they absorb the wax. Sponge with carbon tetrachloride or other grease solvent. If a color stain remains, sponge with liquid made up of 1 cup denatured alcohol and 2 cups water.

The pre Korea army spent 4 billion dollars annually while army expenditures at the end of 1952 were at the rate of $17,600,000,000.

Junior Futurity Shows

The Winter Shows at Crookston seems to be a long way off, but it's surprising how fast these important events creep up on us. We should start making plans now for exhibiting at the show. I am thinking particularly about the junior futurity livestock show. The futurity classes were established in the Winter Shows to encourage boys and girls to get and exhibit outstanding purebred heifers, gilts, ewe lambs and yearlings which could be used by them as foundation animals for new flocks and herds. I encourage all young people to exhibit at this show. All entries should be in by January 1, 1954. Send them to George Nornes, Secretary Junior Futurity Livestock Committee, Climax, Minnesota.

4-H Judging Team

Are you interested in becoming a better judge of livestock? The 4-H members of Pennington county will be called upon to have a judging team in dairy and in general livestock, and to participate at the Red River Valley Winter Shows. This will take considerable practice and planning. All 4-H members who are enrolled in a 4-H livestock judging project are eligible to compete for a place on one of these teams. The first practice session is set for December 19, 1953, at 1:30 in the Civic and Commerce Rooms in the City Auditorium.

I would like to have a large turnout for this meeting. Both dairy and general livestock members should come.

Sheep Growers Meeting

The annual Minnesota sheep growers meeting is to be held at Greenbush December 4. This date is subject to change, but the information I have received gives this day for the meeting. This will be an all day meeting and I am sure it will be of interest to all sheep growers. Northwestern Minnesota is designated as the sheep growing area of Minnesota. Let's not have it said that the Pennington county sheep growers are not interested in supporting the sheep industry. This is a very important meeting, so please try to attend.

Agricultural Short Courses

This is the season for agricultural short courses. There are a variety of short courses available to those persons interested in learning more about agriculture during the slack period of the winter. Here is one that has never been offered before; maybe you are interested. The retail seed dealers short course will be held on the St. Paul campus of the University of Minnesota, December 14. It will cost you $5.00. If you are interested come in and see me.

Dairy Trip

Are you interested in riding up to Roseau with a small group of dairy farmers to see the artificial breeding station operate? I think we could take a drive up there about the 16th of December. If you want to go, leave your name at the extension office.

Company F News Items

The National Guard recruit drive has been extended a few weeks until Dec. 12th. At the end of this time the eighteen guardsmen in the state who have brought in the most recruits will be awarded an all expense paid trip to the Rose-bowl football game on New Years Day. The reason for the extension of the drive was the fact that there are still a large number of potential guardsmen in the the state who would join if they are contacted.

Darold Dalton and Warren Kron were Monday night's two new recruits.

Capt. Oven read the company a letter from Col. McKenzie, Commander of the 2nd Battalion, in which he praised the companies of the 2nd Battalion for their work in bringing in new recruits, and expressed the hope that they would continue to increase the number of men in the battalion.

Sgt. Chet. Swanson was in charge of Monday's first class, and put the company through an hour of dismounted drill. The second hour was taken up by a movie and a class by Sgt. Flyn on the ranks and promotions of the Army and Navy.

Some lockers have been installed in the basement of the Auditorium, and everyone in the company was asked to bring all the clothes he has been issued to next week's meeting. Each man will have a separate locker in which to keep his equipment and clothes.

Pvt. Ted Stokke was named Soldier of the Week.

America's First Sports Car Reaches Market

One of the most widely discussed automobiles—the Chevrolet Corvette—has been placed in distribution. A two-passenger open model (with removable top), the car is the American auto industry's first sports car and the first to carry a plastic body built by mass production methods. The Corvette measures only 33 inches high at the door. Wheelbase is 102 inches. Traditional Chevrolet features include a special 150-horsepower "Blue-Flame" engine and a Powerglide automatic transmission. Production followed special showings of an experimental model in many cities.

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

IN 1946 Irving H. Telach, 48 Aster Avenue, Merrick, New York, went through the darkest period of his life. His wife had just undergone a serious operation for incurable cancer. It was only a matter of time, maybe a year for her, maybe two. Irving was stunned; the world had suddenly collapsed at his feet.

In the month that followed, while his wife slowly gained strength, life was a nightmare. He couldn't eat, he couldn't sleep. He lost weight. But he always tried hard to be cheerful in her presence. Apparently she noticed that he was making an effort, and said to him one day: "Irving, why are you so unhappy, don't you have any faith in God? If God, in His infinite wisdom decides to take me, why should we question His motives? Our life, here on earth, is such an infinitesimal speck of time, compared to all eternity that we don't have time to be despondent, or unhappy. All our time should be spent in preparation for the wonderful life that is to follow."

CARNEGIE

Her courage was so great, her faith so sublime that it kindled in Irving a similar faith. He felt as though a great weight had been lifted from his shoulders, and that God was carrying that weight. For the first time in his life, he felt the all embracing love of a personal God. His wife died four years later, but those last four years were the happiest they had ever known.

Every night he gets down on his knees and thanks God for the gift of faith. With His help Irving can face all that life has to offer, and beyond that all Eternity, where he is sure his loved one will be waiting.

THE TIMES

THANKSGIVING

For blessings received . . . a time to give thanks

The first Thanksgiving of the Pilgrim Fathers was more than a feast. Above all, it was a day specially set apart for giving thanks. The first cruel winter had been weathered. The first harvest had been reaped. The foothold in the New World had been made secure. True, this took vision, courage and a great deal of plain hard work. But the Pilgrims knew in their hearts that none of their gallant band could have survived without the gracious intervention of Divine Providence. And so, in all humbleness, they took a day of surcease from their toil to express their deep gratitude to Almighty God.

Let us share with the Pilgrims that unquestioning trust in God, without which they would never have embarked upon their historic voyage. Let us partake of the steadfast faith that sustained them through the trials of their first year in the New World. Let us, above all, follow their example in recognizing the Hand of the Creator in all good things that have come to us.

Each of us will find his own personal blessings for which to be thankful. All of us share in those paramount blesings that come to us as Americans. A free people, we walk in dignity and sleep at peace, and without fear. We are free to worship God, each in his own way. We are free to know the truth and speak our minds about it. We are free to choose our own work.

We are free to grow, to create, to achieve . . . each to the utmost of his own ability, with no shackles of regimentation to curb his ambition or thwart his progress.

Let us approach this Thanksgiving Day in the spirit of the Pilgrim Fathers. Let us enjoy the feast, of course; the family reunions, the gatherings with friends. But let us not lose sight of the inspiration and true purpose of the occasion: gratefully to give thanks to God for the blessings we have received.

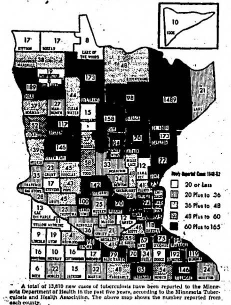
Over 13,000 New TB Cases Reported



A total of 13,870 new cases of tuberculosis have been reported to the Minnesota Department of Health in the past five years, according to the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health Association. The above map shows the number reported from each county.

"This map shows graphically that TB is highly prevalent in Minnesota," stated Dr. E. A. Meyerding, executive secretary of the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health Association. "There are many more cases that are unknown and unreported. Tuberculosis is a contagious disease, and as long as there is a single case in any county, we dare not relax in our fight against the disease."

Christmas Seals made possible education, case finding through tuberculin testing and chest X-ray surveys, medical research and the promotion of rehabilitation of patients.

Take Care of Garden Tools

If you want your garden tools and equipment in good working order next spring, check them over now, before storing them away for winter. Clean all the old soil from the tools. Any rusted surfaces can be removed with sandpaper or emery cloth. To prevent rust, coat the metal parts with oil. A bucket of sand to which crankcase oil has been added is very useful in cleaning and oiling hoes, trowels, forks and spades.

Replace broken or cracked handles on implements now so you will not have to do it during the busy garden months.

Clean your fertilizer spreader and garden duster so that no corrosion will develop during winter. Be sure the sprayer or duster is empty and thoroughly clean before storing. Wash out the fertilizer spreader with the garden hose and then let it dry before putting it away.

Clean the grass clippings from the lawn mower and oil it well before placing it in storage. If your mower needs sharpening, it may be well to have it done now during the slack season.

Check your pruning tools. Are they still sharp? You probably will want your shears and saws sharp, so they will be ready for use this fall or next spring.

Don't leave your garden hose outdoors all winter. Drain out the water and repair all cracks or leaks. Roll it up on a reel or some other support for the winter.

Store your unused fertilizer and pest control material in a dry place. Be sure everything is properly labeled and out of reach of children. Make a list of material now on hand and have your order ready for gardening next spring.

Don't save old seed. Plan to try newer varieties next year or get new seed of varieties you have already tried and found desirable.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

The Harry Dexter White case has, for the moment at least, blacked out all other political matters in the state and nation, and political leaders are now attempting to determine whether the great hubbub will have any significant long-term effect.

Whatever else it accomplished, reopening of the White matter certainly served to distract the nation's attention from the problems faced by the Eisenhower administration. Getting back to such unexciting matters as farm prices and tax policy, in the wake of the White storm, is likely to be a little dull, and it remains to be seen whether this will be the advantage of the Republicans or the Democrats.

An Issue in '54 Elections?

Republicans seemed to be divided over whether the White exposure will be a central feature in their 1954 campaigns. President Eisenhower said he hoped the matter was now ended, but National Chairman Leonard Hall indicated the GOP would press the issue hard in next year's elections.

Democrats are pounding hard on the point that the GOP's use of events that happened seven or eight years ago is simply a screen for the "failures of the present administration," and the Democrats insist, when the sound and fury has subsided, this will be clear to the public.

Republicans insist, on the other hand, that the question of "subversives in government" remains the paramount issue of the day and, that by emphasizing the events that transpired under the Truman administration they stand their best chance of retaining public confidence.

Public Opinion in Jumble

As this is written, there is no clear indication concerning how the public generaly sizes up the big controversy. All observers seem agreed that Attorney-General Herbert Brownell and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover firmly proved the point that White was a questionable figure to be holding a high administrative post.

On the other hand, their testimony also made it clear that President Truman was concerned about the matter and did consult, through three members of his cabinet, the FBI, and concluded that—in the context of the times — it was wiser not to sever White from the federal government. At worst, the former President can be charged with poor judgment, but even this judgment must be tempered by an appreciation of the temper of the times when these events occurred.

Opening of this case is for the Republicans a two-edged sword. While it serves to arouse concern over how vigilant the Truman administration was in removing questionable figures, it also serves as an opportunity for the Democrats to recount the effective and unrelenting campaign that Truman led on the world front for the containment of Communism — Greek aid, the Marshall Plan, NATO, our entry into the Korean war, many steps of which were opposed by the very critics who are now loudest in assailing Truman.

Recalling the Spirit of '46

This writer can recall vividly the spirit of the times that prevailed in the period immediately before and after 1946. I was engaged then in sounding an alarm to whomever would listen that Communists and their sympathizers had gained a dangerous position of leadership within the Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party, and there were very few people who cared to listen.

During this period it was necessary to educate many of the most conservative leaders in politics and in the press to the nature of this threat. We were in the backwash of the war in which the Soviet Union had been our ally. The Council for American-Soviet Friendship was enlisting the support of great numbers of prominent citizens, and to speak to energetically against Communist influence was to attract widespread condemnation as "red-baiting."

I recount this by way of suggesting that any final judgment concerning former President Truman's handling of the White matter must consider the context of the times. Public opinion was to change abruptly in the years that followed, so that the eyes of many people — including conservatives and Republicans — were opened, and in 1948 the DFL booted the Communists out of the Party and leading citizens stopped lending their names to Communist-front organizations.

Why Now the Rehash?

To go back now into the days of 1946 for the purpose of proving that there were failures in the handling of the problem at that time would seem to be a highly precarious undertaking.

If pressed assiduously, it could involve many of the most prominent citizens of the state and nation, those, for example, who gave their name to supporting an open meeting for the "Red" Dean of Canterbury in Minneapolis. Most, perhaps all, of them now knew they were duped, and it would accomplish little to assail them for their bad judgment.

The question likely to cause the most continuing concern, as a result of the White matter, is the precedent now set for investigating and publicly trying a former administration, seeking to hold a former President accountable in all matters of judgment. This is a point that the antagonists on both sides of the question should consider with the utmost care.

Prowler Quint Faces Roseau Club Tonight

Coach Ralph Skjod's Prowler basketball team will open its 1953-54 schedule tonight (Wednesday) when, on the Lincoln high school gymnasium court, they meet the Roseau high school Rams in an inter-district game. A preliminary game between the 'B' teams of the two schools, will begin at 7:00 p. m., with the varsity contest slated for 8:15 p. m.

On Tuesday night, Dec. 1st, on the local floor, the Prowlers will enter district competition when they play coach Darold King's Red Lake Falls Eagles.

According to coach Skjod, who is in charge of the Prowler cage squad this season, only Art Johnson and Bill Frahm, the latter a transfer from Valley City, are sure of starting berths for tonight's game against the Rams. Judging by the pre-season drills, it is probable that Gary Humes, Mark Bjorkman, Louie Wedul, Gene Bratsch, or Grant Gulseth will complete the starting lineup.

Last year, in twenty five games, big Art Johnson rolled up 409 points, and the rangy center is expected to continue his high-scoring average during this his senior year. Johnson should get considerable assistance from Bill Frahm, who was a regular with the Valley City High-liners last year. Frahm is a fine rebounder and, he, with Johnson, should provide coach Skjod's club with first-rate backboard coverage.

Escapee from EGF Prison Farm Nabbed Near City

An alert rural Thief River Falls resident who last Wednesday heard a radio report of the escape Tuesday night of an inmate of the state prison farm near East Grand Forks, notified Sheriff Arthur Rambeck of having seen a suspicious character on Highway 1 west of Thief River Falls.

Rambeck, together with deputy sheriff Elton Cummings and police chief Ken Judy visited the scene and picked up the man, who proved to be the missing escapee. He was Robert Kaygeesick of Warroad.

He was turned over by the sheriff's office Thursday to a warden from the St. Cloud reformatory, where he had been confined previously to being sent to the prison farm. He was taken back to St. Cloud.

Hunter Killed in Marshall County

Services Conducted for Chas. Tuseth, Beltrami

Funeral services were conducted last Wednesday at Greenview, Minnesota, for Charles Tuseth 31, of Beltrami, who was killed by a stray bullet November 14 while hunting deer east of Middle River in Linsell township, Marshall county.

One of a party of 12 hunters, he had been taking observations from the top of his car, and just as he came down to the ground he was hit by a bullet at the base of his neck.

None of his own party had yet commenced hunting, hence it was determined the bullet came from some other group in the area. No inquest was held.

Tuseth was born June 22, 1922 at Greenview, and was married to the former Doris Walle of Nielsville.

She survives with three children, Diana Lynn, Clavin Charles and Dennis Day, all at home; his mother, Mrs. Helga Tuseth, Beltrami; three brothers, Robert of Beltrami; Philip, with the U. S. Army, and Horace, of Memphis, Tenn., and a sister, Miss Alice Tuseth of Rochester, Minn.

223 Deer Were Shot on Mud Lake Refuge

Two hundred and twenty-three deer were shot on Mud Lake Refuge during the three-day open season from November 14th thru 16th, refuge officials announced. The kill this year compares favorably to last year when 222 deer were taken and when the refuge was open for the whole nine day season. However, almost half of the open area last year was burned over, which forced many deer out of the area. An estimated total of 750 hunters used the refuge this season.

The checking station data continues to support the fact that the Mud Lake Refuge deer herd is in excellent condition. Fawns composed over 45% of the total take and the doe-fawn ratio was 1 to 1.79, which is considerably better than the general state average. At least eight large bucks were taken which dressed out at over 200 lbs. The heaviest was a 240 lb. dressed animal whose live weight would approximate 300 lbs.

Four ear-tagged deer were shot on the refuge and reports are starting to come in on some tagged deer shot outside the refuge. Refuge personnel live-trap deer in the winter and place aluminum tags in the deer's ear. The return of these tags provides valuable data on the length of life, movements and weight gains of deer. By examining the lower jaws of these tagged deer it is possible to establish an aging system for this locality. Any hunter who shot a tagged deer is urged to turn over the information to the refuge or state conservation personnel.

Despite efforts to educate hunters against shooting moose and intensive patrol action by wardens and refuge personnel, at least five moose were shot during the three days. Three of the moose were salvaged for meat and sold in local butcher shops. If these moose were left undisturbed and continued to increase as they have recently, it is within the realm of possibility that a permit season could be held to take off a selected number of animals.

Prowler Football Team Enjoys Its Minneapolis Trip

The Prowler football squad, district and regional champions, and their coaches returned here early Sunday morning from their trip to Minneapolis where they witnessed the Minnesota vs. Wisconsin Big Ten football game, and which ended in 21 to 21 draw.

The arrangements for the trip was made by the local Rotary club and Coach Ralph Skjod, in behalf of the squad and his assistants, Joe Mrkonich, Dick Edlund, and Derwood Lund, expressed his appreciation, and thanks to the local Rotary members.

That the trip was a "treat" for the squad can be judged by the fact that only three of the squad members had previously witnessed a Minnesota Gopher football game.

Guard Recruiting Drive Is Extended

To Continue Four Weeks Longer, Says Gen. Nelson

More than 1650 men have joined the Minnesota National Guard during the fall recruiting campaign, Major General J. E. Nelson, state adjutant general, announced today. The Guard's present strength of more than 5900 officers and men represents a 27% gain since the recruiting drive started September 14.

Originally scheduled to end on November 14, the recruiting campaign has been extended for four more weeks to December 12. At that time it is expected that the Guard strength in Minnesota will be approximately 6500, General Nelson said.

National Guard units are located in 66 Minnesota cities including Thief River Falls. Principal organization is the 47th Infantry (Viking) Division which served on active duty at Camp Rucker, Alabama, from January 1951 until January 1953.

The Opener

A new scoreboard, a new coach, and a new team will greet the local basketball fans tonight when they trek into the Lincoln high school gymnasium for the opening game of the Prowlers 1953-54 season. Coach Ralph Skjod, who has taken over the coaching reins relinquished by Bob Nick, has only one of last season's starters, Art Johnson, returning for this year's campaign.

Players who were on the tournament squad last year, and who are available for this season's team are Gary Humes, Gene Bratsch, Grant Gulseth, and Ronnie Melhouse, and in addition the Prowler coached gained a valuable squad member when Bill Frahm, a transfer from Valley City, enrolled in the junior class.

Although there is some fine basketball material on hand, it is certain that the Prowlers will miss the services of the boys that graduated this spring—Gary Smith, Dude Rafteseth, Bob Christensen, LeRoy Aasland, and Larry Evenstad.

Following tonight's opening game against coach Ambrose Kramer's Roseau Rams, the Prowlers, on Tuesday night, Dec. 1st, will enter district competition by meeting coach Darold King's Red Lake Falls Eagles on the local floor.

The game tonight will mark the 27th time that Roseau and the Prowlers have engaged in a basketball tilt, and during that series, which began back in 1923-24 when a Prowler team, coached by Leonard Thune and captained by "Pinks" Penny, defeated Roseau, 34 to 5, the locals have won twenty two games while losing six.

Those were great days back in the early 20's, and we can recall one game during the 1924-25 season, played at Roseau, which was won by the Prowlers, 7 to 5. The score at the half-time intermission, believe it or not, was 1 to 0 in favor of the Prowlers. The return game with Roseau that year, played on the old Auditorium floor, was a 17 to 2 triumph for the locals.

Department of New Business

The boys that were the breakfast guests of Hilmer Lunke at his deer-hunting camp are giving him every encouragement to patent his pancake recipe. They contend that if Hilmer can get a patent on the pancakes he serves for breakfast, he, Hilmer, will "have it made." Not that Hilmer's pancakes will cause a commotion in the breakfast food field, but they will create a furor in the plastic shingle business.

The boys are willing to submit unpaid testimonials to the elasticity and acid-resistant qualities of these "shingles".

A Hunk of Deer

According to all reports, Darrell Woods tagged out the biggest deer during the season that closed at sun-down on Sunday. Darrell, hunting the territory north of Thief lake on opening day, Nov. 14th, got a buck that, when dressed out but with the hide on, weighed 287 pounds. The game warden, who came on the scene a short while after Darrell had downed the deer, estimated that the animal would weigh about 300 pounds.

Darrell used an 8-mm. rifle to bag the huge buck. The deer carried a terrific rack, with Darrell counting twenty six points on the antlers.

Castelane Joins Sarnia

Ron Castelane, a high-scoring wing, on the senior hockey Thieves team last year, and who had been expected to play with the locals this season, was in town for a short while on Monday. Ron was enroute to Sarnia, Ontario, where he was to join the Sarnia Imperials of the Ontario senior hockey league.

While Castelane's loss to the Thieves will be a handicap, Ron stated that there were a number of top-flight hockey players available in Winnipeg and that Church Russell was making contacts with several prospects. Ron added that there was a shortage of goalies, and that's a position that will trouble the Thieves.

Roger Dorn Earns 1st Year Football Numeral at UND

Roger Dorn, a former all-around athlete at Thief River Falls high school has been awarded a freshman football numeral at the University of North Dakota, Grand Forks, for his play with the Sioux yearling gridders this fall, according to Freshmen Football Coach Harold (Pinky) Kraft.

Dorn played with an undefeated team this fall. The Papooses, or Sioux yearlings, copped a pair of wins from the NDAC yearlings, 15-0 and 34-7, and beat the Moorhead Teachers freshman eleven, 20-0.

Kraft called Dorn "an outstanding athlete and a strong contender for a spot on the Sioux varsity eleven next fall."

Dorn is enrolled in the College of Science, Literature and Arts at the University.

Former Resident Gives Animals to Kansas City Zoo

Arnie Solem, of Kansas City, Mo., formerly of this city and brother of Mrs. C. M. Adkins, recently presented to the Swope Park zoo in Kansas City some animals he had collected on a trip to Central America in company with his sons, Robert, 14, and Richard, 12.

Solem's contributions included a large boa constrictor, two large iguana lizards, and a coati-mundi, a small brown animal.

Solem, who served as city editor of the Times about 25 years ago, is a widower, his wife having died about five years ago. He holds an office with the U. S. Department of Labor.

Wurst Succeeds Ward Nichols as Head of Golf Club

Vic Jung Is Elected Secretary at Annual Meeting Monday Night

With 25 shareholders present, Robert A. Wurst was elected president of the Thief River Golf club at its annual dinner meeting in the clubhouse Monday evening. He succeeds Ward Nichols, who rendered efficient service during the past year.

Others elected include Dr. O. D. Beich, vice president; Vic Jung, secretary succeeding Don Olson; and Milton Relerson, who was retained as treasurer.

Named to the board of directors were Don Olson, Lloyd Behnes, Dr. M. G. Johnson and Justus Larson. Elmer Bratsch is a hold-over director, while Ward Nichols is a member of the board ex officio.

Stanton R. Dahlen, chairman of the board of trustees, reported that all financial obligations of the club had been met during the year. W. E. Dahlquist reported on the activities of the gun club operated on golf club property.

Dues for the 1954 season were discussed, the final decision being left in the hands of the board of directors.

Muskrat and Beaver Trapping Season Set

The season for the taking of muskrats, beaver and otter in Minnesota will run from December 1 through December 15, 1953, sunrise to sunset, it was announced today by Conservation Commissioner Chester S. Wilson. Not more than 10 beaver nor more than three otter may be taken by any one licensed trapper during the season.

Closed to the taking of muskrats, beaver and otter are state or federal game refuges, state parks and public hunting grounds, except the following Superior Game Refuges: Unit 4, Cook and Lake Counties; & Unit 9, St. Louis County.

All beaver and otter taken by licensed trappers must be submitted to the inspection of a game warden or other authorized agent of the director of game and fish for sealing as provided by law not later than 5 days after the close of the season for the area in which the same were taken. Beaver must be submitted with tail intact and attached to the hide.

Openings made in any muskrat house for the purpose of trapping must be plugged by replacing all material removed and wetting said material down in order to prevent freezing within the structure.

Traps may be set at natural entrances to muskrat runways and bank burrows.

No person may damage any muskrat house, muskrat runway, or muskrat bank den, except as authorized.

No traps of any kind may be set in, upon or closer than 6 feet from the water line of any beaver house.

No person may molest or damage any beaver house or dam.

Hunters Asked by Blair to Send in Game Report Card

State Director Asks for Early Reports on Big and Small Game Take

Frank D. Blair, game and fish director today appealed to hunters to send in their report cards.

"Hunters should cooperate with the bureau of game by filling out and mailing their big game and small game hunters report cards as soon as they have completed their hunting for the season," Blair said.

With the deer season closing at sunset Sunday, November 22, the big game hunters should have their cards in the mail as soon as possible after that date. These cards require two cents postage.

With the duck season ending at sunset Thursday, November 26, the small game season will be completed with only squirrels, rabbits and raccons remaining open. Raccoons and squirrels close December 31 and rabbits March 1. Any hunter not planning to pursue these animals further should fill out and mail his report card as soon as possible after November 26. The small game cards require no postage. A number of conscientious nimrods have already sent their reports in.

The report cards are a vital link in formulationg plans for next year's seasons, Mr. Blair pointed out.

Lutherans to End Clothing Drive Saturday, Nov. 28

Arthur L. Olsen, co-ordinator of the Lutheran World Relief clothing drive in Minnesota, has announced that Saturday, November 28, will be the last day of the Thanksgiving drive. The Lutheran churches of Minnesota are joining with Lutheran churches from all over the United States in this effort to help meet the needs of over ten million people overseas who are desperately in need of basic clothing for this coming winter. The clothing collected in this drive will be distributed by Lutheran World Relief in Arab Palestine, West Germany and Austria, and in Korea.

All types of good used clothing should be brought to local churches, where it will be packed and sent on November 28 to Larson Transfer Company, 2010 21st Avenue So., Minneapolis. From here it will be forwarded to the main receiving warehouse of Lutheran World Relief in Phillipsburg, New Jersey, where it will be sorted and processed before being shipped overseas.

Last year's national response to the Thanksgiving clothing appeal resulted in a gathering of more than 2,000,000 pounds. But the continued needs of 750,000 poorly-housed Arab refugees, 5,000,000 uprooted expellees from East Europe, and 4,000,000 war-homeless in Korea makes it imperative that we give again in as great a measure this Thanksgiving, said Olsen. Lutherans of Minnesota are asked to cooperate with this drive and "Give Thanks by Sharing."

Confidence is sensitive — it never returns if it has been abused.

Tax Study Group Plans Northwest Regional Meeting

Legislative Interim Commission to Meet at Moorhead December 4

The Minnesota legislative interim tax study commission will hold a Northwestern Minnesota regional hearing in Moorhead, Friday, December 4, in the Top of the Mart room of the Frederick Martin Hotel, beginning at 9:00 A. M.

The tax study commission, after holding hearings in the State Capitol at St. Paul for the past five months, has accepted an invitation from the Moorhead Chamber of Commerce to hold a regional hearing in that city.

The regional meeting will give the commission members the opportunity to discover what the citizens of the region like and dislike about present Minnesota taxes and what changes they would recommend for the commission's consideration.

The Commission will make its interim report to the Governor by December 1, 1954, in time for his consideration prior to the convening of the 1955 session of the legislature.

The commission will be primarily interested in comments regarding the over-all tax structure as it affects individuals and businesses, both in and outside the State. The actual work of the commission must be relatively limited because of time and funds available and as a consequence not much attention can be given to minor aspects of the present tax laws.

1st Nation-wide Thanksgiving Was Observed in 1863

The first annual national Thanksgiving Day, observed ninety years ago today, was established by Abraham Lincoln, according to Dr. Louis A. Warren, historian of the Lincoln National Life Insurance company.

In 1863, according to Dr. Warren, Abraham Lincoln issued a Presidential proclamation setting aside the last Thursday of November as a Presidential proclamation setting aside the last November as a day of Thanksgiving. This day was designated because it is the last feast day prior to the observance of Advent by the churches of America. Abraham Lincoln repeated his act in 1864.

Every year since then, the President of the United States has issued a proclamation establishing Thanksgiving Day in November. Prior to 1863, only two such Presidential proclamations had been issued—one by George Washington in 1789 and the other by James Madison in 1815.

It is interesting to note that in 1789, 1863, and again this year Thanksgiving Day, the last Thursday of November, was the 26th of the month.

State Physician Is Selected for National Honors

A Minnesotan and Minnesota's long-time efforts in rehabilitating the physically handicapped are to receive top national honors.

Last week at Washington, Dr. Frank H. Krusen, prominent physical medicine specialist at Rochesters' Mayo Clinic, was named to receive the annual Presidents Award to a physician who had "done the most for the physically handicapped." Admiral Ross T. McIntire, chairman of the President's committee on employment of the physically handicapped, made the announcement.

Thus comes national recognition of Dr. Krusens' pioneering work as a leader of rehabilitation efforts that have been developed in Minnesota, down thru the years. The Mayo Clinic and U of M specialist was named Minnesota's nominee by Governor Anderson, on recommendation of his committee on employment for physically handicapped persons.

LIFE ON PLANETS

Nobel prize-winning chemist Harold C. Urey voiced the opinion in 1952 that there must be several million planets in our galaxy sufficiently similar to the earth to support life, it is reported in the American Peoples Encyclopedia 1953 Yearbook. Dr. Urey pointed out that there are 100 billion stars and 100 million "solar systems" in the Milky Way much like our own.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Q: I have a 20-year GI home loan and I've recently had to take on some additional financial obligations. Now I'm afraid I won't be able to meet my monthly payments. Is there anything that can be done, so I won't have to default on my loan?

A: Yes. It may be possible for the terms of repayment to be extended over a longer period of time, which would result in lower monthly payments. You should discuss the matter with your lender or your VA office.

Q: Through an oversight, I paid my GI insurance premium just before the 31-day grace period came to an end. But I'm afraid the premium won't reach VA until after the grace period expires. Will my insurance lapse?

A: The postmark date on the envelope is considered as the date on which the premium was paid. So long as the postmark date is within the grace period, you will be protected.

Q: I had to interrupt my World War II GI Bill training to go back into military service. I'm about to be separated from service, and I want to resume my studies. Is there any time limit on going back to school?

A: You will be required to resume your GI Bill training within a "reasonable period" after your discharge. This reasonable period is determined individually, and depends upon a number of factors, such as availability of training, and the like.

Q: I'm a disabled Korean veteran, and I'm planning to take training under Public Law 16. How long would I be allowed to train? Would the length of training depend on the amount of military service I've had?

A: You would be permitted to train for as long as is necessary to restore your ability to earn a living in spite of your handicap; that is, to become rehabilitated. The maximum generally, is four years. Training time does not depend on your length of military service.

Week's Events in Newfolden

Edith M. Lindbeck, Newfolden

The Newfolden basketball independents began practice and will again have another strong team. All members from last year's squad are back, and also some new additions who should give much help. Probably the greatest help will come from Newell Smeby who has consented to play the tougher games on the schedule. Newell has been quite busy this summer as publicity man for the Morris Moen Dude Ranch. However, this is mainly a summer activity and we hope that Newell will find time to play in most of the games as his ball handling and polish on the basketball court is a treat to watch.

OLD DOBBIN FADES

Old dobbin has almost faded away from the country landscape, figures released by the American Peoples Encyclopedia research service indicate. On Jan. 1, 1952, the number of horses and mules on farms was 60 per cent below the 1935-39 average, the service reports. The decrease in the number of work horses on farms is attributed to the ever increasing use of labor saving machines.

AIRPORT NEWS

Quite a number of people were out to look at the lighted runway markers on Thursday evening. From the road south of the airport, looking from one end of the runway to the other, it was a thrilling sight. Green lights mark the ends of the runway, blue lights indicate the turn-off for the taxi strip, and the lights along the sides of the runway are white. A lighted Windsock flies near the landing strip, and, together with the flashing beacon, the whole setup looks like a good thing for night fliers.

Government Under God.

Lesson for December 6: Romans 13: 1-10; Acts 5: 25-29.

Golden Text: Isaiah 42: 4.

The "divine right of Kings" is an ancient doctrine which has lost its significance in the most of the countries of the world. But it is still true that government in its origin and authority is from God, just as that was true in the days when government was associated with the rule of kings. The rulers of Israel were spoken of as the "Lord's anointed."

We find Paul urging obedience to constituted government on the ground of the existing powers being ordained of God. Even though the Roman government was imperfect, it preserved law and order throughout the Mediterranean world. And the apostle sought to bring Christians to a fitting loyalty to the established government.

Paul then lays down a principle of abiding by the law. Love, he writes, is the fulfilling of the law. Love will work no ill to a neighbor and it will commit no offense against lawful authority.

In the fifth chapter of the Acts we read of the second imprisonment of Peter and John. When brought before the Jewish authorities and reminded that they had been forbidden to teach in the name of Jesus, they replied that they "must obey God rather than men." The right of a Christian to follow his conscience has been allowed to the "conscientious objectors" to service in war. In America the doctrine of the separation of Church and State prohibits the interference of the State in matters of religion. It is safe to assume that all true members of the Church will be loyal citizens under the State.

CONGRESSIONAL Quiz

Q—Did the U. S. ever have a Congress consisting of just one house?

A—The Continental Congress had a single house. The Articles of Confederation delegated legislative power, for actions the states could not handle individually, to a Continental Congress of delegates from the 13 states. After the Revolutionary War, pressure for establishment of a stronger national government, led to the adoption of the Constitution, which was declared ratified on March 4, 1789. A compromise between the large in population, and small states, the document called for a two-house Congress, the House based on population (for the large states) and the Senate on equal representation (for the less populous states.)

Q—How many current Senators and Representatives are not native citizens?

A—At least eight Members of Congress, including one Senator, were not born in the U. S. They list these birthplaces in their biographies in the Congressional Directory: Sen. James E. Murray (D., Mont.), Canada; and Reps. Noah M. Mason (R. Ill.), Wales; Thaddeus M. Machrowicz (D. Mont.), Poland; Steven B. Derounian (R. N. Y.), Bulgaria; Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. (D. N. Y.), Canada; Katharine St. George (R. N. Y.), England; Otto Krueger (R. N. D.), Russia; and Robert Crosser (D. Ohio), Scotland.

Q—Did the scientific committee appointed by Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks to evaluate the National Bureau of Standard ever make a report?

A—Yes. On Oct. 15 the committee reported that the over-all work of the Bureau was "superior" and recommended increased appropriations for it. The Committee also recommended, among other things, that weapons research done by the Bureau for the Department of Defense be transferred to the armed services, and that non-technical procedures policy be the responsibility of the Secretary of Commerce. Weeks on April 8 had asked seven scientific groups to form a committee to probe operations of the Bureau, which, with its ousted-and-restored head, Dr. Allen V. Astin, figured in a controversy over the merits of a battery additive, AD-X2.

The Missus Keeps Posted

Ever since our electricity was cut off last year on account of me forgetting to mail in the payment, the Missus has been sort of leery about giving me letters to mail.

At first she'd ask if I mailed them, then double-check my coat pocket at night. She stopped that, and I figured she was convinced I'd learned my lesson.

Then yesterday, I got a postcard at the office in a familiar handwriting. I turned it over and by golly it was from the Missus herself! It read: "Thanks, Joe, for mailing my letters." Well!

Looks like she figured I still needed some checking-up and slipped that postcard in the last batch of letters.

From where I sit, an occasional check-up is a good thing. Check-ups on just how tolerant we are of other people's preferences and tastes, for example. I like a glass of beer with supper, you may prefer cider—but if I ever try to switch you to my choice, simply "address" me with a reminder of your rights.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Examples in Friendship

Many parents want more than anything else to be friends of their child—and surely this is a goal which can be achieved, provided that the definition of friendship in the parent's mind is a suitable one. The mother who says "We've always been such pals; we do everything together," in speaking of her adolescent daughter, is probably deluding herself to some extent at least.

Being "pals" almost demands that the two individuals belong to the same generation and share on a similar level daily living experiences; this is simply not possible for parents and children. Even if it were possible, it would not be desirable, for children need to be "pals" with their own social group.

To think of friendship as a relationship of mutual confidence, caring about interests, and trust, puts it in a different light. Someone has said that friendship requires "shared confidence, shared understanding, and shared love." Here indeed are areas in which parents can not only build relationships with their children, but also set examples of behavior which will help their youngster as he extends friendship to a wider circle.

Parents can bring to their children those qualities which build confidence: honesty, loyalty, self-control. Parents can help the child learn the meaning of being appreciative, patient, thoughtful, and understanding through their own day by day actions. It is not enough just to avoid unkindness; let the child see kind words and deeds. Be appreciative of him, as a person, so that he gradually acquires ways of showing appreciation to others.

Parental responsibility does not end, of course, with the establishment of examples of friendship; parents are still entrusted with the manifold tasks of guiding, teaching, and caring for their children, and parental decisions will not always find the child in perfect agreement with them. But the long-range process of learning the basis of friendships and the skills of social relationships is facilitated when parents give thought to the examples offered their child.

ERUPTING VOLCANOES

Two new volcanoes appeared in recent months, according to the American Peoples Encyclopedia. One of these, El Boqueron, broke out on San Benedicto Island, 250 miles off the tip of Lower California. Within a few weeks it attained a height of 1,250 feet, with a crater a half mile wide and 300 feet deep. The other volcano Didicas, rose 250 feet above sea level to form a 600-acre island off the north coast of Luzon, Philippine Islands.

Bar Says New Court Rules Speed Justice

Great steps to make justice surer, quicker and less expensive have been taken in Minnesota in the last few years, the Minnesota State Bar association said today. The effect will be felt by the great bulk of citizens having dealings with the courts trying civil cases in the state.

The methods are embodied in the new rules of civil procedure for district courts which became effective in January, 1952. The benefits will be extended to persons having civil cases in municipal courts after January, 1954.

The use of the new rules by the municipal courts will make uniform the methods used throughout the state. In many respects, there is at present no uniformity in the procedure used in the state's municipal courts.

The new procedural methods have been adopted not only to promote better justice, but also to help cut the time consumed in the trial of court cases, to allow cases to be tried sooner and, in some cases, to do away completely with the necessity for the expense and time required by a court trial.

The new rules have been expressly designed so as not to curtail or abridge in any way your right to a jury trial. They do not affect any duties of any character either imposed by law or arising out of contract, and do not alter or impair any of your substantive rights or liabilities. The sole effect to be accomplished by the new rules relates to the manner and method of enforcing your rights and liabilities. They refer only to the procedure used.

One of the new methods is that of discovery procedure. This refers to ascertaining the facts involved in your case before the trial has started. This procedure allows each side in the case to better appraise the merits or demerits of the claim or defense, and takes much of the "guess work" out of preparing for a court trial.

The discovery of the facts may be conducted through written questions submitted to the other party or his witnesses, or by oral questioning.

A second method possible under the new rules is that of summary judgment. If, during the discovery proceedings it is found that there is no genuine issue between your side and the other party, a motion may be made that these facts be used as a basis for a summary judgment by the judge, without any trial at all. Under the old methods, the court would have had to wait until the case was tried, and all the evidence in the case introduced in court, before dismissing the lawsuit.

The summary judgment methods can help both the plaintiff and the defendant. It works both ways to dispose of cases in which there are no real claims or defenses, and thus avoids the expense of court trials.

A third new method now being used in some district courts is that of pre-trial conferences. Your lawyer and the opposing attorney are brought before a judge for an informal discussion. This method is aimed at obtaining better justice for litigants and at shortening the time it takes to try your lawsuit in court by allowing both lawyers to state the facts upon which they are agreed. These facts then need not be proved during the trial, thus cutting the time consumed in the trial.

The pretrial conference also allows the court to encourage settlement negotiations out of court well in advance of the time set for the trial, if it seems possible that such a settlement could take place. This allows for a more economical scheduling of the trial judge's time and saves the expense of unwarranted court and jury costs.

New Red Cross Staff in Marshall

Ray Holmquist Succeeds E. Mattson as Chairman

Ray Holmquist, Warren attorney, was elected chairman of the Marshall county chapter of the American Red Cross at the annual meeting held at the City Auditorium in Warren recently. He succeeds E. N. Mattson who has served as head of the chapter for several years and who requested to be relieved of the office.

With the one exception, all other officers of the chapter will be new for the coming year. Carl Thompson of Stephen was re-elected vice-chairman with other officers elected being Reuben Carlson, Argyle, vice chairman; Sig. Bredeson, Middle River, vice chairman; Clarence B. Johnson, Warren, secretary; and Harold Bustrack, Warren, treasurer.

The new officers succeed veterans who have given many years of service in handling the affairs of the chapter. The retiring officers in addition to the chairman include Walter Miller, secretary and R. J. Schizber, treasurer, both of whom had also requested to be relieved this year.

At Grand Forks

DEAD-EYE DOC

Otherwise known as Dr. Clifford T. Free tickets have been distributed to members of all Masonic lodges in this area.

Shriners to Stage Grand Forks Show Saturday Evening

Thief River Falls Masons Invited to Attend Show Given by Minneapolis Men

Arrangements have been completed by Kem Temple of the Shrine in Grand Forks for staging The Zuhrah Merrimakers, an outstanding vaudeville show from Minneapolis, in the University fieldhouse at Grand Forks Saturday night. Thousands of free tickets have been distributed to members of Masonic lodges throughout the northern Red River Valley.

The Masons, their families, and friends will be guests of Kem at the two and one-half hour entertainment consisting of a well balanced variety of numbers interwoven into three acts with 65 performers, many of them professionals of the stage, taking part. It will be the Merrimakers' first appearance in this area.

An 18-piece stage band will provide background music thruout the show. Several of the numbers are musical, but the program also includes clowning, sharpshooting, cartooning, acrobatics and a variety of other features.

The performance will be the final event on Kem's two-day fall ceremonial and is being brought into this area completely at Kem's expense so that all Masons and their families can "get in on the fun" without any cost to them.

Tax Group Fights Boost in Social Security Taxes

Minnesota Association Asks Freezing of Levy at Present 1½ Per Cent

The Minnesota Taxpayers Association has gone on record as opposed to any increase in the federal social security tax.

In a special session of the executive board at the St. Cloud Hotel the tax group declared that "Congress in the next session, opening in January, should enact a bill to freeze the social security tax at 1½ percent, retroactive to January 1, 1954." The tax goes to 2 percent, automatically, January 1st for both employer and employee. Minnesota's two senators and nine congressmen will be asked to vote to freeze the tax at the present 1½ percent.

Most of the St. Cloud meeting, however, was devoted to state tax matters.

In opening the session, President James P. McDonnell of Buffalo pointed out that Minnesota legislative appropriations alone had nearly doubled in five years time, going from $158,091,544 in 1947 to $310,309,000 at the 1953 session. "It is high time that a ceiling be placed on state spending that now is growing faster than the incomes of the people," McDonnell stated.

The state association declared opposition to any increase in rates of the present state income tax. This tax, according to Secretary Norman A. Borgen of Excelsior, "is among the highest of any state in the nation. Many of our problems can be solved thru economies and careful spending rather than in extra revenues."

The association's executive board issued a public statement pointing out that "The people of Minnesota are in the unenviable position of being among the highest taxed in the nation. The tax problem in this State is becoming intolerable and is pressing more and more on all citizens regardless of their status in life."

Plea Made for Cut in Thanksgiving Traffic Mishaps

A last-minute plea to motorists to drive carefully over the Thanksgiving day weekend was issued today by the Minnesota Safety Council's president, Arthur V. Rohweder, as thousands of holiday travelers prepare to start out on trips to spend the day or weekend with their friends or families.

"We were extremely fortunate last year," he said, "when only three people were killed in motor vehicle accidents in our state over the Thanksgiving day weekend. That was considerably below the previous four year's toll, which saw an average of eight fatalities each year during the Thanksgiving holiday period."

Because ideal weather and motoring conditions have been with us so long this fall, Rohweder was fearful that a sudden worsening of these conditions might find motorists unprepared, both mentally and insofar as their cars are concerned, for winter driving situations.

Gospel Guide Post Heard over KROX

The Gospel Guide Posts program coming over another station in this area for the past two years, will now be heard over radio station KROX, Crookston. The first of these devotional broadcasts over this station will be Monday morning at 7:00, November 30th. The services will continue each week, Monday through Friday, at that hour. They are prepared by the pastors and Baptist Churches in the Red River Valley, affiliated with the Baptist General Conference of America.

Most of the coal for the steel plant at Fontana, Calif., is shipped in from Utah, with the rest coming from Arkansas and Oklahoma.

River movement of bituminous coal from U. S. mines, now about 30 million tons annually, has more than doubled since the early thirties.

"A MAN'S THANKSGIVING"

(Arthur W. Newcomb)

God of common sense, I give Thee thanks for the heavy blows of pain that drive me back from perilous ways into harmony with the laws of my being; for stinging whips of hunger and cold that urge to bitter strivings and glorious achievement; for steepness and roughness of the way and staunch virtues gained by climbing over jagged rocks of hardship and stumbling through dark and pathless sloughs of discouragement; for the acid blight of failure that has burned out of me all thought of easy victory and toughened my sinews for fiercer battles and greater triumphs; for mistakes I have made, and the priceless lessons I have learnd from them; for disillusion and disappointment that have cleared my vision and spurred my desire; for strong appetites and passions and the power they give when under pressure and control; for my imperfections that give me the keen delight of striving toward perfection.

God of common good and brotherhood, I give Thee thanks for siren songs of temptation that lure and entangle, and the understanding of other men they reveal; for the weaknesses and failings of my neighbors and the joy of lending a helping hand; for my own shortcomings, sorrows and loneliness, that give me a deeper sympathy for others; for ingratitude and misunderstanding and the gladness of service without reward other than self-expression.

MISSOURI RIVER POWER

City officials have taken the necessary preliminary steps toward securing Missouri River power as it becomes available. At their meeting last week they authorized a survey to determine what the city's probable needs will be. These needs will be set forth in an application that must be filed by the first of the year and which will lead to negotiations that may result in an actual contract.

This was a proper action. Other cities in our position have already contracted with the federal authorities and from what information is presently available we probably cannot afford not to avail ourselves of this opportunity.

A representative of the Minkota Power Cooperative of Grand Forks who met with local officials and citizens last week gave an interesting report on the overall situation. He made it clear that even with the Missouri River projects producing at their full capacity there still is not going to be any surplus of power in the area. The big advantage to be hoped for from a tie-up of this kind will be in the economies made possible by a pooling of standby facilities.

If we do enter into a contract for Missouri River power we still will need our own power plant. We will not need double our demand for standby emergency needs however and over a period of years that should result in a substantial saving.

Winter moved in not unexpectedly Friday and folks hereabouts were confronted with the necessity of learning over again how to drive on icy roads. This is one lesson, it seems, that must be learned anew each year. There is a knack to controlling a car on slippery roads and streets that comes only from actual experience on slippery roads and streets. Good thing to take it easy and get the experience gradually. It's easier on the fenders that way.

It wouldn't be fair to say nice things about our fall weather without also mentioning this past year's wonderful summer. Come to think of it, we had a pretty decent spring too. And what, may we ask, was wrong with last winter. Actually there has been little to complain about as far as the weather is concerned during the past 12 months. As a matter of fact the weather has been fine ever since Ike was elected president.

Smoke and fog together make smog and that is something the states along the Eastern Seaboard had too much of last week. It was so thick at one time that it became a health menace and officials worried about a possible repetition of a smog epidemic that killed 12,000 people in Great Britain a year ago. In the production of smog we are a backward community, definitely in a sub-marginal area. We are glad to add this to the long list of reasons why we like it here.

Among the many things we might properly be thankful for in this season of Thanksgiving most of us would place at the top of the list the cease-fire in Korea. The present condition in that part of the world is far from satisfactory but it is much better than it was a year ago. We don't know how long it will last of course but we have reason to be truly grateful for each day the truce lasts.

It's on the way they tell us — a system of merit rating to determine the cost of automobile liability insurance. If you have a safe driving record your insurance will cost less. If your record is not so good you will pay more. Day by day your record is in the making. Drive carefully and save money.

Andrei Vishinsky of Behind-the-Iron-Curtain is not happy about the coming meeting of French, British and American officials at Bermuda. Of course comrade Vishinsky's unhappiness makes us unhappy too but nevertheless we think the meeting is a good idea. The Big 3 may or may not be big enough but they are bigger when they speak as one. No doubt there are many points on which they do not agree. There are many conflicting interests among them and it is to be expected that they will be divided on some important questions. It is a good thing however that the points of disagreement as well as those on which they agree are thoroughly understood. That will make it easier for them to maintain a united front on the important issues where their really vital interests are similar. This is what Mr. Vishinsky does not like.

A new speed record has been established. A plane has been clocked travelling 1,327 miles per hour. The record was achieved, we are told, by starting a dive from an altitude of 60,000 feet. From about 12 miles up, travelling at 22 miles a minute, wouldn't be our idea of a leisurely glide back to earth. As far as we are concerned the record will go unchallenged.

Soon it will be too late for us to do our Christmas shopping early.

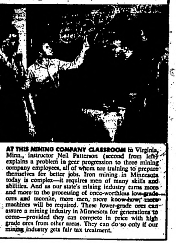
Training for BETTER JOBS



AT THIS MINING COMPANY CLASSROOM in Virginia, Minn., instructor Neil Patterson (second from left) explains a problem in gear progression to three mining company employees, all of whom are training to prepare themselves for better jobs. Iron mining in Minnesota today is complex—it requires men of many skills and abilities. And as our state's mining industry turns more and more to the processing of once-worthless low-grade ores and taconite, more men, more know-how, more machines will be required. These lower-grade ores can assure a mining industry in Minnesota for generations to come—provided they can compete in price with high grade ores from other areas. They can do so only if our mining industry gets fair tax treatment.

Now! A low-cost way to feed cows for top milk production

Land O'Lakes 36% Dairy Concentrate Is Built to Make More Milk for As Little As 1½¢ Per Cow Per Day... Production That Ordinary Protein Feeds Simply Can't Match

With good quality roughage, just one pound of Land O'Lakes 36% Dairy Concentrate is all you need for a cow making 4 gallons of milk a day . . . costing only a tiny bit more than a penny a day per cow. That's because you subtract one pound of grain for every pound of concentrate you feed. And at today's prices, one pound of concentrate costs only about one cent more than a pound of grain. And obviously, you'll get much higher milk production—impossible for straight oil meals without the special ingredients in Land O'Lakes 36% Dairy Concentrate.

RANDEN . . .

By Mrs. E. Ostland, Grygla

Hunting season is over and everyone can relax. Most of the men got their deer but some had to go home disappointed. Many were saying, "Where have they been" when they saw all the tracks after the snow arrived. All the men of our community came out without being hurt. It was really frightening to hear the nearly continual shots that rang out in every direction the first morning. We're so sorry to hear of Clarence getting shot and hope he has a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sather and Jimmy, Delbert and Richard Tyson and Ralph Ice of International Falls came out and hunted here for a day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Davy, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Davy and Clarence Davy motored to Stanley, No. Dak. to attend the funeral of their son-in-law and brother-in-law, Harry Nelson.

The funeral of Carl William Lund, son of Mrs. John Lund, now of Thief River Falls formerly of our community was held in the Bethel Lutheran Church near Skime Tuesday, Nov. 17th at 1 o'clock. Pastor Ostby from Wannaska officiated at the service. Song selections were "Sometime We'll Understand," "Sweet By and By" by Mrs. Tom Skime and Mrs. Andrew Skime. Organist was Mrs. Andrew Skime. Honorary pallbearers were Orville Duea, Alrik Lund, Linn Rigstad, Walter Diesen, Fred Lund and Edwin Lund. The active pallbearers were Merlin Offerdahl, Walter Lund, Iver Torfin, James Gullingsrud, Lester Ostland and Henry Rigstad. He was laid to rest in the Greenwood cemetery in Thief River Falls beside his father.

Carl William Lund was born here in Lissell township, Sept. 6th, 1920. He was baptised in the Lutheran church and attended grade school in the Elm Park school.

Carl or "Bill" as we all knew him helped his parents here on the farm until 1950 when they moved to Thief River Falls to make their home.

On Sept. 6th, 1953 he was united in marriage to Georgia Diesen in the Bethel Lutheran Church near Skime. They made their home in Thief River Falls where Mr. Lund was employed by the Sjoberg Appliance Store.

Those who survive him are his wife Georgia, his mother, Mrs. Christine Lund of Thief River Falls and three brothers, Alrik of Gatzke, Fred of Hibbing and Edwin of Minneapolis. He was preceded in death by his father. Mr. Lund was thirty-three years two months and six days old at the time of his passing. Our heartfelt sympathy to his family.

PIONEER RETAILERS SEE MANY CHANGES

F. W. Nord, now 68, kind o' wishes he had bought a little heavier when he opened a general store in Reading, Nobles county, in 1916 — or maybe had sold a little less in the intervening 37 years. Because many of his items now command collectors' prices: high buttons and lace shoes, ladies "stovepipe" hats, celluloid collars, and certain "unmentionables" . . . November 2, at 86, Anton "Dad" Stucky started his 55th year in the same drugstore at the same Waseca location. He is believed to be one of the country's oldest active pharmacists.

PLENTY
THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

"Be Thankful for Plenty" was the title of a sermon we heard many years ago. And we'll never forget how the preacher defined "plenty."

"If you have everything that money can buy, all the necessities and all the luxuries of life—and you don't have a Bible you can read and understand—then you've nothing to be thankful for! You're in want!

"But if God has given you just enough of this world's goods for you to live from day to day—and you've a Bible you turn to every day—then be thankful! You have plenty!"

We can cherish that homely bit of inspiration. It sums up the kind of Thanksgiving our forefathers believed in . . . the kind of Thanksgiving that millions of us will celebrate this week in Church!

Mother of Five, Hospitalized Twice

A Minneapolis mother who has had several operations in the past 20 years, is now recuperating from surgery performed during her second hospitalization this year.

Mrs. Jane Lindstrom, 41 Russell Avenue So., was extremely thankful she has a low-cost way to meet her expenses, for she faced doctor and hospital bills that amounted to over $1,900.00.

"With five little children to protect also, in the event of accident or illness," Mrs. Lindstrom says, "you can imagine how important hospital, medical and surgical care protection is to our family."

"Blue Shield," she says, "paid all but a small part of the bills for the wonderful doctor's services and surgery that I needed. Our family has tried other health care plans. We've found," she says, "that none compare with Blue Cross and Blue Shield protection."

Complete free details on these wonderful, low-cost health care plans may be obtained by writing directly to Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Dept. WP-14, 2610 University Ave., St. Paul 14, Minnesota. A postcard will do. There is no obligation and no salesman will call.

"11 IS HER POINT"

One thing, at least, has happened to Diane Hanson, daughter of the Howard Hanson's at Kennedy. She was 11 years old November 11, 1953. But the affinity between Diane and the magic 11 is even more fixed. She was born at the 11th hour on the 11th day of the 11th month, and has 11 letters in her name.

KITTEN ON A LIMB, MOOSE ON THE LOOSE

A squirrel that got into and apparently couldn't get out of a Rochester home, achieved a notable record in "vandalism" . . . A pig on Ed Stacken's farm near Chaska survived 65 lonely, hungry days in a straw stack . . . When a North St. Paul fireman was just about ready to "rescue" a tree-sittin' kitten 25 feet from mother earth, the kitten took off on its own, landed apparently unharmed, and took off . . . After two days atop a power line pole at International Falls a white cat was more amenable to the rescue efforts of Street Commissioner Cleve Costley . . . "Minerva the Moose" was "on the loose" for a several hours prowl in Duluth.

In attendance at the annual midwinter conference of the Minnesota State Elks association in Minneapolis Sunday were Walt Jung, third vice president, R. S. Eldevik, Ole E. Engelstad, Philip Prichard and Alvin Christofferson.

Plans for financing the purchase will be developed by the state board of trustees, while Alvin Christofferson was appointed to represent this area on a three-man permanent youth camp committee to work out operating details. Lincoln School Choir and Glee Club to Give Concert Sunday at 8

The Christmas concert season will be opened at eight o'clock on Sunday, December 6, in the Lincoln high school auditorium when the high school choir and glee club under the direction of Miss Marlys Carlander and the Thespians under Miss Patricia Hoffman present their annual Christmas concert.

Fred Waring's cantata, "The Song of Christmas," is the basis for this year's program. Mr. Waring has combined many of the familiar as well as a number of unfamiliar Christmas carols into a beautiful presentation of the story of the nativity. His settings are arranged for four and eight part choir with four hand piano accompaniment.

Special soloists from the choir include Gene Bratsch, Darrel Rude, and David Thompson as the three kings. The girls' solo parts will be sung by Gail Brown, Floydeen Litstrom, Yvonne Rodahl, and Durelle Newbury. Accompanists are Devera Borchert and Janet Nelson.

Interwoven with the music is the Biblical portrayal of the story which will be read by the narrator, Lyle Guttu.

The tableau is staged by the members of the Thespians, national dramatic society.

Derailed Freight Cars Wreck Soo Depot at Buffalo

Buffalo Man Is Killed; Trains 9 and 10 Rerouted Via G. N. at Paynesville

Twenty cars of a 95-car freight train on the Minnesota division of the Soo Line were derailed at Buffalo, Minnesota, Monday evening at 6:50, and crashed into the depot, setting it afire and completely destroying the structure.

Jack Johnson, assistant superintendent of the Osborne-McMillan elevator at Buffalo, who had entered the depot to mail a letter, was caught in the wreckage and killed. None of the train crew or other persons were injured.

At the time of the derailment, the freight was proceeding from Portal, N. D., to Minneapolis. The derailed cars were all loaded with poles and lumber.

The Soo Line Minneapolis-Winnipeg passenger trains 9 and 10 were detoured over the Great Northern tracks between Paynesville and Minneapolis. No. 9 arriving in Thief River Falls about six hours late.

Trains were again routed over the Soo Line tracks Tuesday, using the siding at Buffalo, with the main line scheduled to be open to traffic again this morning.

Highway 92 Mark Has Been Finished

Road Is Rebuilt from Highway 32 to T. H. 59

Roy Benson & Son, road contractors of Stephen, have completed their work of rebuilding Trunk Highway No. 92 for a distance of 13 miles between the junction with Trunk Highway No. 32 four miles south of Red Lake Falls and the junction with U. S. Highway 59 at Brooks, says the Red Lake Falls Gazette.

The work was begun July 22, just four months ago and the contract price for the job was about $261,000. State maintenance men are now busy putting up signs along the rebuilt road and shortly the barricades will be removed and the highway opened to traffic.

Still remaining to be done is the moving of the buildings at Terrebonne from the right of way, but this will be done next spring. After the road is sufficiently packed down from a season's travel it is likely that the state highway will lose no time in calling for old bids for black-topping the stretch. Trunk Highway No. 59, will then be black-topped its entire distance from Red Lake Falls to the junction with Trunk Highway 371 north of Walker.

The visitors were treated by the firemen to coffee and doughnuts furnished by C. Gustafson & Son, which firm supplied the chassis for the rural fire truck.

Local Youth Has Narrow Escape In Fire Early Friday

Frank Conklin Escapes Being Trapped in Kneale Av. Grocery Basement

A fire last Friday at 1 a. m. in the Kneale av. Grocery and home of the Eber Conklin family was marked by the narrow escape of Conklin's son Frank, age 13.

Conklin woke up to find the building full of smoke from a blaze that started in the basement. He went to the stairway to arouse his son sleeping in the basement, but was prevented by the flames from getting down there.

However, Frank, who had awakened, made a dash up the stairs and escaped unhurt.

The fire had its origin in a furnace smoke pipe, which had fallen into combustible material on the floor, according to Fire Chief Roy Langevin.

The fire department got the blaze under control after it had caused heavy smoke damage as well as damage to the floor joists. The loss was covered by insurance.

L O'L. District 14-17 Banquet Attracts 250

Speakers Urge Plan to Set up Youth Movement in L. O'L. Organization

The importance of encouraging young people to take an active interest in Land O'Lakes Creameries was stressed by M. H. Mauritsen of Shelly, president, and other speakers at a banquet Tuesday night in Zion church parlors that climaxed an all-day annual joint meeting of L. O'L. Districts 14 and 17.

Art Stenberg, chairman of District 17, presided over the program at the banquet, which attracted an attendance of more than 250 persons, including creamery operators and directors, L.O'L. officials from Minneapolis, and a group of 20 farm youths from thruout the two districts.

Featured speaker was Don Sederstrom of Litchfield, president of the National Milk Producers federation junior organization and recently a farm exchange student sent to Sweden for study.

Youth, he said, must be taught to think for themselves and to put their ideas into action. He strongly endorsed a youth movement in relation to cooperatives, and said that the aid of the young people will be valuable in informing the growing generation of the value of dairy products, in keeping the pioneering spirit alive and in improving public relations.

The idea of enlisting youth also was supported by Lynn Getten, production manager of Land O'Lakes Creameries in Minnea-

3 from Crookston Family Killed in Mishap at Lengby

Mr. and Mrs. A. Stenen and Son Lose Lives in Train-Car Collision

Three members of a Crookston family were killed and a fourth was injured critically when a train hit their car at Lengby Sunday.

Killed were Adolph Stenen, 41, his wife, Lilla, and their 8-year-old son, Nathan.

The only surviving member of the family, Linda, 6, is in the Fosston hospital with multiple injuries.

Stenen was an assistant congregational servant of Jehovah's Witness in Crookston, and was employed as a salesman for a fire extinguisher company.

The accident occurred about 1 p. m. at a railroad crossing on the main street of Lengby. The car was approaching from the south with a clear view of the tracks for several blocks in each direction.

Authorities said the street was slippery, however, and the car could have skidded into the path of the westbound Great Northern freight train.

Halvor Roysland, Polk county deputy sheriff, said the engine struck the side of the car and dragged it about a third of a mile before hurling it on one side. The train continued about another quarter-mile before stopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Stenen and the girl were thrown clear of the car. The boy was crushed in it.

Mrs. Stenen's body was found beside the tracks about 150 feet from the demolished car. Stenen was alive when witnesses arrived but died as he was being placed in an ambulance.

Officials said there is a railroad crossing sign on the road where the accident occurred but no flashing signal.

Disabled May Get Public Assistance, Lynskey Reports

Severely Disabled Now Eligible for Grants of up to $60 Per Month

The beginning of a new public assistance program—aid to the disabled—was announced today by John X. Lynskey, executive secretary of the Pennington County Welfare Board. Aid to the disabled grants may range up to a maximum of $60 per month, based on individual need.

The program, approved by the 1953 legislature, is an addition to the other three federal-state-county public assistance programs—old age assistance, aid to dependent children and aid to the blind.

"Eligibility under the law for this program" Mr. Lynsky said, "is limited to those people who are severely disabled as to require constant and continuous care from some other person. This means that generally only those people who are bedridden or confined to a wheel chair will be considered eligible.

It is expected that most of the people eligible for the aid to the disabled will come from the group of people now receiving relief from towns or counties. The new program will mean a saving of local funds now used to care for these people, Lynskey said.

Delores Kulseth and Ernest Sorter Wed at Goodridge

Goodridge Lutheran church was the scene of the ceremony which on Saturday evening united in marriage Delores Lucille Kulseth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kulseth of Goodridge, and Ernest C. Sorter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eliel Sorter of Middle River. Rev. O. O. Bjergan prompted the exchange of nuptial vows before an altar lighted with candelabra and decorated with bouquets of white pompons. Ninety relatives and friends were in attendance.

Mrs. Dick Marquis was at the piano, playing Lohengrin's Wedding March as the processional and Mendelssohn's as the recessional. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Arnold Hammer sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly", and at the close of the ceremony, "O Promise Me".

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin, styled with fitted bodice, illusion yoke of nylon tulle, and long lily-point sleeves. The skirt had a front panel of Chantilly lace over satin, and overskirt also of Chantilly lace, and cathedral train of nylon tulle. Her jewelry consisted of a double-strand pearl necklace and matching earrings, gifts of the groom. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion fell from a bonnet of tulle and lace trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a cascade of tangerine roses and white feathered carnations.

Mrs. Donald Knutson, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Marlin Sand and Mrs. Robert Parnow, also sisters of the bride. They were identically styled gowns of nylon tulle over taffeta, the former in bronze and the two latter in cotillion blue. They wore satin boleros to match their gowns. Mrs. Knutson carried a blue velvet muff with yellow and bronze carnations and 'mums. The other attendants carried gold velvet muffs, also with bronze and yellow carnations and 'mums.

Julie Sorter, niece of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a light blue gown similar to those of the other attendants, and carried a basket of bronze and yellow pompons. Robert Parnow Jr., nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer. He wore a navy suit with matching bow tie and carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Myron Sorter attended his brother as best man, and the groomsmen were Bernard Yurenka and John Halverson, friends of the groom. Dennis Kulseth of Goodridge and Russell Becklund of Holt served as ushers.

For the wedding of her daughter, Mrs. Kulseth chose a purple dress with black accessories, and the mother of the groom wore a maroon dress with brown accessories. Each had a corsage of pink tea roses and white feathered carnations.

Following the ceremony the wedding guests were entertained at a reception given by the bride's parents in the church parlors. Refreshments were served buffet style with a four-tiered wedding cake topped with fresh rosebuds centering the serving table. Mrs. Harwood Olsen cut the wedding cake, and Mrs. Gene Nelson poured. Rev. G. S. Thompson Addresses Lions

Undertakes to Answer Question, "What is Man?"

The Rev. G. S. Thompson, who is leaving in January for Eau Claire, Wisconsin, was the guest speaker at the Lions club luncheon meeting last Wednesday noon in the Rex Cafe.

Exploring the question, "What is Man?", he cited the answers to the question given by various philosophers, stating that in the view of Karl Marx man is an economic animal, while Charles Darwin terms him a fighting animal, Sigmund Frued a mating animal, and John Dewey a thinking animal.

Man, however, is more than that, said Mr. Thompson—he also has a soul that gives him nobility and a sense of responsibility to God. The true observance of Thanksgiving, he added, calls for placing emphasis on spiritual, rather than material, things.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Freeberg and Mrs. Sophia Taylor of Virginia were Thanksgiving guests at the H. O. Tweten home.

Hog Raising in Pennington

I see by the 1950 census that Pennington County farmers sold more dollars worth of hogs than they did sheep. They sold $120,488.00 worth of hogs and $81,426.00 worth of sheep. So because of that, I would like to talk a little about pigs in my column this week.

Truman Nodland, assistant professor of agricultural economics at the University of Minnesota, has made a report of a survey of hog production in southern Minnesota. In the survey he points out that some farmers made as high as $7.00 return above feed costs per 100 lbs. of pork produced, while others didn't make their feed cost. $7.00 per 100 lbs. of pork would mean almost $10.00 profit on a market pig.

I belive the survey shows the value of good record keeping and the need for keeping a close watch on the hog production operation if you are to come out ahead these days.

Feed Costs Vary

The survey indicated big differences between farms in amount of feed consumed per 100 lb. of hogs. Some of the reasons for this are, breeding, feeding, management, sanitation and others.

Costs other than feed account for about 20 per cent of the total cost of producing hogs—the remaining 80 percent is feed cost, where the great differences between farms were noted.

The survey shows that the 1/5 of the farmers show were high received $7.24 over feed cost per 100 pounds of hogs. From this profit they must pay for equipment, shelter, labor and miscellaneous cash costs. They came out all right.

But the low-return group didn't even get their feed cost back—some lost as much as 20c per 100 pounds of hogs produced. And they had no profit out of which to meet other production costs.

I would like to point out an important finding of the survey—about 20 per cent of the 204 farmers included in the study would have increased their income by selling their grain rather than feeding it to hogs.

Pays to Study Costs

The survey found that the most efficient feeders, those who got a high return over feed cost, fed 388 pounds of feed to produce 100 lb. of hogs, while those least efficient—and in the low profit group—fed 658 pounds of feed to get 100 lb. of hogs. Average was 501 lb. feed for 100 lb. of hogs.

Net return in man hours of labor for the efficient producers was $3.65 an hour, while the inefficient producer earned nothing with his labor. Average man hour return was $1.42 an hour.

Chief conclusion from the survey, is that it pays to study every step of your feeding operation. Only improved and efficient feeding practices will give you a good profit. This means if it takes more than 18 bushels of barley and 80 lbs. of supplement to fatten a pig on your farm, you should do something to improve the breeding, feeding, management, or sanitation on your farm.

Prowlers Win Opener from Roseau 40 to 33; Go to Bemidji Friday

The Prowler basketball squad opened their 1953-54 season here last Wednesday night by scoring a 40 to 33 win over coach Ambrose Kramer's Roseau Rams. Following Tuesday night's game against Red Lake Falls, which opened district competition for the locals, coach Ralph Skjod will prepare his club for the important tilt against the Bemidji Lumberjacks at Bemidji on Friday night, Dec. 4th.

Wednesday night's tussle against Roseau was a typical season-opening contest with both teams being erratic in their floor play and in setting up their scoring plays. Roseau gained a 9 to 8 first period lead, being effective from the free-throw line, garnering five points via the gift-shot route, in addition to field goals by Jan Vacura and Charles Benson.

Bill Frahm entered the Prowler lineup in the second quarter, and Bill's presence served to "spark" the blue-and-gold to a 13-point period while holding the Rams to a lone field goal and three free throws, giving coach Skjod's squad a 21 to 14 advantage at the intermission.

The Prowlers maintained their lead over the Rams in the second half, and at one time, late in the third period, the locals held a ten-point lead, 32 to 22. After Vacura had tallied a free throw and a field goal, and Newell Broten had dropped in a free throw to pare the Prowler lead to 32 to 26 as the third quarter ended, the locals with Dale Liggett getting a pair of free throws and Art Johnson looping in a rebound, racked up a 36 to 26 lead early in the fourth period, to "insure" the game.

Big Art Johnson continued to show the scoring powress that he exhibited last season, with the rangy center connecting for ten field goals and three free throws. Roseau's Broten, with a field goal and ten free throws, scored twelve points for runner-up honors. Roseau's talented sophomore center, Charles Benson, hit the basket for ten points, getting three field goals and four free throws.

In a preliminary game, coach Joe Mrkonich's Prowler 'B' squad, with Dick Odegaard scoring 18 points and Eddie Fillatrault tallying 14 points, and with Evan Jones playing a stand-out floor game, defeated the Roseau 'B' team by a lopsided 56 to 17 score.

Red Lake Falls Quintet Loses to Prowlers 58 to 39

Johnson, Humes and Frahm Lead Scoring for Locals in First District Game

The Prowlers opened their 1953 district basketball campaign on Tuesday night by recording a 58 to 39 decision over coach Darold King's Red Lake Falls Eagles in a game played on the Lincoln court. The preliminary game found coach Joe Mrkonich's Prowler 'B' team defeating the Red Lake Falls 'B' squad, 52 to 27, with Dick Odegaard marking up 17 points for the locals.

On Friday night coach Ralph Skjod's Prowlers will travel to Bemidji for an inter-district game against the Bemidji Lumberjacks.

In Tuesday night's game here, the Prowlers utilized their height advantage to control the rebounds off the defensive and offensive backboards. With Bill Frahm scoring six points and Art Johnson adding five points, the Prowlers moved into a 16 to 8 first period lead. The Eagles, on Jack Baril's jump shot and a point on a free throw, whittled the locals' lead to five points at the second period opened.

Gary Humes, who pressed Johnson for the game's scoring honors, hooked in a short shot. Ken Bombardier connected with a jump shot, and Baril looped in a free throw, and the Prowlers lead had melted to four points, 18 to 14. Johnson took a pass from Frahm for a lay-up; Humes added a pair of free throws; and after Roland LeCoursiere had marked up a pair of free throws, Johnson and Dale Liggett scored field goals for the Prowlers.

The Prowlers held a 31 to 21 lead at the intermission, and in the opening minutes of the third period a pair of baskets by Johnson and a jump shot by Louie Wedul bounced the blue-and-gold into a "solid" 37 to 21 lead.

Prowler coach Skjod, with the score at 45 to 31 moving into the fourth period, sent his reserves into the game and they played the Eagles on better than even terms. Midway in the period, Johnson, Frahm, Gulseth, Humes and Gifford returned to the fray, and the Prowlers, with Humes looping in a pair of rebounders, increased the Prowler lead to 56 to 38. In the final minute of the game, after Baril had tallied the Eagles' thirty-ninth point, Ronnie Melhouse closed out the game scoring by hitting with a one-handed toss, to bring the score to 58 to 39 for the locals.

The rangy Prowler forward line of Art Johnson, Gary Humes, and Bill Frahm, shared the scoring honors, with Art scoring 17 points, Gary 16 points, and Bill 10 points. Roland LaCoursiere, with 11 points, and Ken Bombardier, with 10 points, were the Laker scoring leaders.

Plummer Soldier Given Air Medal

W-O Norman Jacobson Is Honored in Korea

Army Warrant Officer Junior Grade Norman S. Jacobson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Jacobson, Plummer, was recently awarded the Air Medal for outstanding meritorious achievement as an Army helicopter pilot in Korea.

Jacobson distinguished himself while serving with the 6th Transportation Helicopter Company from March 20 to June 26, 1953. During that time, his citation states, he "made repeated trips by helicopter to sites within range of enemy small arms fire in order to evacuate wounded."

More than 1,800 wounded soldiers were flown from the battlefield by pilots of the company who frequently made flights in rain and fog, completely disregarding weather that grounded all other flight operations.

Jacobson, a graduate of the Army's first Cargo Helicopter Pilot Course, took part in "Operation Nord" in Greenland Ice Cap. He has been flying helicopters in the Far East since last January.

A 1946 graduate of Plummer High School, he was a flight instructor for the Plummer Air Service and Falls Flying Service in civilian life.

Valley Rifle and Revolver League Met Here Monday

The Thief River Rifle club was host Monday night to a meeting of the Red River Valley Rifle & Revolver League. There were 23 representatives from rifle clubs of Crookston, Grand Forks, Lake Bronson, Hallock, and Thief River Falls. Oliver Nygaard of Grand Forks, president of the league, presided over the meeting, assisted by the secretary, W. G. Coulter of Grand Forks.

The main topic of discussion was organizing the league tournament for the winter gallery season. It was decided that there would be seven teams in the tournament shooting postal matches during the winter and winding up the season with a National Rifle association approved tournament to be held in Crookston on March 28.

Certain Refuges Open for Trapping Muskrats, Beaver

Trapping of muskrats, beaver, and otter will be permitted in the Upper Mississippi, Mud Lake, Tamarac, and Rice Lake National wildlife refuges from December 1, 1953 thru December 15, from sunrise to sunset, it was announced today by Conservation Commissioner Chester S. Wilson.

The order opening these areas was considered necessary, Commissioner Wilson said, because the furbearers have attained an abundance in the refuges in excess of the capacity of such refuges to support such species. Limits in the refuges are the same as for other areas, not more than 10 beaver nor more than 3 otter may be taken by any one licensed trapper during the season.

Over $600 Damage in Two Collisions During Past Week

While proceeding north on LaBree av. last Wednesday morning, a car driven by Alf Borry collided at Fifth st. with one driven by Jerry Elseth of Newfolden. Police estimated damage of $250 to each car.

A car driven by Stewart Efteland hit a parked car belonging to Irvin Wilson Sunday morning at 3:45 near the intersection of Duluth av. and Fourth st., damage to Efteland's car being appraised at $35 and to Wilson's $150.

Brought into municipal court on a careless driving charge, Efteland was fined $25 and $4 costs, $15 of the fine being suspended.

Also brought in on a careless driving charge was Robert D. Johnson, 18, of Route 3, who was picked up on East Third st. He paid a fine of $10 and $4 costs.

Hockey Notes

Local senior hockey fans will welcome the news that John Jack Peters McGill has agreed to play goal for the Thieves again this season. Jack McGill, who played under the name of Jack Peters last year because of suspension by the New York Rangers, proved to be one of the Northwest Hockey League's better goalies last season. Jack, a colorful performer, is a former Saskatoon Quaker player. He's a goalie of whom it can be said "You can't bring him to his knees with an axe."

With McGill on the roster, and with acknowledgements from Church Russell and Bill Juzda, the Thieves are getting a lineup in shape for the exhibition game that has been arranged for Dec. 13th, with the locals playing the Grand Forks Redwings at Grand Forks. Church Russell, who is the Thieves' "agent" in Winnipeg, informed local officials that he will have another "import" signed up shortly. Church stated that he has had conversations with Pete Langelle and Bill Robinson, both of whom will be playing hockey for the Winnipeg Maroons this year. Langelle, not too many years ago, was a forward with the Toronto Maple Leafs; and Robinson has played a great deal of semi-pro hockey in western Canada, having been a member of the Trail Smoke-eaters when that club won the Canada's senior hockey championship.

It's welcome news, too, for local hockey enthusiasts to learn that Donald "Bud" Brossoit, the former Prowler and Rochester Mustangs player, will play his hockey with the Thieves this season. We've never seen a hockey player that can compare with Bud in handling the corners of the rink. If a rink had eight or nine corners, Bud would be a cinch to make the "big leagues" for so nifty is he in manuevering the puck into scoring position.

Skjod has Problems

It is evident, judged by the play in the first two games, that Coach Ralph Skjod and the Prowlers have a couple of problems to solve before the blue-and-gold can be rated as favorites to make a successful defense of their district championship. Except for Art Johnson and Bill Frahm, both of whom have had much tournament experience, the Prowlers have exhibited the "jitters." Johnson and Frahm are ideal fore-court men, and are capable of scoring against any team, but the boys that coach Skjod sends on the floor to join Art and Bill are so anxious and willing to "make good" that they may "tense up" and handicap the team's play. The season, though, has three months to go before tournament time, and by then the "young" Prowlers should have gained experience.

The Prowlers will move up against top-flight regional competition this week when, on Friday night, Dec. 4th, they meet coach Bun Fortier's Bemidji Lumberjacks on the B.S.T.C. floor. In last season's two-game series, Bemidji, by a 52 to 42 score here, and an 86 to 46 score there, made a "sweep". Of that Lumberjack squad, that won the regional title, Jack Whiting is the only returning regular, with Jim Parker, Jim Lawrence, Larry Shaskey, and Don Phelps having been graduated. If the Prowler back-court men can get the ball in to Art and Bill consistently and cleanly, coach Skjod's club will make Friday night's tussle a ball game.

Miscellany

Harold "Pinky" Kraft, the former Red Lake Falls high school coach who took over the freshman football coaching duties at the University of North Dakota this year, has recommended that Bill Maruska and Roger Dorn be awarded freshman football numerals. Bill and Roger were co-captains of last year's Prowler football team. — Erling Huglen of Newfolden is captain of the Augsburg College basketball team this season. Huglen will be remembered as being that right-hander, pitching for Viking, who engaged the Thieves' Gene Leslie in an 18-inning thriller here last July. That game, which was played on July 12th, a Sunday afternoon, on the Fair Grounds diamond, was won by the Viking club, 2 to 1, when Leslie nicked Ken Halvorson with a pitched ball with the bases loaded and two out in the top half of the 18th inning, forcing Gne Halvorson across the plate with what proved to be the winning run. —Jack Erickson, twice an all-state high school hockey selection when playing with the Prowlers, is practising with coach John Mariucci's University of Minnesota hockey squad. Jack, because of scholastic difficulties, will not be eligible until next quarter, but then he is expected to add considerable strength to the Gophers' back-line.

EDUCATION GROUP ADDS THREE MEMBERS

The University of North Dakota chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, honorary education fraternity, initiated three new members for the first semester. They are Embert Hendrickson of Thief River Falls, and Frank Baumann and H. E. Hermence of Grand Forks.

Nearly Two Million Visited State Parks During 1953 Season

Minnesota's 58 state parks attracted about 1,902,000 visitors up to date this year which is 17 per cent less than the record breaking 2,289,000 visitors of last year, U. W. Hella, director of the division of state parks reported today.

"There are three causes for the reduction," Hella said. "The heavy windstorm last May wrecked the group camp buildings and damaged the picnic and camp grounds in Whitewater park, so that the attendance was greatly reduced for the summer. Several cold, rainy weekends cut attendance considerably. Some of the reduction was due to the misunderstanding and resistance to the park permit sticker which became effective July 1. Even so," Hella said, "the park facilities were used to capacity."

Income from park facilities was about $197,000 which was $20,000 less than last year. Income for camping was increased, boat and cabin rentals were about the same, while the income from group camps and the refectory sales was reduced.

Itasca Park led in attendance with 420,000 with Gooseberry next at 230,000. Followed by Interstate with 235,500 visitors.

Other park attendance figures were Jay Cooke 75,000; Fort Ridgely 70,500; Lake Bronson 61,500; Minneoppa 55,500; Horace Austin 42,000; McCarthy Beach 36,000 and Lac qui Parle 30,500.

Park officials estimated that 1,000,000 of the total visited the parks after July 1 when car stickers were required. The total sale of stickers was 75,000. The average number of passengers per car is nearly four which would make 300,000 visitors. The average number of visits by each car with a permit must have been between three and four to make the 1,000,000 attendance figure.

It is known that many carloads of people come into the parks for swimming, fishing or picnicking, sometimes several trips in one week. Once a permit has been obtained and put on the automobile windshield, the car with as many persons as desired is admitted and welcome in any state park during the year.

The income from the sale of stickers is being transferred to the Game and Fish fund to repay money borrowed for park improvements and construction work.

Expand Plans for Promoting Sales of Dairy Products

Program to Be Financed thru Funds Set Aside by Nation's Dairy Farmers

The charting of final plans for the nationwide expanded advertising program of the American Dairy association was completed in Chicago this week at the fall executive committee meeting of the association. W. S. Moscrip represented the dairymen of this state at the two-day meeting.

This new action on the sales front of dairy foods is made possible by increased funds to be set aside by the dairy farmers of the country from their milk and cream sales. The dairy association is now in its 15th year.

Also expanded under the program approved by the committee, composed of a dairyman from each of the association's 42 states, was an intensified research, merchandising and public relations plan.

Major weapons of the dairy farmers new advertising program will be Bob Hope and Bob Crosby on radio and TV, and a newspaper and magazine advertising schedule. Hope and Crosby started their new programs this fall for the association.

Progress reports from the four departments of the association, advertising - merchandising, research, public relations and membership were reported to the committee. Highlights of these reports were new results from research experiments sponsored by the dairy farmers showing new developments in the butterfat field and a recently developed test for the solids content of whole milk.

4 Motorists Die in 1st Snowfall

The season's first snowfall resulted in at least four traffic deaths, according to the Minnesota highway department. In the opinion of the department's safety engineers, every one of these deaths could have been avoided if the drivers had realized the difference between driving on dry, ice-free surfaces and icy or packed-snow roads. While speeds of 60 miles an hour on the open road during summer's ideal driving conditions may be entirely safe, much lower speeds are necessary for safe driving whole adverse winter road conditions prevail. Saying that "I didn't know the road was icy" is as senseless as saying "I didn't know the gun was loaded."

Hopkins is the top coal producing county of Kentucky with an annual output of 13 million tons.

14 Hunters Killed During the Season

Average Is Same as for Past Five Seasons

Incomplete reports of the firearms accidents for the four 1953 game seasons — partridge, duck, pheasant and deer, show that 14 hunters were killed and 42 were injured, Carl W. Moen, secretary of the water and firearms section of the Minnesota Safety Council, said today.

The average for the same four game seasons for the past five years was 14 killed and 77 injured. "Undoubtedly more injuries will still be reported," Moen said, "but there seems to be a small reduction in the average number of injuries for the year while the average number of deaths holds true for 1953.

Causes of deaths and injuries are the same as in every hunting season for years past — careless gun handling, loaded guns in the automobile or boat, crawling through a fence or up a tree, in line of fire, falls, and stray bullets. The only cause not recorded this year is the hunter who pulled out a snow-white handkerchief, which another can always mistake for the flag of a buck...

SLOW TRAIN IN RED CHINA

Refugees from continental China estimate 20 miles per hour as the maximum speed for trains on the newly-completed Chungking-Chengtu railroad, it is reported in the 1953 American Peoples Encyclopedia Yearbook. The Communist regime's excessive haste in construction plus inadequate materials, and lack of technical skill, also would require constant major repairs to keep trains running at all, refugees say.

WISCONSIN POINTS THE WAY

Under the provisions of Wisconsin's recently adopted compulsory butter grading law any butter scoring below 89 in that state must be labeled as undergrade. That will put low grade butter at an additional disadvantage in competition with butter of higher quality within the limits of the state. And as the state's stricter regulation is publicised Wisconsin butter probably will gain a preference in the markets of other states, the consumers being able to buy the product of that state with greater assurance of getting a good product.

Compulsory grading in one state is not going to have a far reaching effect on the national market however. In all the other states the undergrade product still will be displayed in attractive cartons side by side with the quality package and will be sold at nearly the same price. The producer who markets a product that is not fit for human consumption will continue to receive practically as much for his pound of undergrade fat as the producer who does a good job and markets a quality product. And the producer of the undergrade product will continue to receive approximately the same benefits from the government's price supports as the producer of the high quality product.

But the Wisconsin act is tremendously important in that it does point the way to a solution of the dairy industry's big problem, the problem of over production.

If the Wisconsin compulsory grading law were put into effect nationally the undergrade product would not be saleable as butter in that form. The industry would gain in two ways. First, it would score a victory by the elimination of bad butter as good butter's worst enemy in sales promotion; and, second, it would gain by the relief afforded by taking off the market the small margin of overproduction that is creating a troublesome surplus.

The Wisconsin law will impose no hardship upon the producers of that state where high quality standards already are generally maintained. This would be true also in Minnesota. The dairymen in our dairyland would have nothing to lose by such a compulsory grading law and would have everything to gain. And now that the dairy industry of Wisconsin has made the matter an issue and no doubt is seeking support from beyond its own borders, Minnesota is the logical state to second the motion.

McCARTHYISM

McCarthyism is becoming a national issue, growing hotter by the hour, and there is considerable speculation as to how long President Eisenhower is going to be able to keep out of the argument. By indirect references he has indicated his dislike for Senator McCarthy's conduct as an investigator but so far he has been able to remain at least outwardly calm.

The opposition to McCarthyism is not based on opposition to the purposes of Senator McCarthy's investigating sub-committee. The need for a thorough and continuing investigation of subversive activities is recognized as vital to our national defense. On this there is no argument. The question is raised over the manner in which investigations are handled and particularly over how they are publicised.

As a member of Congress Senator McCarthy has broad powers and among these powers is a broad immunity that permits him to speak without the usual restraints that are imposed on responsible private citizens. He has complete freedom to say whatever it pleases him to say and whether what he says is right or wrong, as a member of Congress he cannot be held personally accountable.

This is as it should be and we would not have it otherwise. If the members of Congress were subjected to the usual restraints, and were responsible under the laws of libel and slander, their effectiveness might at times be curtailed contrary to the best interests of the country. It is better that we suffer an occasional abuse of the privilege of immunity than the possible greater evil that might result from a gagging of those who speak for us.

But this immunity, essential as it is to the best interests of the country, should not be used as a shield from behind which a campaign of character assassination can be conducted with impunity. That is what now is referred to as McCarthyism, and the manner in which Senator McCarthy has conducted himself makes understandable the coining of this new word.

Congressional investigations are necessary and much good is accomplished and much evil is exposed by investigating committees. But obviously all the citizens who are called before an investigating committee for questioning are not bad citizens. And while there no doubt are many instances of enemy agents occupying responsible positions in our government and in our defense organization, most of the employees have been and are loyal citizens whose rights as citizens should be respected.

Senator McCarthy has not used his great powers wisely. His are the tactics of the witch burner. He inclines too much to persecution rather than prosecution and the reason why McCarthyism is now accepted so generally as a bad word is because of the general feeling that too many good citizens have suffered needlessly in the torture chamber of this power-drunk member of Congress.

SOCIAL SECURITY BROADENED

In the coming session of Congress there probably will be another broadening of the social security program, extending its coverage to another ten million self-employed people. This group will be made up mainly of farmers and professional people. It is likely, too, that benefits will be increased.

This will mean that practically all of the nation's workers will be protected by some form of retirement insurance and it is anticipated that in approximately 15 years there will be comparatively few remaining recipients of old age assistance.

Such a broadening of the social security program has substantial support in both major parties and, while there no doubt will be important differences on details of the changes, no insurmountable difficulty in reaching an agreement is anticipated. In view of the fact that the cost of social security is spread in part at least over all the people there is no good reason why all of the people should not share in the protection it provides. And a gradual reduction in the need for old age assistance, now supported entirely by public funds, will be welcomed by all.

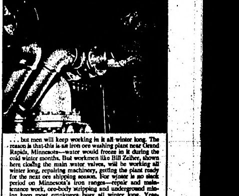
ORE PLANT CLOSES DOWN . . .



. . . but men will keep working in it all winter long. The reason is that this is an iron ore washing plant near Grand Rapids, Minnesota—water would freeze in it during the cold winter months. But workmen like Bill Zeiher, shown here closing the main water valves, will be working all winter long, repairing machinery, getting the plant ready for the next ore shipping season. For winter is an ideal period for Minnesota's iron ranges—repair and maintenance work, ore-body stripping and underground mining keep most employees busy all winter long. Year-round work is usual in the ore industry today . . . helps assure steady jobs, steady income for the thousands of ore miners and their families, means benefits for all Minnesota.

"LOOK... at the DOLLARS I've SAVED!"

With this Amazing CALENDAR BANK . . .

"I like this different kind of a coin saver, a bank combined with a calendar. I have to put a coin in the right hand slot every day to change the date. At the start of each month it takes a quarter in the left hand slot to change the month.

"If I deposit 25¢ a day and a quarter each month, I will have saved $94.25 in a year with coins I'll never miss. If I want to put extra coins or bills in the bank, there's a 'conscience fund' slot in the back. It's beautifully styled in ivory plastic, yet it is reinforced with metal and is very strong.

"I can think of so many ways to use the money — I like to save this way — it's fun and easy — I like my Calendar-bank!"

NORTH . . .

By Mrs. Roy Rude, Rt. 1

Roy Rude and Rudy were the lucky ones in this vicinity to get their deer and Paul Schaffraw of Wood Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rude and Rudy were goose dinner guests at the Wilbert Jablinske home on Thursday. Others there for lunch were Helen Hendrickson and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Rude.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kelliher of Madison, New Jersey called long distance Thanksgiving day to talk with the latter's parents, Ray Rude's.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Berry, had a goose dinner Thanksgiving for the following, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Berry and Giel and Linda and Ernestine Berry.

Rudolph Jablinske was taken by ambulance to the hospital Friday night. We hope he is better and home again soon.

A group of friends gathered at the Walter Czeh home to honor Lois who is to be married soon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jensen received the sad news that her brother in Albert Lea had passed away. We extend sympathy to them all.

Helen Hendrickson was an overnite guest at the Roy Rude's Monday and Wednesday. Helen is now a telephone operator.

Mrs. Ernestine Berry and Mrs. Geo. Marcotte of Red Lake Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Rude and Rudy Rude and Helen Hendrickson and Charles Olson of Ft. Leonardwood, Mo. were chicken supper guests at the Roy Rude home Sunday. Charles arrived home to spend a short leave before being sent to New Jersey. Rudy and Helen took him to Newfolden so be at his home.

(Too late for last week)

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Swanson and Dawn and Ada Jorde and son Clarence returned home two weeks ago Sunday after a trip to California. They took Kenneth back and also visited with Dale who is stationed there.

Erling Jablinske and John Posch of St. James left this week after spending several days at the Wilbert Jablinski home while hunting deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Olson left Saturday for their home in Granite Falls after visiting at his sisters, Mrs. Ray Rude and Mrs. David Wilde's.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Rude and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rude were luncheon guests at the Wilbert Jablinske home Friday evening.

The secretary shall keep an exact copy of such notice in his records showing the date of mailing thereof. The failure of any stockholder to receive such a notice shall not invalidate any action which may be taken by the stockholders at such meeting.

Section 1. (QUALIFICATIONS) Any producer of agricultural products who wants to market his products or purchase his supplies through this association may become a member of this association by agreeing to comply with the requirements of the Articles of Incorporation, By-laws, and other agreements, and by becoming the owner of one share of stock. Application for membership must be submitted to and be approved by the board of directors.

Section 2. (TERMINATION) At any time, if a member shall move away from the territory served by this association, or for a period of one year fail to patronize this association, or shall fail to comply with the requirements of these by-laws, the directors may elect to purchase his shares of stock and cancel his membership upon tender to him of the par value of his shares of stock, less any amount owed to the association by him. Such shares shall then be cancelled and the stockholder shall thereafter have no rights or benefits in the association.

ARTICLE VI. (CONTRACTUAL AGREEMENT)

By dealing with this association, the patrons acknowledge that the terms and provisions of the Articles of Incorporation and By-laws shall constitute a contract between the association and each patron, and both the association and the patrons are bound by such contract as fully as though each patron had individually signed a separate contract. The provisions of this Article shall be called to the attention of patrons of the association by sending a copy thereof to each patron, or by posting a copy in a conspicuous place in the association's office.

Section 2. (STOCK CREDITS) When the balance that is due a non-member patron equals the value of a share of common stock, a share of common stock shall be issued to him, if he is otherwise eligible to become a member and he shall thereafter be entitled to the rights of membership in such association and shall assume the responsibilities attached thereto.

Section 3. Before the same can be sold to an eligible purchaser, it must be offered for sale to the association. If the association waives its right to purchase by failure to act within thirty days, a stockholder may then sell the stock to any one eligible to membership.

Before a new certificate is issued, the old certificate must be surrendered for cancellation, which certificate shall then be marked "cancelled" and attached to the stub from which it was detached or kept in a separate file in numerical order, in which case there shall also be marked on the stub thereof the word "cancelled" with the date thereof. No stock shall be transferred unless any and all indebtedness owed to the association, by the member shall first be paid.

ARTICLE VIII. (CAPITAL CONTRIBUTIONS)

Section 1. (ACCOUNTING) The association's records shall be kept in such a manner, by years, that the amount of each patron's credits may be ascertained. Whenever, in any given year, there is an operating loss, such loss shall be charged against patron's equity accounts on the basis of the volume of business done with the association by each patron during the period of the loss.

Section 2. (NOTIFICATION OF CAPITAL CONTRIBUTIONS) The association shall within a reasonable time after the close of the fiscal year notify each patron of the amount credited to his account. Funds represented by patron's credits are held by the association with the understanding that they are furnished by the patrons, members and non-members alike as a capital contribution to the association. All such amounts credited to patrons shall have the same status as though they had been paid to the patron in cash, in pursuance of a legal obligation to do so, and the patron had then furnished the association corresponding amounts for capital.

Section 3. (CASH PAYMENTS) As provided in the Articles of Incorporation, when the board of directors finds the patrons' credits in excess of the amounts needed for the operation of the business, it shall distribute such excess in cash; and when paid in cash, it shall be the policy to pay the oldest outstanding credits first. In the case of a non-member patron who is not eligible for a share of common stock, the total amount allocated to him shall remain as a credit and shall be paid in cash in the same manner and at the time when cash payment is made, on all credits allocated during the same period. At the discretion of the board of directors, patron's credits may be paid in cash in other than the regular order when such credits are carried on the books of the association in the name of a deceased person, or when earlier payment of insignificant and other individual amounts will facilitate the association's records and good will.

Section 4. (TRANSFER OF CREDITS) Patron's credits shall not be transferred except with the approval and consent of the board of directors, and then only to successors in interest.

Section 5. (DISSOLUTION) Upon dissolution of the association, any sum remaining after payment of debts and retirement of outstanding capital stock at par value shall be distributed to the patrons in proportion to the patron's credits then recorded on the books of the association.

ARTICLE IX. (AMENDMENTS)

These by-laws may be amended in whole or in part at any regular or special meeting of the stockholders if the intention to amend has been announced in the notice of the meeting; provided that a quorum is present and that a majority of the members voting at such meeting shall vote for such amendments.

I hereby certify that the foregoing by-laws were prepared by the directors of this association at a duly held meeting on the 13th day of April, 1953, and adopted by the stockholders at a duly held meeting on the 25th day of May, 1953.

Self-help Program for Dairy Industry Proposed to Benson

A self-help program for stabilizing dairy product prices and handling surpluses without cost to the taxpayer was formally presented to Secretary of Agriculture E. T. Benson recently during a meeting of the 22-man dairy task committee in Washington.

Frank D. Stone, general manager of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., a member of the committee, reported that the plan follows the essentials of the recommendations he made last month to the House agricultural committee hearing in Minneapolis.

Although the task force itself was not responsive to the suggestion, no opposition was voiced and the plan is now under study by the department.

Endorsed by the National Milk Producers Federation, the self-help program proposes that dairy farmers themselves regulate their production to provide the adequate supplies of milk and milk products, and assume the losses, if any, arising from the disposal of surpluses. It involves:

1. Setting up a dairy stabilization board of 15 members to be appointed by the president from nominees selected by milk producers.

2. Setting, by the board, of price support levels at which surpluses would be purchased.

3. Setting of assessments to be levied on all milk or butterfat sold by individual farmers in commercial channels the amount so acquired to be used to cover losses on surplus handling costs of administering the program, and advertising and sales promotion.

Meanwhile, Stone reports, the task force heard other recommendations from the milk producers group including:

1. A disposal plan for present surplus dairy stocks, the details of which were not made public.

2. Continuation of the 90 per cent of parity support level for milk and butterfat during the 1954 marketing year, pending enactment of self-help enabling legislation.

3. Purchase by Commodity Credit Corporation of 89 score butter at a 2-cent differential, and the conversion to butter oil of 89 score purchases and of other butter which deteriorates to 89 score to take the poorer butter off commercial markets.

4. Seasonal variation in the schedule of support prices to encourage the storing of seasonal surpluses by industry rather than by government.

5. No changes in Title II of the Agricultural Act of 1949 which would result in possible direct subsidy payments to producers.

Stone was recently elected a member of the executive committee of the producers federation which made the recommendations.

Now Is Time to Order Trees for Spring Planting

Trees for Windbreaks Should Be Ordered Now, Says State Forester

"Now is the time for all persons who are going to plant trees next spring, to make up and send in their requisition for planting stock."

Ray Clement, state forester in charge of nurseries and planting, reports that between 35 and 40 per cent of the trees which will be available next spring have now been ordered, and requests will be filled in the order they are received.

Approximately 18,000,000 trees will be available next spring. Up to 5,000,000 will be sold to individuals and concerns for planting on private land; about 7,000,000 will be planted on public lands and up to 6,000,000 on state forests and parks.

Clement said that the final figures may vary because of kinds of trees available, the rate at which the orders are received, and the amount which forestry service can plant next spring.

About 15,500,000 trees are evergreens or conifers, pine, spruce, fir, and cedar. Deciduous trees, such as elm, ash, maple, and cottonwood, will number about 2,500,000.

Trees planted on private lands must be used for windbreaks, woodlots, erosion prevention and game production. They cannot be used for ornamental plantings. The conifer trees will cost $10.00 per thousand and the deciduous trees $8.00 per thousand F.O.B. the nursery. An order for 500 is the smallest order that can be accepted and a money order to the state treasurer should accompany the requisition.

Order forms and more information can be secured from the field foresters and county agricultural agents.

Stockholders to Meet in St. Paul Auditorium

An expected turnout of nearly 5,000 stockholders and delegates will attend the 16th annual Farmers Union Grain Terminal association stockholders' meeting December 14, 15 and 16, in the St. Paul auditorium.

Others who will speak at the three-day parley include James G. Patton, president of the National Farmers Union; Dr. C. Clyde Mitchell, chairman of the Department of Agricultural Economics at the University of Nebraska; Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota; J. H. "Working Mother" Gets Break

A St. Paul 'working mother' was extremely grateful for a break she got recently when unfortunately she was hospitalized.

Mrs. Lavon Westerlund, 117 Mackubin, St. Paul, who works to support her 10-year-old son, termed the break she received from two non-profit Minnesota health plans "a real blessing."

"Everything I needed for complete recovery," she says, "was covered in full by my Blue Cross $25 Deductible contract and by Blue Shield. All I paid was the $25 deductible portion," she says.

"With Blue Cross and Blue Shield protection," Mrs. Westerlund says, "I was freed from any financial worries. All I had to do was get well. Believe me," she says, "I'll never be without Blue Cross and Blue Shield."

Operating under the non-profit laws of Minnesota, these health plans were developed and organized by the hospitals and doctors of Minnesota. Over 2,800 Minnesota Doctors of Medicine actively participate in Minnesota Blue Shield. Minnesota Blue Cross is sponsored by 169 Minnesota hospitals. Their non-profit status is one of the reasons why they can offer such complete protection at such low cost.

Complete free information on these low-cost health plans may be obtained by writing directly to Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Dept. WP-12, 2610 University Ave., St. Paul 14 Minn. A postcard will do.

MY JOB IS THRILLING!

I've been an usher in Church for many years. And my job is thrilling.

It's not that I'm money-minded. Frankly, I hardly notice what a person puts into the plate. Envelopes, paper, coins—they're all the same to me.

What thrills me is the spirit of STEWARDSHIP. As I pass my plate through the pews, men and women are returning to God the fruits of their talents, their labor, their strength.

In my mind's eye I see the wonders God will work with these humble gifts . . . the Church's ministry of mercy, of comfort, of teaching, of saving.

But really, the greatest thrill is in placing my own gift on the plate. For I'm not just an usher—I'm a Christian. Receiving your gifts is merely my job. Giving my own gift is the joyous privilege that I share with YOU, and with all men who believe in Christ and His Church.

Next SUNDAY IS STEWARDSHIP SUNDAY.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
